

Belle

From “Beauty and the Beast”

Belle: Little town it's a quiet village. Every day like the one before. Little town full of little people, waking up to say.

Woman #1: Bonjour!

Woman #2: Bonjour!

Man #1: Bonjour!

Man #2: Bonjour!

Man #3: Bonjour!

Belle: There goes the baker with his tray like always. The same old bread and rolls to sell. Every morning just the same, Since the morning that we came, To this poor provincial town.

Baker: Good Morning Belle!

Belle: Good morning Monsieur Jean. Have you lost something again?

Baker: Well, I believe I have. Problem is I've can't remember what. Oh well, I'm sure it'll come to me. Where are you off to?

Belle: To return this book to Père Robert, It's about two lovers in fair Verona.

Baker: Sounds boring.

Group of Women: Look there she goes that girl is strange, no question.

Man: Dazed and distracted can't you tell?

Women #1: Never part of any crowd 'Cause her head's stuck on some cloud.

Girls: No denying she's a funny girl, that Belle.

Man #1: Bonjour! Good day! How is your family?

Woman #1: Bonjour! Good day! How is your wife?

Woman #2: I need twenty ppgs! That's too expensive.

Belle: There must be more than this provincial life.
