

LUKE JOHNSTON

I started triathlon as a bucket list kind of thing and ended up hooked. I love how it takes you to some great places and drives you to be the best you can be.

I chose the attached photo as I feel it depicts what triathlon is to me. This was after the long course world champs in Oklahoma 2016. The toughest race I've done to date. At this point I was so glad it was over and had no idea I'd placed third. I was not doing another tri for a long time at this point but the pain memories fade and you sign up again to do better than the last time.

I have locked in KI half and am really looking forward to the location and doing my first event people event.

Being an ambassador for Sufferfest is a great opportunity to be involved in a team of like minded athletes to build a race brand that I believe is focused on the athlete experience.

