

SIETAR Delhi invites you all to its Inaugural Learning Event
on Tuesday, 6th November 2012
at Goethe Institute, New Delhi.

Agenda of the Learning Event:

- Short presentation about SIETAR (Society for Intercultural Education, Training and Research)
- "Sociological Profile of the ICT Sector in India" by Roland Lardinois
- Networking

About the Presentation: Although the ICT sector in India is the subject of numerous articles and books, little is known regarding the sociological profile of this professional milieu.

In order to comprehend the sector, we will navigate through the following areas:

- Sketch of the ICT sector members' profiles, both companies and personnel
- Insights on Professional Training and employee's credentials
- Social Mobility - the role of ICT sector and ICTs contributions in shaping Indian urban middle classes
- The literary works of members of ICT sector and their journey toward their dreams

About the Presenter: Roland Lardinois is a sociologist at the National Centre for Scientific Research, Paris and presently a fellow at the Centre de Sciences at New Delhi researching the history and sociology of Indian engineers. Roland deals with a variety of subjects including: historical demography, sociology of caste, sociology of the family, and history of Indian sociology. His latest book in French is going to be published in English this year: 'Scholars and Prophets -The Sociology of India from France 19th-20th Centuries', Social Science Press, 2012.

Venue: Goethe- Institute, Max Mueller Bhavan, 3 Kasturba Gandhi Marg

Time: 7.30 p.m. – 9 p.m.

Fee: SIETAR members Rs. 200, Non Members Rs. 300

Please respond: by Oct 30th is appreciated though not required

Link on Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/events/115179241970775/?context=create>

For Registrations: Please send your name, email and phone number to line@culturewise.dk or cindy@shanticonsulting.com

You can contact us: Line 88607 49761, Cindy 98186 91198, Ridhima 9810232701