Going to College - Great Preparation Tips!

This seminar will cover the importance of skill building and the connection to a successful college career. Parents will be introduced to the different options available to students as they start planning and preparing for college. Studies show that the earlier a student begins preparing for college, the more likely he or she is to attend college and succeed. Over a lifetime, a college degree can provide more career options, a higher income, and better decision-making skills. These are all important in our changing and complex world.
