Client: Schaumburg High School

Project Manager: Joe Gill

Project Superintendent: Esteban Salas

Project Description:

In June of 2012, J.Gill and Company was hired by Schaumburg H.S. for their epoxy pool coating restoration project. In order to achieve the new coating warranty requirements, the old existing epoxy paint needed to be removed. J.Gill used sandblasting pots to remove over 10,000 SF of the old coating down to the bare concrete of the pool. With the use of plastic sheeting and water attachments for the blastpots, we were able to keep dust & debris to a minimum. The project was completed on-time prior to the mid-August start of the school year.
