DREW'S CORNER

“WHAT WOULD JESUS DO?”

Do you remember the time when that phrase was famous among Christians? Oh! How great it would be for everyone to live their life with the mindset of “what would Jesus do?” It seems as if our society/culture has switched to the mentality of “how can I get even?” or “how can I get my way?”

A quote said, “Showing Christ in you cannot be a transactional decision.” In other words, no matter what others may do to us, we should always treat them the way we want to be treated. We must not forget the words of Jesus, “Therefore, whatever you want men to do to you, do also to them for this is the Law and the Prophets” (Matthew 7:12).

Show respect to the disrespectful.

Show humility to the proud.

Show goodness to the godless.

Show love to the hateful.

Show mercy to the unjust.

Show grace to the unworthy.

Show faithfulness to the traitor.

Show truth to the blind.

Show thanksgiving to the ungrateful.

Show humility to the brutal.

Show kindness to the malicious.

Show long-suffering to the quick-tempered.

Show self-control to the emotion-driven.

Show peace to the destroyer.

Show hope to those who want to give up.

Whenever we show each of these things to others who do not offer them in return, we, in essence, show them who Jesus is and what He does. The challenge is before us today– to let our lights shine to all we come into contact with (Matt.5:16). If we seek God first in all things (Matt. 6:33), living for Him will never be a burden. May we proclaim what Jesus would do in situations by our conduct, lifestyle, and dedication to the One who has given it all for us.
