1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

REPORT PURPOSE

This report presents the results of the City of Monrovia's extensive community outreach and engagement efforts as part of its strategic planning program.

On one hand, the responsibility for setting goals and strategic plan priorities for the next five years – and allocating the resources needed to accomplish them – rests with the Council. However, meaningfully engaging the community in determining the “most important things for the City to focus on” is an essential component of this process.

Stated simply, along with knowing “what’s already on the City’s plate” and its fiscal outlook, being informed about what the community believes are the City’s top priorities is a critical input for the Council in setting the City’s course – and resulting budget decisions –over the next five years.

Report Organization. This report is organized into four main sections:

- 1. Executive Summary. Summary of findings, highlights and description of the outreach process.
- 2. Outreach Results. Overview of the outcomes from each of the key outreach effort: Community Workshops, Commission Workshop, survey results, social media, workshop participant evaluations and listing of community group presentations.
- 3. Highlights from 2009 Community Survey. Key findings from the community survey prepared by the Rose Institute in 2009.
- 4. Appendix: Detailed Responses. Detailed survey responses from the utility billing mailer, emails, social media and other sources.

RESULTS SUMMARY

As described in more detail below, the City has provided a wide variety of outreach opportunities in meaningfully engaging the community in answering the central question of the strategic planning program:

What are the most important things for the City to focus on over the next five years?

The responses to this question were as diverse as the many community members who participated in this process. That said, the following themes emerged as the top seven community priorities, considering all of the input sources:

① EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Top Seven Priorities

- Public Safety (especially police protection)
- Economic Development
- Gold Line Development and Connectivity
- Youth Services
- Infrastructure Maintenance (especially street paving)
- Environmental Protection/Open Space
- Parks & Recreation

Other areas of significant community interest included:

- Balanced Budget/Fiscal Responsibility
- Increased Use of Citizens/Volunteerism
- Old Town Vitality
- Code Enforcement/Community Appearance
- Traffic Safety/Congestion
- Historic Preservation
- Foothill Boulevard Upgrades
- Friday Night Family Festival

Education a High-Priority, But Not a Primary City Function

It should be noted that education was rated as a high community priority in virtually all areas of community engagement. Given the importance of education, this is understandable. However, while there are opportunities for the City to be supportive of this service, it does not have responsibility for public education at the elementary and high school level: this is the responsibility of the Monrovia Unified School District. Accordingly, we recommend that the Council consider this as it sets priorities in the context of allocating limited City resources.

Results Highlights

As noted above, seven themes garnered strong support that recurred across multiple sources of input: public safety, economic development, the Gold Line, youth services, infrastructure maintenance, environmental protection/open space and parks & recreation.

- Public safety encompassed a wide range of concerns but focused most frequently on maintaining a high level of police protection. Addressing gang activities and maintaining and expanding Monrovia Area Partnership (MAP) and neighborhood watch programs were frequently cited. Maintenance of fire services were also listed although less often than police protection.
- Economic development encompassed attracting/retaining businesses through a variety of techniques. Some specific areas were mentioned, most frequently Old Town.

① EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Concerns about the Gold Line revolved around three main issues: completing the project; developing the surrounding area; and connecting the new station to the rest of the City, especially Old Town.
- Youth services incorporated a wide variety of ideas, including after school programs; youth sports; stay-in-school programs; internships and job training for teens; and the YES and Friday Night Live programs.
- Infrastructure maintenance concerns, which surfaced as a priority more often in the surveys than in the community and commission workshops, focused primary on the pavement condition of City streets, although sidewalks and street trees were also mentioned frequently.
- Under environmental protection/open space, opening up greater public access to wilderness areas was encouraged as well as a number of “green” practices.
- The most frequently noted parks and recreation concern was maintaining existing parks, although increasing park and recreation facilities was also a recurring suggestion.

Other themes that recurred frequently in the survey responses and/or the workshops included:

- Balancing the Budget/Fiscal Responsibility: this concern surfaced as a key issue in two of the workshops and was also one of the top fifteen themes in the surveys.
- Increased Use of Citizens/Volunteerism: there was a recurring sentiment that citizens are resources for achieving a wide variety of community purposes and that there is a role for the city in encouraging and providing a framework for increased volunteerism.
- Old Town: keeping the Old Town vibrant and family-friendly; parking and traffic congestion were sometimes cited as needing specific attention.
- Code Enforcement/Community Appearance: in addition to the general appearance of the City, recreational vehicle parking and trash were specifically noted by some respondents.
- Traffic Safety/Congestion: various locations/conditions were cited.
- Historic Preservation: this concern was strongest among workshop participants; ideas included completing the historic resources survey and assessing current preservation ordinances and programs.
- Foothill Boulevard Upgrades: among the workshop participants especially, the Foothill Boulevard corridor was cited as needing improvements to its appearance, business vitality and circulation.

① EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Friday Night Family Festival: this is clearly a much beloved element of Monrovia and many people want to see it continued and nurtured.

OUTREACH PROGRAM SUMMARY

Key community outreach efforts included:

- General Publicity. This included distribution of posters and hand-outs around town (such as City offices, stores and other public places); news releases and other materials to conventional media outlets; and other general outreach opportunities such as the City Manager's weekly report and "Monrovia Today Newsletter."
- Community Group Outreach. Monrovia Idea Team 9 (MIT-9) staff made presentations to numerous community organizations in order to present the strategic plan process, the reasons behind it and encourage participation in the surveys and workshops. Over 6,100 community members were directly reached through this process: Boards, Commissions and volunteer groups: 352; service groups: 2,756; resident door-to-door distribution: 250; and public service patrons: 2,760. More detail about the groups reached through this process is provided in Section 2.
- Utility Billing Insert. This mailer explained the process, advertised the community workshops and directly asked for ideas about priorities, with prepaid postage business-reply for mailing along with a description of other ways of providing priorities to the City. Over 180 responses were received from this effort.

- Social Media Outreach and Engagement. The City provided a wide range of opportunities to provide ideas about priorities through all of its usual social media methods, including a link on its website. Special social media tools (Mind-Mixer and Textizen) were also used to solicit community priorities.
- Community Services Commission (CSC) Input. The CSC assisted staff in developing the final general publicity, community group outreach, hand-outs and social media strategies.

- Commission/Board Workshop: November 28, 2012. All members from the City's six commissions and boards were invited to a facilitated workshop on November 28, 2012 to solicit their ideas about community priorities: Planning Commission, Community Services Commission, Historic Preservation Commission, Library Board, Monrovia Old Town Advisory Board and Youth Commission. Twenty commission/board members attended this workshop.

① EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Community Workshops: December 11, 2012 and January 12, 2013. Two opportunities were provided for community members to participate in workshops to solicit a range of ideas for the City's future and then set priorities among those ideas. As described in more detail below, the community workshops were well-attended, with 140 participants. Based on the overwhelmingly positive evaluations received after each workshop, they were well-received (participant evaluations are provided in Section 2 of this report).

The following provides additional information about the results from the workshops, surveys and Mind-Mixer.

COMMUNITY WORKSHOPS

As noted above, a series of workshops soliciting input on municipal priorities was a key part of the strategic plan community outreach efforts. The first was held on November 28, 2012 for members of City commissions and boards; and workshops for the general public were held on December 11, 2012 and January 12, 2013.

Two different venues, days and times were planned for the community workshops to encourage participation by citizens from throughout the community. The first was held on a weekday evening at the Community Center, attended by 50 participants; and the second on a Saturday morning at Calvary Chapel south of the 210 freeway, attended by 90 participants.

While Council members attended the workshops, their role was to actively listen and process the input in preparation for their “goal-setting workshop” to follow on February 9, 2013. No Council discussion or action was taken at the workshops.

Process

The general format for all workshops included opening remarks by the Mayor and City Manager, followed by a brief presentation by staff on the purpose and process of the strategic planning process and the workshops. It was stressed that goal-setting and the strategic planning process are the start of the City's budget process, not the end; and that the workshops, while an important part of the process, are one of many inputs that the Council will consider in setting goals for the next five years – and ultimately in adopting the two-year budget for 2013-15.

Participants were then randomly assigned to small groups to encourage diversity of interests and were asked to list priorities for the City to focus over the next five years. After each group developed its list of potential priorities, participants were asked to vote for up to five items on the list that would be their highest priority. Each small group then reported its priority items to the larger group. All of the small groups were facilitated by City staff, including members of the MIT 9, who were deeply involved in the workshop process.

Staff and consultants then consolidated the lists of highest priority items from the various groups into a “master” list of candidate items. All workshop participants were then asked to “vote” for the five items they thought were highest priority by affixing adhesive “dots” to the items on the master list.

Results

The results from each of the workshops are presented in Section 2. For each workshop, the items that were voted on are listed under general “themes.” It should be noted that in many cases, the small groups came up with several items that could be classified into a single “theme” (for example, a group might have wanted increased police patrols and another group gang prevention programs – both of which could be considered part of a “public safety” theme). The descriptions of each theme include specific items that were generated from the small groups that were included in the more general “theme.”

Many more suggestions were generated by the small groups that were not ultimately voted on. The lists of candidate priorities are quite extensive, and in the process of prioritizing at each table, most did not make it to the “master list” that participants voted on with dots. This shows that real – and difficult – work was completed around the tables to identify collective priorities. However, all suggestions have been summarized and listed in the results presented in Section 2.

The results in Section 2 show the top “themes” and the number of votes each received. We have also indicated in how many of the tables (small groups) a particular item was listed. So, for example, at the December 11 workshop, economic development issues were included on the lists from six out of six “tables” (small groups), while historic preservation was listed by two of the six tables.

Similarities Among Workshop Results

Certain items were among the highest vote getters at all three workshops. They include youth services; economic development; the Gold Line and connections to the rest of the City; public safety; traffic and parking; and improved communications and “customer relations” between the City and community. Another more complex item was a call for tapping the expertise and experience of the citizenry through increased volunteerism that could be utilized for a number of community purposes. Support for the schools and the school district was also strong and recurring, although, of course, this is not a primary responsibility of the City.

Differences Among the Three Workshops

Although there is significant overlap among several key priorities identified through the three workshops, some differences also emerged, as outlined below.

- Workshop 1: Boards and Commissions. The results tend to reflect some of the primary concerns of the appointed bodies represented at the workshop. For example, historic preservation was most strongly supported at this workshop and suggestions on this topic were the most detailed. That said, many of the priorities of the commission and board members were also considered important at the workshops for the general public.
- Workshops 2 and 3: General Public. There are also differences worth noting between the two public workshops. Among the priorities identified in the first workshop were public access to wilderness areas, concerns about the Foothill corridor and the preservation of historic homes. These were not among the highest priorities listed in the second workshop. On the other hand, the second workshop included certain suggested priorities that did not surface at the first public workshop including homeless and social services; outreach to non-English speaking residents; and job training and development.

One specific issue that arose during the second workshop warrants a special note: the future location of the Calvary Chapel of Monrovia. Currently, the church leases space in a building acquired by the (now gone) City redevelopment agency. Many members of the church attended this workshop and their interest in acquiring the property was among the highest vote-getters.

Limitations

Public input from workshops is not “scientific” in the sense of a statistically significant assessment of the entire population, but instead the interests, concerns and motivations of those who attended and participated. Accordingly, these results should be considered as one source of input among the others used during the public outreach phase of the strategic plan process.

Another consideration when viewing the workshop results is that by necessity, some suggestions become generalized in the prioritization and voting process. Some of the nuances of specific recommendations may be blurred. These details will likely be recaptured, however, during later phases of the strategic plan process, especially when the general priorities are translated into specific “work programs” that will guide actual implementation efforts.

Workshop participants were also given the opportunity to submit their comments in writing if they felt that their ideas needed further elaboration than that afforded by the prioritization and voting process. Those written comments are included in Section 4 (Appendix) of this report.

1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

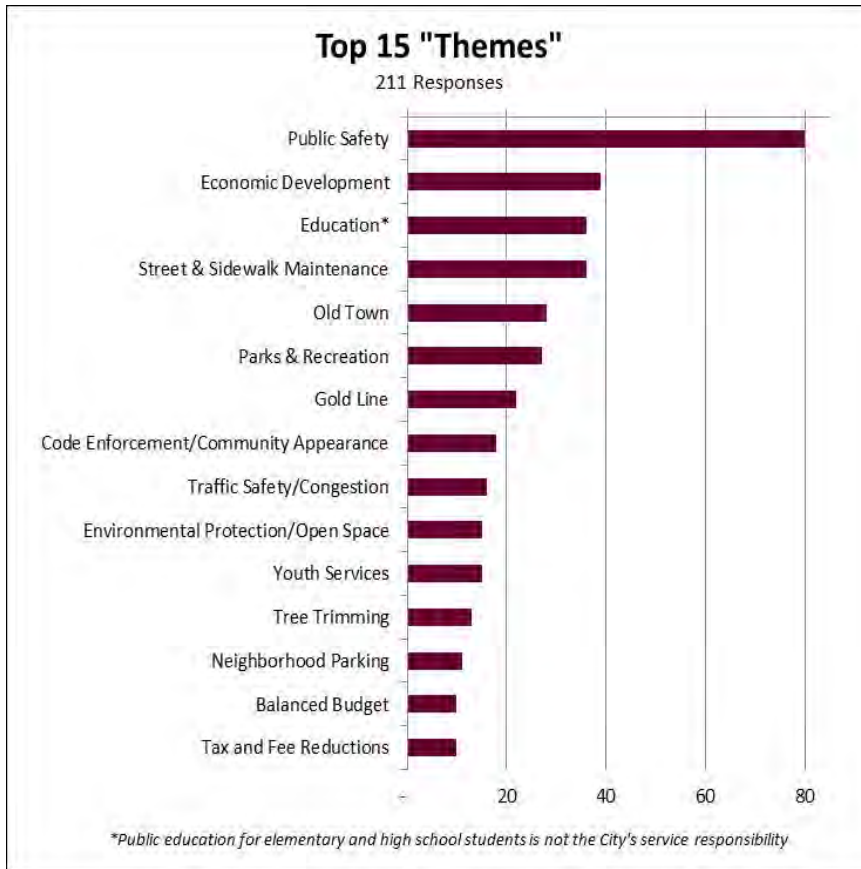

SURVEY RESULTS

As noted above, priorities were solicited through a variety of survey tools, including utility bills, web site and social media. The results from these outreach efforts are presented in Section 2, with the detailed comments received provided in the Appendix. Excluding Mind-Mixer (which is discussed in greater detail below), 211 responses from these sources were received.

The top fifteen “themes” are summarized in the sidebar chart. Like the community workshops, these are not “scientific surveys,” and as such, caution should be used in interpreting the results.

Nonetheless, the results are useful—especially when viewed in conjunction with the other forms of community feedback that the Council has received as part of this process—in gaining additional insight into the concerns of the Monrovia community.

MIND-MIXER

In addition to the more traditional methods of soliciting public input (workshops, surveys and correspondences), the staff used an on-line tool called “Mind-Mixer.” Participants were given the topic: “Envisioning Monrovia’s Future” (other topics not directly related to the strategic plan effort were also explored through Mind-Mixer). People then posted ideas and others could comment on those ideas as well as indicate whether they agreed with an idea by a “second” (ie, “I second this idea”). As of January 11, 2013, fifty ideas were posted that were related to the strategic planning process, which garnered almost 200 comments in total.

One way to think about this tool is as an on-line workshop, where people can express ideas and then vote on them. However, in the in-person workshops, ideas were first vetted in smaller groups and only those garnering some significant support at that level were posted for the “voting” by the entire audience. This medium allowed people to describe their ideas in detail and for others to engage in a dialogue through their comments.

1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Perhaps the most significant difference between Mind-Mixer and the workshops/surveys is in the prioritization. People filling out the surveys were asked to give their 5 highest priorities for the City to focus on. Likewise, at the workshops, participants were limited to 5 votes (“dots”) that they could affix to ideas.

On Mind-Mixer, however, there were no limitations on providing “seconds:” people could express their support for as many good ideas as they wanted, without limit. Thus, the Mind-Mixer tool did not explicitly force people to articulate their priorities among good ideas – ideas that could potentially compete with one another for limited City resources.

Mind-Mixer Ideas with Most "Seconds" (and other ideas related to them that were submitted)
Theme	Ideas	Seconds
Access to Open Space Areas	Create access to the hillside areas.	14
	Charge an entry fee at Canyon Park.	9
Volunteerism	Create a directory of volunteer talent.	13
	Create a program for volunteer grant writers.	7
Animal Control	Develop a new contract for animal control services nearer Monrovia.	13
Community Gardens	Create community gardens in open space areas.	12
Gold Line	Encourage dining opportunities at the station.	12
Parks/ Recreation	New public park south of Huntington.	10
	Build state-of-the-art recreation facilities.	6
	Master plans for all parks.	5
Schools and School Facilities	Re-design the use of open space at Clifton Middle School.	9
	Create a volunteer position to act as liaison between the schools and businesses.	6
	Support the adult school.	3
Night Life	Create a more vibrant night life.	7
Public Safety	Continue MAP.	6
	Safer city: greater presence around schools; continue MAP (posted twice).	5
	Public safety: schools, gang prevention, streets.	5
Capture Rain Water	Capture rain water in swales.	6
Food for Bears	Place feeding and watering stations in open space areas to discourage bears from entering residential areas.	6
More Street Trees	Increase street trees (note: other ideas included reducing troublesome trees).	6

Results

The ideas that received the highest number of “seconds” are listed in the sidebar table. Where there were similar or related postings, we have included them with the most popular ones.

A few of the top ideas are similar to themes that were expressed in the workshops and surveys:

- Access to hillside open spaces
- More volunteerism to take advantage of talents among community members
- Desired land uses at the Gold Line station (in this case, dining opportunities, specifically)
- Parks and recreation improvements
- Support for the schools and school facilities
- Public safety

Another Mind-Mixer idea that recurred in the other methodologies was street trees. In Mind-Mixer, however, the ideas were indeed mixed: some people called for more trees, while others thought some trees were a nuisance; and others thought that a street tree plan and proper species selection would alleviate those concerns.

① EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Other ideas that garnered support on Mind-Mixer but did not register strongly with the surveys or workshops include: developing a new contract for animal services nearer to Monrovia and with better services and a lower kill-rate; developing community gardens in the hillside open space areas; capturing rain water (run-off) through swales rather than hard-surface gutters and storm drains; encouraging more night life; and providing feeding stations in the wilderness areas for bears to discourage them from coming into residential areas.

A listing of all the ideas received is provided in Section 2; and the detail for all of the ideas, comments and “seconds” on the Mind-Mixer “thread” is included in Section 4 (Appendix).

CONSISTENT WITH 2009 COMMUNITY SURVEY RESULTS

The results from the strategic planning outreach are consistent with the “Quality of Life” survey conducted in 2009 by the Rose Institute of State and Local Government at Claremont McKenna College. This scientific survey found that fiscal responsibility, public safety and economic development were the top three community concerns for the City.

Moreover, survey respondents generally rated the Monrovia community and City services very highly. Highlights from key survey results that can help guide the strategic planning process are provided in Section 3 of this report; and the complete report is available on the City’s web site at: <http://www.ci.monrovia.ca.us/about-monrovia/news-and-information/2009-satisfaction-survey>.

CONCLUSION

With the receipt of this report (along with companion reports from City staff), we transition from the first major phase of Monrovia’s strategic planning process – community outreach – to the second major phase: goal setting. Hundreds of people participated during the outreach phase, either in person or through other forms of input, offering many and wide-ranging ideas. This level of input is, of course, the desired outcome. But it also means that the Council now has many competing ideas to consider – and a challenging task ahead in setting priorities for the next five years (and in turn allocating the resources need to achieve them in the upcoming 2013-15 Budget).

There is no statistical formula or exact recipe for determining what is in the best long-term interest of the community. Council members must process the hundreds of community suggestions through their own individual experiences, knowledge and judgment, within the context of the City’s financial situation and considering the perspectives provided by your professional staff. This is not only appropriate, but necessary, in our representative form of government.

Using the approach presented to and approved by the Council last fall, the next step towards goal-setting will be for individual Council members to propose, in writing, their highest priorities for the next five years. Then, on February 9, 2013, a special Council meeting is scheduled for working through these proposals and for reaching consensus using a method successfully employed in other communities. Consultants and staff will review that process, and distribute the materials needed for going through it, at the January 29, 2013 meeting.

SURVEY RESULTS

As of January 15, 2013

The following summarizes the results of four key outreach efforts as part of Monrovia's strategic planning process. All of them are based on responses to the question: what are the most important things the City should focus on over the next five years?

1. Utility Bill Inserts. During the month of November 2012, the City included "Plan Monrovia" information in all of its water bill mailings, which reached 10,000 customers. Along with providing information about the process, inviting participation in the upcoming community workshops and identifying other ways for community members to help the Council set top priorities for the next five years, the insert included a postage paid "tear-off" survey card asking: what are the most important things the City should focus on over the next five years?

By January 15, 2013, the City received 182 replies. This was a strong response, given that:

- This is the City's first attempt at this type of survey.
- And it was an "open-ended" survey instrument (it did not provide pre-determined "check-off" answers), so it required extra thought and effort on the part of respondents to complete and return the survey.

2. Email and Web Site Responses. The City's web site provides comprehensive information about the strategic planning process and also invites community members to share their top priorities, similar to the utility billing insert. Additionally, all of the City's outreach materials provided an email address for the submittal of top priorities. To-date, the City has received ten email responses.

3. Textizen. This is a form of social media using text messages. To-date, seven community members have used this form of input.

4. Other Responses. Twelve responses came from other sources such as letters and added comments at the Community Workshops.

SURVEY RESULTS

Caveat: Not Scientific Surveys. None of these outreach efforts were conducted as "scientific surveys," and as such, caution should be used in interpreting the results. Nonetheless, the results are useful—especially when viewed in conjunction with the other forms of community feedback that the Council will receive as part of this process—in gaining additional insight into the concerns of the Monrovia community.

What are the
MOST IMPORTANT things the City should focus on over the next 5 years?

Based on your Monrovia experience, we want your opinion on how to prioritize our programs and services.

Survey Results

But There Are “Themes.” Since these are “open-ended” responses, it is not possible to provide a simple, analytical summary of the results. Nonetheless, clear themes emerged. The following summarizes the “Top 15 Themes,” presented in order of the most common responses.

TOP 15 THEMES

Based on 211 Responses

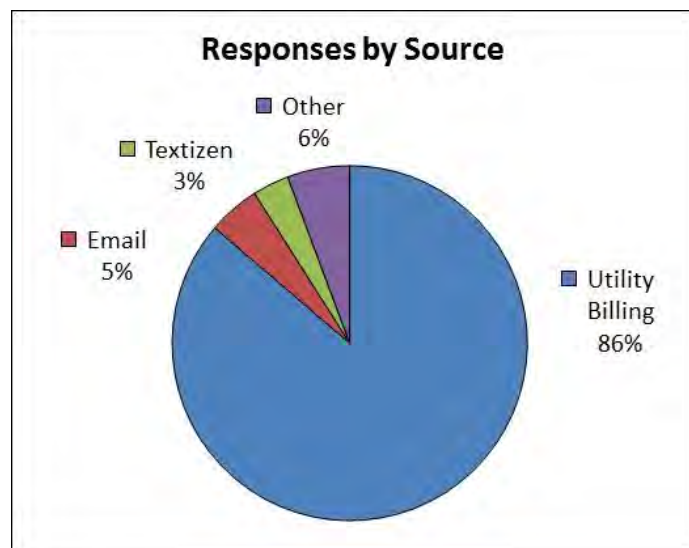

Theme	Responses by Source
	Utility Billing	Email/ Web Site	Textizen	Other	Total
Public Safety	73	2	3	2	80
Economic Development	36		2	1	39
Education*	36				36
Street & Sidewalk Maintenance	35			1	36
Old Town	27	1			28
Parks & Recreation	26	1			27
Gold Line	22				22
Code Enforcement/Community Appearance	17	1			18
Traffic Safety/Congestion	13	1	1	1	16
Environmental Protection/Open Space	15				15
Youth Services	13			2	15
Tree Trimming	13				13
Neighborhood Parking	10		1		11
Balanced Budget	9	1			10
Tax and Fee Reductions	10				10

* Public education for elementary and high school students is not the City's service responsibility

Responses by Source. As reflected in the side bar chart, the utility billing inserts provided the most responses, accounting for about three-quarters of survey responses:

- Utility Billing: 86%
- Email: 5%
- Textizen: 3%
- Other: 6%

However, the “top themes” are highly consistent, regardless of the source, with public safety, economic development, education, street & sidewalk maintenance, Old Town, parks & recreation and Gold Line among the top seven.

MIND-MIXER IDEAS

As of January 11, 2013

The following presents the 50 Mind-Mixer ideas received as of January 11, 2013 in response to the topic “Envisioning Monrovia’s Future.” A summary of the top ideas “seconded” (agreed with) is provided in the Executive Summary; and the detail of the ideas presented along with all of the comments generated by the idea is provided in the Appendix (Section 4).

Idea Title	Idea Summary
Open the Hillside Recreation Area	The Hillside Recreation area, that Monroviaans have been taxed for, I believe, almost ten years, and which the City Council voted in June or July of this year to open, really needs to open. It is taking far too long.
Move Monrovia Animal Control's Contract Closer/Offer Spay Neuter	Our current contract is up in June. We need to move to a closer location that offers better service and a lower kill rate. We currently offer no low cost spay, neuter or vaccination programs. Our current contract is with Pomona which has one of the lowest adoption rates in CA. It is so far away that people will not even go and pick up their lost pets. It is time for a change in Monrovia on how we treat our animals. Please help inform Monroviaans on this important matter. 4 million unwanted dogs and cats are killed every year in the USA. You can make a difference! Did you know that FixNation will spay or neuter cats for free and even furnish cages?
Monrovia Community Garden	The land WE Monroviaans bought in the foothills still has not found consensus on its use. Part of that property was used as growing grounds by Rosedales years ago, so there is a botanical history there already. It has been suggested by future environmental thinkers that every city should have as one of its primary goals for development that communities try to become as independent in all areas as much as possible. Energy and water come to mind right away, but food should be a concern as well. We are fortunate that we have some of the world's leaders in agriculture and plant development close by. So the resources for such a project are not an issue. We have a Monrovia Garden Club, and lots of retired folks and others that have a passion for gardening. Gardening is great exercise which is a plus for volunteers as well. We have a local transit system that can help with transportation for seniors, etc. Our city has one of the best Street Fairs where some of the items could be sold to help supplement the garden

	to make it self sufficient. However, the primary focus would be to provide food to those in our city that are less fortunate, and we already have a distribution organization for that as well. Further, as the project evolves I could also see that another function could be added so that volunteers could be called upon by our citizens to collect fruit from trees in our residential neighborhoods that would otherwise go to waste. There are plenty of other off shoots to help the environment as well as educational opportunities for our schools. I see it as a great win-win project that could serve as a model for all other cities to copy.
Dining Facilities at Monrovia Gold Line Metro Station	Maybe this is already part of the thought process, but in case not It would be nice to be able to have a good meal there; not to mention a great latte... and let's invite local businesses to be there - not the usual corporate faces. What do you think?
Public Park Below Huntington	I feel a park below Huntington is essential. Park/plaza space was a part of the Gold Line Station idea before redevelopment was altered. There are about 5,500 residents who live below Huntington with 0 acres of parks within that area (1/2 mile radius from the corner of California and Railroad Ave). It appears that every other 1/2 mile radius above Huntington has 5-20 acres of park space. The National minimal standard that was used for many years recommended .1-.3 acres per 1,000 people; a 2 acre park is warranted.
Use Land Wisely at Clifton Middle School	I walk down Palm St. almost every day. During the summer, I would often see the lawn in front of the school being watered. Especially since we live in a desert, that seemed to me like a colossal waste of resources. That lawn is not used for sports (or any other activities that I know of). It could be replaced by native, drought-resistant plants, or a meditation labyrinth, or a sculpture garden, etc. Additionally, I've been sad to see the school garden languish untended. I don't have any students at Clifton, so I don't know who started the garden or who's in charge of it, but surely there's someone in Monrovia who could assist the students in learning to raise crops? (Not me. I have a black thumb!)

Time and Talent	Develop a directory of volunteer talents to help keep the city running and maintained. Develop volunteer projects to help clean up and repair.
Small Canyon Park Entrance Fee for Non-Resident Walk-In Visitors	Canyon Park is a wonderful and unique asset of the City. It has numerous visitors to the Nature Center, picnic areas and trails on weekdays, and a high number of "walk-in visitors" on weekends. A high percentage of the park visitors are not residents of Monrovia, but nevertheless are welcome visitors. Since the City, and its residents, support the Park financially, it seems that a small entrance fee (maybe $1) would be a fair way for non-resident walk-in visitors to assist in maintaining this enjoyable wilderness. Note: There is currently a parking fee for cars that enter the Park whether a Monrovia resident or not.
Increasing the Night Life on Weekends	The city needs more night life on weekends, especially on Saturdays, since so many of those small businesses depend on visitors coming to Old-town for their survival. The City should look into replicating the Farmers Market as a smaller event, maybe like a mini-concert or some type of special event. The City can even look into a sponsorship from one of the big business located in the City to avoid increase in cost.
Grant Writers	Enlist some volunteer grant writers to go after funding for programs
Volunteer Liaison between Schools and Businesses	Monrovia students need to feel part of this community! One way to help achieve this is by creating a volunteer position that will help connect our schools with Monrovia businesses. This volunteer position can be overseen by the Monrovia School Board as the school board members can best determine how to involve local business. Some ideas for business involvement are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Team sponsorship * Theatre/arts/music sponsorship * A place where the residents can purchase tickets for school programs * Paid and/or Non-paid internships * Career presentations at the school * Student and school staff discounts so schools are

	encouraged to shop locally The school board can also work at adding more local businesses to the "approved vendor list" to better position our school district to buy locally as much as possible. (I am unaware of how much our school district buys locally.)
Provide Food and Water for Bears	This year has seen a significant increase in the number of bears coming into the neighborhoods along the foothills. Many have ventured as far South as Foothill Blvd. There are several things that might help this situation and for the safety of Monrovia citizens, as well as the bears, I think something should be done. My idea is probably controversial, but I hope it, or a variation of it, will be considered. A location in the mountains, accessible using one of the fire roads, could be used to provide food and water for the bears. This should keep them in the mountains and out of the local neighborhoods. A cost/benefit study would have to be done (as with all proposals) but we shouldn't wait until a bear attacks a child or until someone kills a bear from fear of attack, before the study is done.
Build State-of-the-Art Recreation Facilities	Monrovia has a diverse demography but offers few resources to support a healthy lifestyle. Outdoor open space (i.e., parks) are minimal, and safety is often a concern. As a result, residents often have to find affordable opportunities to live healthy lifestyles outside the community. State-of-the-art recreational facilities that couple indoor activities, such as gymnastics, fitness, racquetball, and open recreational use (i.e., art classes, children's programs, etc.) should be developed alongside outdoor green space for picnics, aquatics, and tennis, among other activities. Discounts should be offered for residents, but the facilities should also be open to non-residents so Monrovia becomes a destination in the SGV.
Continuing MAP	MAP is the community in action!~
Capture Rain Water through Use of Swales	Rain water can replenish ground water if it falls and runs over soil rather than pavement. The gutters along our streets, especially those that are on a slope, flow with water when it rains, and the water is lost into the storm drains. The asphalt in the gutters could be replaced with swales, soil and vegetation that allow infiltration of the rain water. This is

	especially important in Monrovia where we rely on groundwater for our water supply.
A Commitment to Excellence in Education	Whenever young families are considering which foothills town to live in, the top school systems are always at the top of the list (S. Pas, La Canada, San Marino). This consistent desire keeps property values high, crime low and a sense of community high in these locations. The single best investment we can make in Monrovia is to continue to support the improvement of our schools. As opposed to another commenter, we don't need more police in schools, we need more teachers, books, technology and extracurricular opportunities.
Safer, More Secure Monrovia	I primarily believe that we need to focus on making the schools of the Monrovia Unified School District the coveted schools of the San Gabriel Valley. Although Monrovia Unified is its own entity, the City of Monrovia can help to lay the foundation of this idea by having an extremely high police presence. People need to feel safe in sending their kids to our schools and out to play in our neighborhoods. The police presence will deter crime causing criminalistic people to, eventually, move out and a higher caliber resident to move in. The Monrovia Area Partnership (MAP) must stay in tact so they may continue the empowerment of our residents in taking back their neighborhoods and building the community that makes Monrovia great! Lastly, I can envision Monrovia as the place restaurateurs, retailers and service companies want to call home. Entrepreneurs often look for communities that are populated by families and an area with pedestrian traffic as this helps to ensure a rewarding business experience. Good schools, safety, a sense of community and a city that has entertainment, food and programs will keep our city vibrant and prosperous! Thank you for reading my thoughts.
Safer City	Spend more time and resources on gang violence at our schools and in our streets.

Idea Title	Idea Summary
Residential Parking Permits	I love how much we are not like some of our foothill community neighbors, but I would like to submit a proposal for us to consider a nominal ($25) annual fee for on-street overnight residential parking. Potentially no parking on the street from say 2:00 - 5:00am without a permit. It could be added annually to our water bills - no additional costs incurred for new paperwork, etc., etc, This could have multiple benefits: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * potential to assist with crime reduction * reduction in unwanted cars staying in one place for days on end * city based income to contribute directly to city based expenses Have guests staying with you and they'll be parking on the street? Sierra Madre has (had?) a reasonable workflow... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * you call the police station * give the make, model, license plate of the car * tell them the amount of time they are staying with you * receive a fee-free overnight permit [pretty sure I remember this correctly] What do you all think?
Infrastructure	Take care of city streets, parks, public buildings
Improve the Parks - Master Plans	Library Park has seen some great improvements, but the other parks need improvements. Olive Park's asphalt walkways are turning to gravel. The playground is aging and is hardly ever used. Each plan should have a plan developed by the community around it and its users. The plan should identify current deficiencies and improvements.
More Street Trees	We should plant more street trees. Street trees make walking more pleasant. They reinforce the feeling of how close we are to the mountains. They keep your car cool. They raise property values. They reduce the urban heat island effect. Could we plant 1,500 trees by 2015?
Build Business	Advertising for a product needs to be constant and ever present. McDonald's is the perfect example of this. The same is true for awareness. The Ad Council (www.adcouncil.org) is very good at bringing awareness to our national needs through TV ads and also in print.

Idea Title	Idea Summary
	A "Shop Monrovia" campaign that is visible all around town as well as a focus of outreach beyond our city limits is very much needed. Around town, an ever changing (every quarter?) visual that keeps the message fresh is a must. Cable providers can do target marketing by airing commercials on TV in targeted, localized areas. The message can be used to draw consumers and new business. Our very own KGEM TV can help to get the word out. KGEM is a non-profit and is available to people who live, work or go to school in Monrovia. So we can have everything from interns getting the message out to the more experienced getting the word out. Maybe we can even have a California Gold, Huell Howser type show that focuses on what local businesses provide in products and in services! So many ways to have fun and get creative with this. Isn't time to think outside the box? Chamber of Commerce (or anyone familiar with the Chamber,) thoughts?
Remove Destructive Trees and Save on Trimming Costs	Back when Monrovia was being built, landscapers did not pay much attention to the types of trees that were planted on the public streets. Typically fast growing and inexpensive was the only criteria. Myrtle Avenue, north of Foothill is a prime example of poor planning. We have three blocks of Chinese Elm trees that have destroyed the sidewalks and sewers and seedlings pop up in the front yards. Every year when I see the tree trimmers spending weeks to trim these enormous trees, I think of all the money the city could be saving by removing them and plant Crape Myrtle trees (or something similar) that would save us from future annual trimmings and damage to the sidewalks. I am a tree lover and truly do not support removal of trees, however we would save lots of money if we took pro active approaches on these destructive trees and we would also have a bit of sunshine to celebrate on the street.
Fortify City Autonomy	Break the addiction-to/dependency-upon "free money" from Sacramento or Washington DC. It is never free. It exacts a burdensome price of higher taxes and diminished freedom.
Things I Miss Plus a Few New Ideas	Bring back the Monrovia Day's parade, Queen and Court, Jail on wheels, Old Town Western theme and march it down

Mind-Mixer Ideas

Idea Title	Idea Summary
	Foothill Blvd. Myrtle Ave. just is too narrow. Add a local artist and craft fair with resident's getting first shot at discounted booth rates. Add a free large booth (or two) for those local artists that only want to display but not sell their work. (1 piece per Artist). Have a food truck roundup that day as well and a Chili cook-off or BBQ contest. Set up a Battle of the Bands for local groups to provide music. Even the Soap Box Derby was a hoot for a few years; maybe try something along those lines as well.
Rethink the Purpose of the Library	I voted for the bond for the new Library but almost didn't because I wasn't sure what the purpose of a library is in a digital age, when vast arrays of information are available by computer and ebook. This is even truer now. So, is the library just an extension of the community center, or what? This deserves some thought.
Street Lighting Improvements	Most street lights in Monrovia are High Pressure Sodium type lamps. If these lamps were converted to LED type lamps, the City would realize huge energy savings and a relatively short payback period for the cost of the upgrade. The light output would be the same and in fact the night color spectrum would improve. Also, traffic signal lights should be converted to LED. There may be State and Federal energy grants available for this work. Everybody wins with this idea!
Support our Adult School	I was happy to see that the 2 previous ideas were both about Monrovia's schools. I would like to remind the City Council and Monrovia residents of an important school that is part of Monrovia Unified School District: Monrovia Community Adult School. At a time when budget cuts have led to the closing of many California adult schools, we need local recognition of and support for this valuable resource in Monrovia's community. Our adult school provides lifelong learning opportunities to help adults reach their educational, training, career, and personal goals. We help integrate immigrants into our society by providing low-cost English language instruction. English-proficient immigrants, in turn, lead to higher-achieving students in our K-12 system as those immigrants' children attend our public schools. I urge the City Council to include Monrovia Community Adult School as a priority in its future plans for our city.

Put the Power Lines Underground	All the above ground power lines and telephone lines are unsightly. Really nice cities like San Marino and Pasadena have put them underground. We should consider an assessment on our utility bill that will put power lines underground. It might take 30 to 50 years, but it would improve the city a lot.
Ticketing Speeding Motorists	I have lived in Monrovia for 19 years and I have never seen it so bad. In the neighborhood from 5th to Mayflower and Foothill to Huntington where I live and there is anywhere from a 25 to 35 mph speed limits I've witnesses motorist traveling in excess of 50 mph, running stop signs, not allowing pedestrians to even get half way through a cross walk before they go flying behind them. Driving down Chestnut @ 30 mph I get motorist trying to pass me giving me finger jesters, and tail gating me while yelling profanity at me. WHY? Because I'm obeying the traffic laws. The City Of Monrovia really needs to step it up and start getting aggressive with these dangerous motorists. When the Arcadia Gold Line is in operation this behavior is only going to increase. Let's be proactive and not reactive and stop jeopardizing the safety of the residents in this area and the City Of Monrovia. Thanks for reading. Ken
Education!!	In my very first post to PlanMonrovia.org, I stated my ideas about a few things on one post so I want to re-post my thoughts about education. Whatever and however we need to do to make the Monrovia Unified School District the coveted school district in the San Gabriel Valley, will benefit us all. It starts with a "more-than-we-need" police presence as we seek a school system that has a proven record for genuinely improving schools and enacting that system. One school system that we can inquire about is the TAP program. The link to learn more is http://youtu.be/OZ3w1iFBPxA We may or may not qualify but we can at least explore the idea. The reason for the police presence is that when people who are interested in criminal activity are constantly confronted,

More Sales Tax Please!	Sales Tax REVENUE that is! We can ask our city leaders, the Chamber of Commerce and local businesses to support our city, but the responsibility to keep Monrovia prosperous is ultimately a shared responsibility between our community leaders and the city's residents! Did you know? Our city primarily makes its money from property taxes which are remaining flat and sales tax revenue which is second. Sales tax revenue is the quickest, least expensive way to help our city raise the funds it needs so urgently. SIMPLY BUY WHAT YOU ALREADY BUY WITHIN MONROVIA! So don't wait to hear or see a message asking you to "Shop Monrovia," please, just do. It's important.
Benjamin Franklin Bronze Statue	Since Benjamin Franklin was the father of the concept of the public library system in America. I think it would be great idea to have a bronze statue of Benjamin Franklin to honor this visionary of public education and literacy. I think the statue should be similar in style to the one of Mark Twain we already have at the park. Thank you for your consideration
All the Traffic Lights Should Be Tripped Versus On Timers	If all the traffic lights were on sensors and not of timers it would improve the flow of traffic.
Crosswalks with No Light Should Have More Visibility for Drivers	I have seen in several towns where they have a crosswalk with no light where the pedestrians can press a button and little lights in the street light up to alert drivers that someone is crossing. There are several places in town I think this would help save lives. For instance on Mountain just below

	Foothill there is a crosswalk with no light and also one for schoolchildren across Foothill near Ivy/Canyon. Another location I can think of is on Shamrock at Lime Ave. I would feel a lot safer crossing if there was some better indication that drivers could see that someone is trying to cross. FYI, years ago when I first moved to Monrovia I saw someone hit and killed at the crosswalk on Mountain so I know that this has been an ongoing issue especially at night as it is hard to see the crosswalk lines sometimes.
Envisioning Monrovia - School System	My envision of Monrovia is a city that has a superb and well-funded K-12 school system. Most homeowners know that reputation of schools play a major factor on home prices. We need to invest into our local schools so we can reap the long term benefits from the seeds of education. We could start by investing into science programs, music programs, athletic programs, and etc. Anything helps! I will be the first Monrovia to pay extra from my taxes to invest into our schools.
Reduce the Amount of Multi-Family Residences	I have seen areas designated as SFR with backhouses and converted garages, these areas need to be strictly enforced and maintained as SFR by the city. Also I think there should be a move by the planning department to reduce the amount of multi-family residences in our neighborhoods. It creates a high density that the city was not designed for, crowded streets and lower-income renters that don't properly maintain their property. Any nice neighborhood in Monrovia is a SFR district. I recently went to purchase a home above Foothill near Magnolia and the next door neighbor had a back house and 5 cars parked on the property (ghetto!) The front house was charming but the overall feel of the area made me feel like I was living on an apartment street again (obviously not what you want to feel when you are looking to buy a half million dollar + house in N. Monrovia). Look at what happened to N.W. Pasadena neighborhoods. The city let the back-house construction and house division go unchecked. DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO OUR NEIGHBORHOODS!
Myrtle Avenue Landscaping	When the city put in the "pop outs" along Myrtle Av it made it so a car waiting to turning left on a green light couldn't leave enough space for another car to pass on the green light. This slows traffic on Myrtle and makes it an adventure to drive the street. Eliminate the "pop outs" so that two lanes of

Delay of Green Light	Set all traffic lights to go from red to green with a 2-3 second delay. This would enable someone to get through the entire intersection prior to oncoming traffic.
Inter-City Purchasing	I wonder if it would make sense for various local cities to purchase specialized equipment and services together. For example, Monrovia has a septic tank pumping truck and Arcadia has another. Do both cities really need their own? Perhaps the two cities should jointly purchase such specialized equipment, and then share it. I don't mean to focus on septic tank trucks. That is just an example. Perhaps there is enough work to keep both of them busy. But my point is that there may be SOME kinds of equipment and services that are idle much of the time and could easily be shared among multiple local cities, or between cities and school districts, saving all jurisdictions some money.
Services to Community	Plan of attack should consist of matching staff to community needs, this will help to correct the problem of staff working out of their job description and enhance moral in the workplace.
A "No New Smokers" Hue and Cry	I'd like to live in a city where no child considers even trying tobacco--not even once. It's evident now that addiction can occur on the first use of nicotine; regardless, it occurs very, very quickly. There is no treatment that works for the most addicted. Chantix is very unsafe. The only way to keep our children from addiction is to convince them that nicotine decides for itself who becomes addicted; that addicts are people who lose their ability to "not think about smoking." I don't know how to promote this. But I do not believe that current warnings prevent children from becoming addicted to nicotine. If the warnings worked, no child would be an addict, right? City of Hope would be half the size. (I was a patient there for a smoking-related cancer. I had become addicted at age 15 and smoked for 7 years. The cancer arrived 35 years later.)

	Let's try talking about addiction, and make it clear that although some people can quit their addictions to nicotine, most cannot. The CDC has these data.
Do not Allow Front Yard Fences at the Street/Sidewalk	I see more and more of these every year. Chain link fences and cheap wrought iron fences are a definitive sign of a low-end neighborhood. They look trashy and really take away from the charm of the city. This is an easy building law to enforce and will help beautify our city. Monrovia has some amazing architecture with our craftsman and victorian houses, the charm of these areas is destroyed with a rusty fence or plain gray masonry fence columns. I ask anyone that reads this idea to drive through two different Monrovia neighborhoods, one where owners don't install these fences and one where owners do, and compare the charm and beauty of the street. This is a beautiful city and we should have higher standards for the curb appeal of our homes.
Keep City Services within City Control	Of utmost importance to me and the neighbors I've spoken with is to keep Monrovia's Fire, Police, and Water within Monrovia and not contract out those services - even if supplemental funds from property tax fees are required. It's the only way to maintain financial, administrative, and policy control. I'm over 60 and have dealt with numerous municipalities and governmental entities during my life and have witnessed the financial abuses some agencies have thrust upon "innocent" citizens of a community (i.e. Metropolitan Water Co. of L.A. - too little accountability for too much spending).
Increase Tax Base	Annex the Mayflower village area of County Monrovia to increase the tax base
Fire Protection	I would like to see a COST and EFFECTIVENESS study of the CITY contracting with LA COUNTY FIRE for our Fire Protection services.
Legal Services	City of Monrovia spends millions of dollars each year for Legal Services with a large Law Firm. What would be the costs and benefits/savings with our own IN-HOUSE Legal Counsel?
We Should Make a Plan for Addressing Depreciated Infrastructure	There are many streets and sidewalks around town and public parking lots in downtown that are in need of reconstruction. We should be sure we have a plan for funding and Free Day	How about a "Free Parking Day" once a week or once a month. The LA County Arboretum as well as the Huntington Library offer free parking and admission monthly. It would allow more people to appreciate the beautiful wilderness. If raising funds is the issue, why not offer some basic gift shop stuff for sale: calendars, post cards, bumper stickers, toy bears, etc. They could be sold in the Nature Center. It might bring in a lot more than $60,000 per year.

WORKSHOP PARTICIPANT EVALUATIONS AND COMMENTS

The evaluations received after each of the three workshops were overwhelming positive. Participants were asked to evaluate whether they strongly agreed, agreed, disagreed, strongly disagreed or had no opinion on the following:

- The purpose of this workshop was clear to me.
- Workshop participants reflected the diversity of the people and views of our City.
- I felt comfortable with the other participants.
- The agenda and process of the workshop were appropriate for the topic.
- There were enough opportunities for me to express my views.
- The facilitators provided a fair and well-managed environment for participants.
- I believe this workshop will result in better decisions about the City's priorities and budget decisions.
- If asked, I would participate again in workshops like this.

Participants were also asked to provide any comments they had about the workshop.

EVALUATIONS

The following summarizes the 109 responses we received to the eight statements above from the January 12, 2013 Community Workshop (56 responses), December 11, 2012 Community Workshop (38 responses) and November 28, 2012 Commission Workshop (15 responses). This summary is followed by the comments we received at each workshop.

The purpose of this workshop was clear to me.

97% of those responding either strongly agreed (71%) or agreed (26%) that the purpose of the workshop was clear to them.

Workshop participants reflected the diversity of the people and views of our City.

79% of those responding either strongly agreed (44%) or agreed (35%) that workshop participants reflected the diversity of the people and views of our City.

On the other hand, 19% did not agree with this. Of the 20 disagreeing responses, 14 came from the December 11, 2012 workshop.

I felt comfortable with the other participants.

98% of those responding either strongly agreed (77%) or agreed (21%) that they felt comfortable with the other participants.

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

The agenda and process of the workshop were appropriate for the topic.

97% of those responding either strongly agreed (72%) or agreed (25%) that the agenda and process of the workshop were appropriate for the topic.

There were enough opportunities for me to express my views.

93% of those responding either strongly agreed (65%) or agreed (28%) that there were enough opportunities for them to express their views.

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

The facilitators provided a fair and well-managed environment for participants.

98% of those responding either strongly agreed (73%) or agreed (25%) that the facilitators provided a fair and well-managed environment for participants.

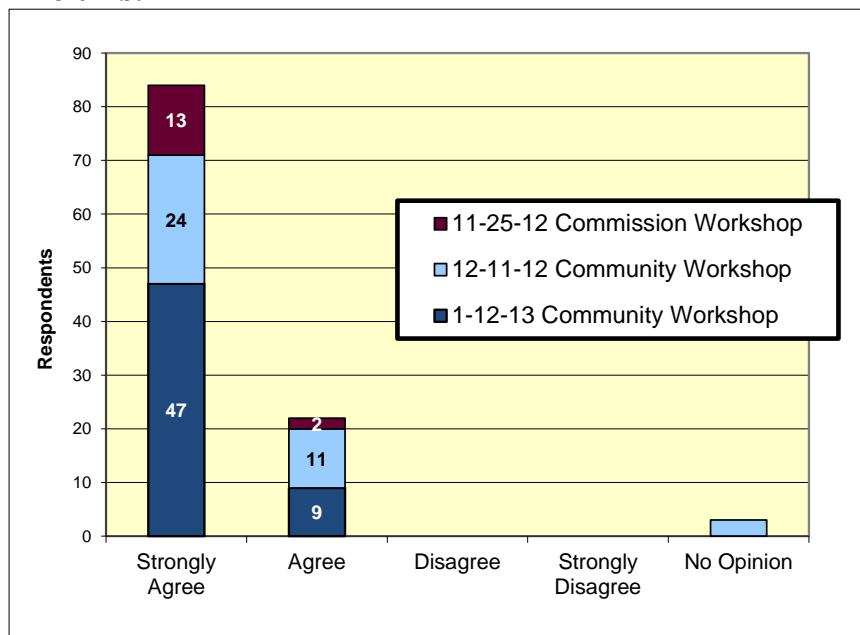

I believe this workshop will result in better decisions about the City's priorities and budget decisions.

97% of those responding either strongly agreed (77%) or agreed (20%) that they believed this workshop will result in better decisions about the City's priorities and budget decisions.

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

If asked, I would participate again in workshops like this.

97% of those responding either strongly agreed (71%) or agreed (26%) that if asked, they would participate again in workshops like this.

COMMENTS

The following are the written comments received at each of the workshops:

January 12, 2013 Community Workshop

- This workshop was an excellent venue for people to express their views on what the city plans for the future.
- You did it on the weekend (A+). You did it a community based center (A+). You mobilized each person into action (A+). In the future concentrate on an energy policy with business and industry.
- Not clear on the purpose/extent before I got here. People were great overall – some people had unusual agendas. We didn't get through all of our thoughts but our cards will get through and that is great.
- Wow! I really felt I participated in municipal government, and my idea made the priorities list!
- I would be more than happy if you held this workshop at least once a year – feel free to use Calvary Chapel Monrovia.
- We should use Calvary Chapel Monrovia more often for these types of events, etc.

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

- We, by default, had to go “general.” The nuances of the ideas should not be lost by the process of generalization. Citizens should be part of the actual implementation of the new strategic plan.
- Well organized.
- I appreciate the opportunity to be involved. The venue did not allow for the expression of views – that is ok. The goal of identifying the most important concerns and wishes was fulfilled. Look forward to expanding upon my opinions via “blue page” or internet. Thank you!
- Would be great to see quarterly meetings like this offered so we can keep the momentum/involvement and discuss/get updates on projects. Using the Monrovia Calvary Church as host at this location is very nice!
- Making it more affordable for small businesses to stay and become established in Monrovia should be a priority that will do a lot for Monrovia’s economic development. There are some resources (i.e. Foothill Unity Ctr) to help low income, but I feel there needs to be much more assistance available. It is a multi-faceted problem.
- Great!!!
- Too much energy was focused on programs and not enough on how things were to be paid for.
- Please consider the cost effectiveness and increased level of psycho-social aspects/impact on supporting the sale of land/surrounding land to Calvary Chapel Monrovia for permanent use and expansion/development i.e. homeless housing, food bank, youth mentor programs. Thank you for the voice and opportunity to participate.
- Appreciate the mayor’s office/city hall for convening the workshop – this leads to transparency and a well-managed city. Thanks.
- I would to [illegible] city to provide services at Regency Court –o- (Senior community and disabilities). 1) Provide community resources. 2) Computers and computer classes. 3) Work out – exercise equipment/classes. 4) Active presence of City resources and $.
- I love the idea of the City with Calvary Chapel Monrovia to make this happen. I would like to see an increase in safety lighting and street repairs in the city.
- Having Calvary Chapel Monrovia to host workshop was excellent idea and location should be used for future.
- We love Monrovia! Thank you!

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

- The priority of the sticker vote was very confusing for me. It wasn't black and white. I thought that the categories with the most dots were top priority, but it wasn't explained that way.
- Excellent job.
- We must maintain present levels of services in the city and expand when possible. None of the other suggestions will take place unless we do so. Most programs are already in place, but our citizens are not aware.
- Thank you for the providing an opportunity for the community to give input into the future of our home.
- Details – with examples, could be lost in the process as more general headings are used to organize the materials. Good meeting.

December 11, 2012 Community Workshop

- Outreach to bring youth to these meetings.
- I do not believe the people at my table understood the purpose of the exercise. More time should be spent defining examples of things the City has no control over. It would have helped if the facilitator had curtailed lengthy discussions (politely) to get time for more ideas.
- Slides were not readable due to too much light.
- I believe more outreach to the Hispanic community is needed in order for them to participate in workshops like this one offered tonight. This would reflect more diversity!
- Thanks.
- This workshop gives the residents of Monrovia [an opportunity] to express their ideas for the City they love. Thank you for the workshops.
- Very well done. Thank you for asking. Space the papers with ideas further apart to get to easier.
- Wonderful participatory community.
- Would be helpful to include the voice of lower income and ethnically diverse Monrovia in this dialogue. Please make translation services and outreach to those who do not easily attend events like this so they have encouragement to participate.
- Dissonance: the Mayor said “think big” – next speaker said limited funds.

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

- Need to tell people to bring 5 ideas with them to “conserve” time for sharing/listing those ideas. Some of us needed more time to explain our ideas, which would resulted in more votes for our ideas but we barely had time to state the idea, no time to elaborate on it. The way an idea is listed – a sound bite – does not do justice to the concept being promoted. Shorter break! Instead of having public come to you to give ideas, City should go out to schools, groups (service organizations, churches, parks, etc.). Get more diversity of opinions for City. This group is not representative of the City!!
- Post results on City website. Encourage folks south of the freeway to come.
- Hoping the issue of school-community partnerships remains – GREAT selling point for new residents and increases property tax revenues. Note: Possibility of small branch library and/or Friends Store in Station Square.
- The process was rather diffuse. I think it would have been good to group suggestions conceptually and identify broad areas of agreement. I realize that this is likely to happen later in the planning process, but I would have appreciated it from the outset.
- The workshop could be improved by some level of forecasting. For example, the future of fossil fuels (“peak oil”), food supplies, energy, water, that drives various “relocalization” (incl. Transition Town) planning in US and Europe. As difficult as it is to predict the future, responsible planning – especially in the longer term (next 20-30 yrs) requires it. We also need the voice of Spanish-language residents and leaders from the African American community (e.g. pastors). This planning process is overwhelmingly represented by higher income whites (mainly). Few Mexican-Americans and low-income immigrants.
- I don’t know what the answer is but how do we get more than about 50 people (out of a city population of 39,000 +) to get involved in a meeting like this?
- Shocked that long term financial solvency isn’t the priority.
- There should have been a day-of e-mail reminder/text/television etc. that the Strategic Plan workshop was taking place. Mobilize MAP leaders and community services to spread the word on the days leading up to the workshops. Door-to-door, etc.
- Monrovia has a rich organizational business culture that needs to give voice to its knowledge and experience.

November 28, 2012 Commission Workshop

- It would be helpful to know what the current list of financial goals is so maybe some do not fit the current goals or objectives.
- Add more time to the meetings; more group interaction on the ideas.
- Awesome workshop!

Workshop Participant Evaluations and Comments

- Communicate agenda prior to the meeting.
- I think it was important to make the guidelines clear; i.e. you don't have to list all of the "status quo" priorities to keep them; list ones for increased focus.
- I enjoyed the opportunity given to me and found the group activity as a great way to express diverse thoughts and opinions. I would be happy to join this group again.

3 HIGHLIGHTS: 2009 COMMUNITY SURVEY

The results from the strategic planning outreach are consistent with the “Quality of Life” survey conducted in 2009 by the Rose Institute of State and Local Government at Claremont McKenna College. This scientific survey found that fiscal responsibility, public safety and economic development were the top three community concerns for the City. Moreover, survey respondents generally rated the Monrovia community and City services very highly.

SURVEY HIGHLIGHTS

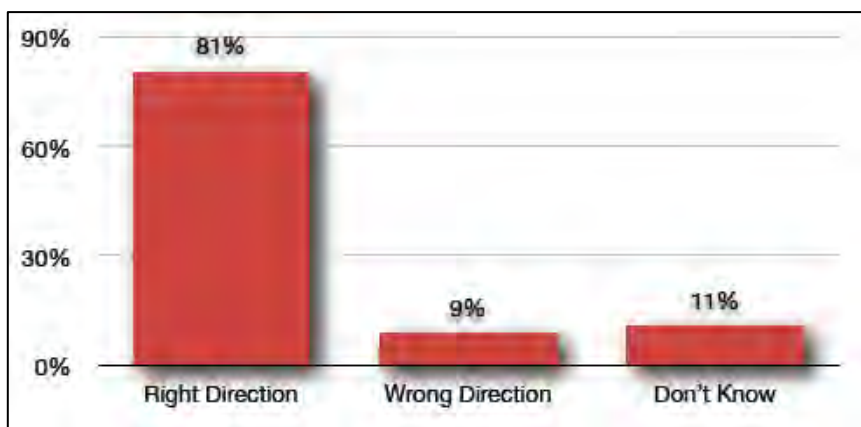

The following key highlights from the survey can help guide the strategic planning process. The complete report is available on the City’s web site at: <http://www.ci.monrovia.ca.us/about-monrovia/news-a-information/2009-satisfaction-survey>.

Monrovia Community. As reflected in Figure 1, over three-fourths of those surveyed (79%) rated the Monrovia community as an eight or higher on a scale of one to ten.

Community Direction. Residents of Monrovia view the City very positively. As shown in Figure 2, over 80% of the survey respondents said they felt the City was on the right track, while only 9% felt it was headed in the wrong direction.

③ HIGHLIGHTS: 2009 COMMUNITY SURVEY

Satisfaction with City Services. This positive view of the City's direction is reinforced by residents' satisfaction with City services. As shown in Figure 3, 95% of those surveyed responding that were either very satisfied (32%) or satisfied with City services (63%).

Notably, only 3% said they were dissatisfied or very dissatisfied with City services.

Best Like About Living in Monrovia. As shown in Figure 4, over 70% (71%) of those surveyed said that best things about living in Monrovia were the small town feel, sense of community, "atmosphere" and overall quality of life.

Location (14%), safety (2%), shopping (2%) and other factors (11%) accounted for 21% of the "best things."

Like Least About Living in Monrovia. The top response (36%) was that they either "loved everything" or disliked nothing about the City.

"Commuting or traffic" was the top dislike, noted by 15% of those surveyed, while all other specific concerns were received responses of 9% or less.

4 APPENDIX: DETAILED RESPONSES

The following presents the detailed responses for the survey results presented in Section 2, which summarizes the 255 individual responses we received from:

- Other Comments

What are the most important things the City should focus on over the next 5 years?

- 1. So many of our streets are full of large cracks and potholes with thick grass and weeds. We need the streets repaved.
1. Investigate the idea of L.A. County taking over the Fire Department to save the city money and publicly disclose to residents the findings of that investigation.
2. Enforce the city's regulation to keep motorhomes, trailers, etc. out of sight & not in driveways - the regulations state they must be out of sight. This is not enforced, which makes neighborhoods unsightly.
3. Thank you for this opportunity to speak out. Monrovia residents since 1955.

Business

- 1. Do whatever is necessary to maintain and encourage high quality businesses in Downtown area. Vacancies are a deterrent to shoppers. Property owners need to understand that in a "down" economy, leases/rents should accommodate the retailer. When business goes under - so does the community.

Residential Parking

- 2. The narrow streets need overnight restrictions and some need one-side-only. Charging a fee for overnight.
- 3. Street parking permits will encourage residents to use their driveway & garage and/or raise $ for maintenance ☺

Building

- 4. Be very careful when granting permits for building & remodeling. Don't let Monrovia end up like South Arcadia. Also, curtail the use of foreign language on business signs especially those that don't use the English alphabet!

1. Balance budget.
2. Safety.
3. Cleanliness & (unreadable) of community & parks.
4. Limited government.
5. Education.

- 1. Maintaining a balanced budget.
- 2. New Metrolink station completion.
- 3. Public Safety.
- 4. Schools.
- 5. Maintain public services.

1. Police presence (more) especially in South Monrovia.
2. Better road conditions. Too many potholes in the city of Monrovia.
3. No future affordable housing projects!
4. Better enforcement of laws penalizing dog owners leaving dog waste on residents' lawns.
5. Enforce law restricting placement of orange cones to reserve space for parking!

Appendix A: Utility Billing Survey Responses

- 1. Smoke-free outside dining.
- 2. Smoke-free coffee-shops.
- 3. Smoke-free-parks.
- 4. A city free of cigarette butt litter which not only is an eye sore, but poses a danger to families with small children or pets who may ingest poisonous products.
- 5. We love the 4th of July & Christmas celebrations each year! Make Monrovia a smoke-free city!! ☺

1. Cut bloated government spending.
2. Same as above.
3. Same as above.
4. Same as

1. Monrovia needs a dog park!

1. Painting the lane lines on Foothill Blvd.
2. Keeping within budget.
3. Working toward completion of Gold Line.

- 1. The city should focus on building the Gold Line station and area surrounding it.
- 2. The streets need care and resurfacing in several areas.
- 3. It would be good to see community support for individuals growing their own food.

1. Since the Gold Line will be opening soon, city should create ways to make easily accessible: free shuttles, urban planning, etc.
2. Here's a radical thought: Turn Myrtle Avenue, between, say Olive and Foothill into a "CAR-FREE-ZONE."
3. Find the funds to subsidize solar panels on as many homes as possible.
4. Encourage community gardens & small-scale agriculture throughout city...involving livestock & composting.
5. You can see where I'm going with this: "GREENING" they city. It's the wave of the future!

- 1. Slurry cracks on surface streets.
- 2. Fill in pot holes.
- 3. Kept catch basins cleared of debris.
- 4. Work toward under-ground lines.
- 5. Restore train station to its former glory.

1. This past October we had our Oak Tree trim. I ask the city of Monrovia if they would cut their trees growing up inside the Oak. They called and said someone would be out and look at the 5 trees. They never came and I never heard from them, nor did they call.

- 1. For over 50 years I have lived in my home in Arcadia. I have watched Monrovia grow and become this wonderful, friendly city. Monrovia has it all - K-Z-

Appendix A: Utility Billing Survey Responses

1. Business/quality. Selective with which business are opened in city and how does that rep. city. We don't need more fast food chains
2. Schools - Focus on bringing our elementary schools to a higher level of safety & overall quality in education.
3. Safety - Eliminate hazards that lurk in city. Implement stricter ordinances, i.e. street parking, etc.
4. Overall quality - This is related to the above, do we need more fast food chains? What about healthier alternatives? Schools, etc.
5. Aesthetics - Our street corners, residential lawns - We need to keep our appearance cleaner & to higher level.

Appendix A: Utility Billing Survey Responses

1. Employment based on merit, not diversity. Diversity (racism) is bad.
2. Schools should focus on the achievers (merit) not the under-achievers.
3. Get the gangs out of Monrovia. If you can't do it, say so, the citizens will do it.
4. No tax breaks for business."
5. Get Foothill transit to run on time. Despite what they say IT IS NOT ON TIME ANY DAY.

- 1. Local businesses.
- 2. Metro Line.
- 3. Community service.
- 4. Schools.
- 5. Safety.

1. Going green!!! Energy, recycle, waste.
2. Strong financial bases no debt!!!!
3. Safety for citizens. Keep up the good work.

- 1. Please open the wilderness park near Hidden Valley. We pay for it yet we can't use it!!
- 2. Please resolve the throughway issue on the lower Clamshell Road. Open travel from the Clamshell all the way through.
- 3. Please rescue the road building issue on Santa Anita Ave. near Chantry. So the road can be reopened.
- 4. Issue bear cans for trash free of charge. Too many people aren't taking care of their trash. (unreadable) human/bear interaction.
- 5. Hurry up with the Gold Line already. We need this additional public transportation!!!

1. Bring back the horse car that ran on Myrtle Ave back in the early 1900's for the Gold Line to transport people to the main part of Monrovia.

- 1. Keep taxes low.
- 2. Encourage business and adopt policies that are pro-business to come to or remain in Monrovia.
- 3. Keep utility costs low.
- 4. Keep taxes low.
- 5. Keep taxes low.

1. The downtown is a real gem! Walkable - good restaurants - need more shops with unique merchandise.
2. Gold Line station - needs to be attractive or entice riders to disembark & visit downtown shops & restaurants.

- 1. Fix the streets correctly instead of filling in pot holes. It is just a band aid fix. The holes get bigger & bigger.
- 2. Take care of trees. They are never pruned back enough on our street. They cover up street lights. Branches are always falling.

Appendix A: Utility Billing Survey Responses

1. Residential street lighting.
2. Bring new business.
3. Littering penalty or fine.
4. Allow new 'granny flat' rentals in this tight economy.
5. No property tax increases.

1. Find Ways to Cut Cities.

2. Expenses- There by relieving our taxes and fee's Start with the most expense dept's on the City's budget.

1. Bring more jobs/businesses into Monrovia.

1. Keep growing our business base

2. Promote buy local in Monrovia

3. Promote tourism / visit Monrovia P.R.

4. Increase volunteerism / community involvement

5. Open a senior center

1. Develop and improve light rail station and transit village on Gold Line
2. Assist and welcome business development that improves community along Foothill Boulevard (Aztec Hotel, Blockbuster Video, Coffee House, Empty Stores, ETC.)
3. Paint and maintain traffic safety lines (center median) and cross walks on busy Foothill Boulevard. Traffic lines in poor condition!
4. Continue improvements to Monrovia's Old Town business district. No parking meters!
5. Develop access to Monrovia's wilderness preserve for hiking, biking and fire fighting

1. Check-up/maintenance on the crosswalk signals (buttons) at busy intersections (Foothill/Madison) etc. I think the intersection signals are a priority, particularly at intersections where students cross. Although we have crossing guards right before and after school times, many students, especially at the high school, use the crosswalks at different times of the day. The buttons at Madison/Foothill are broken, and I worry that students will wait so long that they will jaywalk and be hurt

2. Spruce up the neighborhood parks

1. Local transportation to connect to the new Metro station
2. Affordable housing
3. Bringing in new businesses

1. Helping local businesses

2. Keep city clean

5. Work collaboratively / regionally on grant funding opportunities for law enforcement – lobby against AB109 – Early release of prisoners

1. Support light rail development & associated projects

2. Continue enforcing speed limit on Foothill Blvd.

3. Install “lighted” crosswalks across Foothill Blvd where there are no traffic lights. For example, at Alta Vista. Pedestrian pushes button on sidewalk & flashing lights illuminate across the street

4. Consider developing community supported agriculture here in Monrovia. Continue great community events

1. Street repairs potholes & resurfacing causes accidents & tire damage
2. Code enforcement concerning motor homes that are parked on city streets
3. Homeless citizens sleeping in city parks – mainly library park
4. Tree trimming especially tree branches that are overgrown over streets. This damages roofs of cars & trucks
5. Monrovia is a lovely place to live. But improvements are always needed. The service at the community center desk is very poor

Topic Name: Envisioning Monrovia's Future

Idea Title: Open the Hillside Recreation Area

Idea Detail: The Hillside Recreation area, that Monrovia's have been taxed for for, I believe, almost ten years, and which the City Council voted in June or July of this year to open, really needs to open. It is taking far too long.

Comment 1: Laurie, I can't seem to find the correct web page on the city site that discusses the progress of opening the Hillside Wilderness Preserve and Recreation Area. Could you give a web page, please. | By Brad H

Comment 2: We truly appreciate the Hillside Wilderness Preserve comments from the community. The Monrovia City Council adopted the Environmental Impact Report and Resource Management Plan (RMP) for the Hillside Wilderness Preserve (HWP) on February 7, 2012. The adoption authorized Staff to begin formalizing the access points at Ridgeside, Cloverleaf, Highland and Sleepy Hollow using the Resource Management Plan as the guide. In accordance with the RMP, each access point will be equipped with amenities that will help facilitate access and use by the public. These amenities include gates, signage, bear proof trash receptacles and mutt mitt dispensers. Please refer to the City's website for updates on the status of this project. | By Laurie L

Comment 3: I certainly agree with this idea. I have been told that there currently is "informal access" to the Hillside Wilderness Preserve at Sleepy Hollow, Ridgeside, Cloverleaf, and Highland. I have hiked in these areas, but you must pass "No Trespassing" signs and gates to do so. The Dept. of Community Services has said that signage, "Mutt Mitts", and trash receptacles must be put in place for use by the public and that this should be accomplished by January or February 2013. I hope many of the City residents will second this idea and that the City will follow through with giving us the use of the Preserve that we joined together to purchase. | By Ron H

Idea Title: Move Monrovia Animal Control's contract closer/offer spay neuter

Idea Detail: Our current contract is up in June. We need to move to a closer location that offers better service and a lower kill rate. We currently offer no low cost spay, neuter or vaccination programs. Our current contract is with Pomona which has one of the lowest adoption rates in CA. It is so far away that people will not even go and pick up their lost pets. It is time for a change in Monrovia on how we treat our animals. Please help inform Monrovia on this important matter. 4 million unwanted dogs and cats are killed every year in the USA. You can make a difference! Did you know that FixNation will spay or neuter cats for free and even furnish cages?

Comment 1: Thank you for your comments and concerns. Unfortunately, there are few shelters in our area willing to accept animals from cities which they do not provide animal control service. Our main options are Los Angeles County and Inland Valley Humane Society, with IVHS better meeting our needs. We have proposed sheltering our impounded animals with closer humane societies (Pasadena) that have lower euthanasia rates, but those proposals were rejected based on the fact that we provide our Animal Control internally and do not contract for service with the closer shelters. The City of Monrovia is able to provide better Animal Control service (more coverage & lower response times) by keeping our officers in-house. We have asked Pasadena to re-consider contracting with us for sheltering, but due to underfunding and understaffing, they are not able to do so at this time. | By Laurie L

Comment 2: This is very important to many of my neighbors, too. | By Caroline C

Comment 3: I would like to see Pasadena Humane Society be the shelter for Monrovia. PHS already serves Arcadia, Sierra Madre and several other neighboring towns. Their facilities are excellent and being a member city, Monrovia could also access PHS's incredible education programs, community outreach programs etc. Having worked in their Barks & Books program at Arcadia Library and the Companion Animal Program and various nursing homes and retirement villages I can personally vouch for the wonderful work they do. Since they serve several hillside communities, they have dedicated staff that work with the various types of urban wildlife and birds in our area. Their adoption methods are tried and true - they want to find the best and most suitable homes for each animal. They have low-cost spay/neuter programs and also have training classes available. I would love it if Monrovia would contract with the Pasadena Humane Society for our animal services. | By Annie B

Comment 4: If we have a community newsletter, it should contain information on the shelter servicing our comm. also include links for low cost spay/neuter ; and important information on how long a pet will be held at a shelter, before they are euthanized, if not picked up. it's a fact they being killed daily, and people still don't get that. In addition, if you can no longer keep your pet, all steps do to before having to surrender them to shelters. People still think a shelter, is for dumping their bully breeds, sick, old and unwanted pets and they will happily take care of them, nurse them back to health, and then find them a new home. Not likely at all. In fact, these are the ones at the front of the line to be euthanized in a shelter, and even puppies are being euthanized due to over population. A city ordinance for mandatory spay and neuter would help. Not sure if the city has to power for mandatory spay/neuter but it would surely help. PS love the shuttle idea for low spay and neuter. | By Eva M

Comment 5: I'm relatively new to the area, so I have two questions: 1) FixNation appears to serve LA. It's not super close to Monrovia, but if it would be prohibitive for Monrovia to fund a similar program, maybe they should consider partnering with FixNation to, I don't know, offer a once a month shuttle to their location. 2) Is there a closer shelter than Pomona? If so, why don't we use it? What are the alternatives?

Thanks! | By Gabrielle K

Idea Title: Monrovia Communittee Garden

Idea Detail: The land WE Monrovians bought in the foothills still has not found consensus on its use. Part of that property was used as growing grounds by Rosedales years ago, so there is a botanical history there already.

It has been suggested by future environmental thinkers that every city should have as one of its primary goals for development that communities try to become as independent in all areas as much as possible. Energy and water come to mind right away, but food should be a concern as well.

We are fortunate that we have some of the world's leaders in agriculture and plant development close by. So the resources for such a project are not an issue.

We have a Monrovia Garden Club, and lots of retired folks and others that have a passion for gardening. Gardening is great exercise which is a plus for volunteers as well. We have a local transit system that can help with transportation for seniors, etc. Our city has one of the best Street Fairs where some of the items could be sold to help supplement the garden to make it self sufficient. However, the primary focus would be to provide food to those in our city that are less fortunate, and we already have a distribution organization for that as well.

Further, as the project evolves I could also see that another function could be added so that volunteers could be called upon by our citizens to collect fruit from trees in our residential neighborhoods that would otherwise go to waste.

There are plenty of other off shoots to help the environment as well as educational opportunities for our schools. I see it as a great win-win project that could serve as a model for all other cities to copy.

Comment 2: It would be simple just to have a free food for all gathering in a public space -- sort of an outdoor 'mercado' for people to share and trade. If you added all kinds of plants and seeds, it would really be fantastic. Maybe Armstrong would host it in their parking lot before they open on Saturdays. | By Caroline C

Comment 3: Great idea - another way to meet neighbors.

Would like to elaborate on the idea a bit further. Should other people not have the time or the requisite green thumb that comes along with such an endeavor, there are other places within the country that have also turned this type of effort into a self-sustaining revenue.

For example, a person chooses which level of produce they would like to receive. Based on that membership level, they are then presented with their portion of locally grown, organic food. If you are not able to contribute with your time, you could contribute financially to the continued success of the community garden. | By Heather D

Idea Title: Dining Facilities at Monrovia Gold Line Metro Station

Idea Detail: Maybe this is already part of the thought process, but in case not

Comment 1: A great way to improve other areas...) and spread out a little. | By Lynn D

Comment 2: Thank you for your response and enthusiasm about the incoming Gold Line! The City has been working with a developer to build a mix of office, retail and housing to the area surrounding the future Monrovia Gold Line Metro Station. At this point, it is still in the preliminary stages and no decisions have been made about the types of businesses that will go there. As that process continues, we will be sure to communicate your comments in addition to further reach out to the community to get their input on the types of businesses they would like to see there. If you have a list of specific Monrovia businesses you would like to see, we would be very interested in hearing them. | By Laurie L

Comment 3: Hi Laurie ~

Friend's Cafe has done a great job of quickly becoming our local go-to coffee shop - would they be interested in stretching their legs out a little bit and having a place at the Metro? In the interest of seeing dining diversity within our town, we don't have a really good Spanish tapas restaurant - one that would have enough square footage to possibly accommodate entertainment at night on weekends (flamenco dancers??) Whether it's at the metro or not, this I think would be a really welcome addition.. I'm sure if I give it time I can come up with more, but this is my current and immediate "oohh" response.

What else is currently up in discussion? Maybe some things that could be more day-turnaround commuter friendly based (shoe repair, dry cleaning...)??

What do you think? | By Heather D

Comment 4: Laurie and Heather, Businesses help each other. As a (service) business owner myself, I have come to understand that service and food establishments have an opportunity to create a "foot-traffic" that helps to draw potential customers to other types of shops like clothing and specialty item stores. In return, these stores do the same for service and food businesses!!

Friends Cafe is a great suggestion. I would suggest to also include other eateries that cater to the full range of the income demographic of Monrovia by inviting restaurants that have a loyal following like Chipotle and a Smith Brother's Restaurant.

Retailers could include boutique clothing stores, men's clothing, kitchen accessories, artisan bakers, artisan ice cream, etc. | By Albert V

Comment 5: Albert - I do not want to endorse any conglomerate such as Chipotle; I think after all the talk of trying to make Monrovia more unique, the last message we want to send is for all the commercial entities to be welcome. What does that say about our efforts to support the small family businesses we want to encourage? I would much rather support your suggestion for the Smith brothers. As an alternative how about a Robert Simon restaurant?

We also need diversity in our dining culture. I mentioned it in an earlier comment, but I would very much like to see a Spanish Tapas restaurant closer to home if everyone is also on board with that. If not - Old Town Pasadena and Long Beach will suffice. | By Heather D

Comment 6: Great idea, I believe this would be a great point-of-difference at the Monrovia Station from many of the existing stations along the current Gold Line route.

The original station plan suggests a coffee house within the Historic Monrovia Train Station which is NOT going to be the train-riders boarding platform. The platform to board trains would be right next to the Historic building. Check out this link, <http://la.uli.org/wp-content/uploads/2011/12/TAP-Report-Monrovia-Monrovia-Station-Square-Transit-Village-2010.pdf>

Please be aware that the above .pdf was created prior to the State of California abolishing the Redevelopment Agency, therefore, considerable funds that would help to take the Monrovia train station from plan to reality is simply not there.

All the ideas that bring people to our city to live, go to school, to shop and to eat, to start businesses will all help to generate more revenue for the city so we can afford to pay for more. Remember to please shop Monrovia! | By Albert V

Idea Title: Public Park below Huntington

Idea Detail: I feel a park below Huntington is essential. Park/plaza space was a part of the Gold Line Station idea before redevelopment was altered.

There are about 5,500 residents who live below Huntington with 0 acres of parks within that area (1/2 mile radius from the corner of California and Railroad Ave). It appears that every other 1/2 mile radius above Huntington has 5-20 acres of park space. The National minimal standard that was used for many years recommended .1-.3 acres per 1,000 people; a 2 acre park is warranted.

Idea Title: Use land wisely at Clifton Middle School

Idea Detail: I walk down Palm St. almost every day. During the summer, I would often see the lawn in front of the school being watered. Especially since we live in a desert, that seemed to me like a colossal waste of resources. That lawn is not used for sports (or any other activities that I know of). It could be replaced by native, drought-resistant plants, or a meditation labyrinth, or a sculpture garden, etc. Additionally, I've been sad to see the school garden languish untended. I don't have any students at Clifton, so I don't know who started the garden or who's in charge of it, but surely there's someone in Monrovia who could assist the students in learning to raise crops? (Not me. I have a black thumb!)

Comment 1: Gabrielle, This post motivated me to go to Clifton Middle School and look at the grounds as well as assess the gardens. The planter boxes are truly in a sad state.

As you mentioned, we live in a desert, so teaching the kids about planting native and drought resistant plants is important. I would like to suggest that the planter boxes be filled with succulents. A variety of colors, textures, shapes and sizes are found in succulents and most of them flower as well!

I have a couple of resources that may be willing to help guide us into an easy-to-care-for succulent garden. The kids can hold a fund raiser as the cost of many succulents are fairly low.

Idea Title: Small Canyon Park Entrance Fee for Non-Resident Walk-In Visitors

Idea Detail: Canyon Park is a wonderful and unique asset of the City. It has numerous visitors to the Nature Center, picnic areas and trails on weekdays, and a high number of "walk-in visitors" on weekends. A high percentage of the park visitors are not residents of Monrovia, but nevertheless are welcome visitors. Since the City, and its residents, support the Park financially, it seems that a small entrance fee (maybe $1) would be a fair way for non-resident walk-in visitors to assist in maintaining this enjoyable wilderness. Note: There is currently a parking fee for cars that enter the Park whether a Monrovia resident or not.

Idea Author: Ron H

Comment 1: How about a "free parking day?" Maybe one day a week or once a month. The LA Co Arboretum as well as Huntington Library have free admission and parking once a month. It would encourage people to visit and enjoy the great wilderness. If raising more funds is the issue, how about selling Monrovia Canyon Park calendars, bumper stickers, postcards, toy bears, etc.? The stuff could be sold in the Nature Center and/or even on the City's web site. |
By g W

Comment 2: Thank you for your Canyon Park comments regarding use and fees. Proposition

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

A Grant funds were used to make improvements to Canyon Park including trails, the Nature Center and the Cabin/Conference facility. Proposition A is funded through a California bond measure which requires the park be made equally available to residents and non-residents thus a separate fee for non-residents cannot be enacted. The Community Services Commission reviews all fees and charges annually and makes recommendations for new fees and/or fee changes as part of the fee resolution adopted by City Council annually. We will take your ideas to heart. | By Laurie L

Comment 3: I don't like the idea of charging people to use public parks. This just seems to San Marino to me. We should be encouraging people to use and enjoy parks, to get exercise, to experience nature, not making it harder. | By Scott R

Comment 4: I think this would be a good idea and help bring additional revenue into the city. After all I believe San Marino chages a non resident entry fee for Lacy Park. | By MRV R

Comment 5: I doubt a 1$ fee would even pay for the accounting and administration costs, let alone benefit the park in any way. Fees like this are more a nuisance than a benefit. | By David B

Comment 6: Do you have any idea how many people walk into the Park each week? My understanding is the Park takes in approximately $60,000 per year from the $5 per car fee. There are significantly more individuals that walk in than the autos that drive in and park. The $5 fee is collected at the Entrance Station near the first Ranger Station, so a system is already in place to deal with collecting cash. | By Ron H

Comment 7: Sorry Ron, I highly doubt that Canyon Park see (by your number) over 30 cars a day, 365 days a year. | By David B

Comment 8: The $60,000 came from one of the Rangers. Maybe it's high -- maybe buses make up the difference. In any event, the number can be found out and a cost benefit study might be useful. The City, like most cities, is looking for ways to help it's budget. Feeling like it is a nuisance might be passing up something that could help. | By Ron H

Comment 1: VOLUNTEERS NEEDED
JOIN THE 2013 REGIONAL HOMELESS COUNT

Join dozens of fellow community volunteers to help count homeless individuals in our city on January 29, 2013 from 6p.m. to 12a.m. at the Monrovia United Methodist Church, 140 East Palm Avenue, Monrovia CA 91016.

There are 4 cities in the SGV that are also doing the HOMELESS COUNT PLUS (Monrovia, Arcadia, Duarte, and Pomona) which not only includes conducting a basic count of the homeless on the streets, but also using the Vulnerability Index to assist us in learning who of the homeless on the street are most vulnerable. The Vulnerability Index will allow this community to not only get a count of the street homeless, but will also provide us with more about our homeless neighbors including demographic information and vulnerability status. Vulnerability status will then be used to prioritize our most valuable, permanent supportive housing resources.

Tuesday, Jan 29 from 6pm - midnight: Homeless Count

Wed Jan 30 & Thurs Jan 31 from 6pm - midnight: Homeless Count PLUS

The hours and location for all three nights are the same: Monrovia United Methodist Church located at 140 East Palm Avenue, Monrovia CA 91016 from 6pm-12am. It is helpful to have individuals assist for 2 nights if possible to maximize productivity (by reducing training).

To register as a volunteer (must be 18), visit LAHSA's website www.theycountwillyou.org

Here you can sign up to assist on Jan 29 for the count.

If you can ALSO volunteer either Jan 30 and/or 31st, e-mail Lisa@SGVconsortium.org

For more information, contact Lisa Bartkowski at lisa@sgvconsortium.org , (626) 214-5986 |

Comment 3: GREAT IDEA! I am an expert at productivity software, computers and networks. I was a concert organist (am playing part time) and play most types of keyboards. I am handy with tools, and can roll my sleeves up. I AM WILLING TO VOLUNTEER FOR MOST ANYTHING RELATED TO THESE AREAS.

I will bet that there are many Monrovia residents who have a lot of talent and skills to share for the benefit of the city and their neighbors. John's idea about posting jobs or tasks on the city website is fantastic! I WOULD VOLUNTEER A LOT if there was some simple way for me to apply for tasks, jobs, etc. COULD THE CITY OF MONROVIA'S WEBMASTER IMPLEMENT SUCH A TOOL? It would pay back ten-fold for the city and residents if this could be done.

If you are looking for a second career or wishing you could do more for Monrovia -- Now is your chance!

If you are retired, work part-time or not at all, or are looking for experience in a new field, the City of Monrovia has an opportunity for you. The City is looking for volunteers willing and able to join City staff in serving the community. If you have good clerical, computer and/or people skills, are interested in teaching or working with families and children, or if you have special or professional skills -- give us a call!

Idea Title: Increasing the night life on weekends

Idea Detail: The city needs more night life on weekends, especially on Saturdays, since so many of those small business depend on visitors coming to Old-town for their survival. The City should look into replicating the Farmers Market as a smaller event, maybe like a mini-concert or some type of special event. The City can even look into a sponsorship from one of the big business located in the City to avoid increase in cost.

Idea Title: Volunteer liaison between schools and businesses

Idea Detail: Monrovia students need to feel part of this community! One way to help achieve this is by creating a volunteer position that will help connect our schools with Monrovia businesses. This volunteer position can be overseen by the Monrovia School Board as the school board members can best determine how to involve local business.

Some ideas for business involvement are:

*Team sponsorship

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

- *Theatre/arts/music sponsorship
- *A place where the residents can purchase tickets for school programs
- *Paid and/or Non-paid internships
- *Career presentations at the school
- *Student and school staff discounts so schools are encouraged to shop locally

The school board can also work at adding more local businesses to the "approved vendor list" to better position our school district to buy locally as much as possible. (I am unaware of how much our school district buys locally.)

Comment 1: I love this idea. We do need to focus on our schools. Having sponsors for art and music. My son attends one of the elementary schools. When he was in kindergarten, they ran out of funding for his art classes. My husband and I paid for his entire class to finish out the last 3 months. He is currently in 2nd grade and they have no art classes. There is no time in the classroom for this anymore as it was many years ago when I was in elementary. The kids love the arts/music. It is no longer priority to engage children and see that sparkle of pride to help them develop.

Idea Title: Provide Food and Water for Bears

Idea Detail: This year has seen a significant increase in the number of bears coming into the neighborhoods along the foothills. Many have ventured as far South as Foothill Blvd. There are several things that might help this situation and for the safety of Monrovia citizens, as well as the bears, I think something should be done. My idea is probably controversial, but I hope it, or a variation of it, will be considered. A location in the mountains, accessible using one of the fire roads, could be used to provide food and water for the bears. This should keep them in the mountains and out of the local neighborhoods. A cost/benefit study would have to be done (as with all proposals) but we shouldn't wait until a bear attacks a child or until someone kills a bear from fear of attack, before the study is done.

Comment 4: I think you raise good points. I think a study of how our type of bears have been managed elsewhere is the first step. Have there been any attacks by this kind of bear in this kind of setting, etc.? We don't know that feeding bears wouldn't draw cougars, or heaven knows what else. Also, we would have to place a hot tub up there or they will still come down to the houses! | By Caroline C

Idea Title: Build state-of-the-art recreation facilities

Idea Detail: Monrovia has a diverse demography but offers few resources to support a healthy lifestyle. Outdoor open space (i.e., parks) are minimal, and safety is often a concern. As a result, residents often have to find affordable opportunities to live healthy lifestyles outside the community.

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

State-of-the-art recreational facilities that couple indoor activities, such as gymnastics, fitness, racquetball, and open recreational use (i.e., art classes, children's programs, etc.) should be developed alongside outdoor green space for picnics, aquatics, and tennis, among other activities. Discounts should be offered for residents, but the facilities should also be open to non-residents so Monrovia becomes a destination in the SGV.

Comment 1: We appreciate the recreational facilities comments from the community and you have brought up some great ideas for recreation to consider as we move forward. In addition, the Department of Community Services, Recreation Division offers indoor and outdoor activities at the Community Center, Canyon Park and Recreation Park. The Community Center offers indoor activities for seniors such as social clubs, excursions and contract classes for the public (Zumba, Karate, Tap, ballet and tennis). Canyon Park offers open space for walking and hiking and an outdoor education program that focus on the State of California Science Curriculum for children in 3rd through 5th grades. Recreation Park offers outdoor space for tennis, baseball and soccer. For a full-list of parks and their amenities please access the City's website at www.cityofmonrovia.org. Comment 3: I LOVE this idea - we love to go rollerblading & bicycling; but we currently pack up the car and go to Long Beach, Santa Monica or Burbank to enjoy their 'skate path'. If we could get something equivalent that would be wonderful!

I have a concern on some of the specific items mentioned - there is a Y on Mountain which provides quite a few of these things - maybe they would be interested in providing a resident discount? I think it would be wise to avoid direct competition and be mindful of blending our needs with theirs so everyone benefits?

What do you think? | By Heather D

Comment 4: Hi Heather,

You're right - the Y on Mountain does offer some of these features. My family has appreciated their aquatics program, in particular, in the recent past. That said, the fees were substantially higher than programs offered elsewhere, such as in Sierra Madre, which recently began a true public-private partnership with a company called WaterWorks. It would be great to see the Y work with Monrovia to reduce costs and, more importantly, upgrade their facilities, which the Y would likely not do on its own. Their current facility is quite old and in dire need of improvements, and I doubt they'd have the means to do it on their own. In addition, Recreation Park, which abuts their facility, is a grand space for outdoor activities, but it needs substantial renovation, as I don't believe the space is being utilized properly. And I'd love to see more of those types of spaces throughout Monrovia.

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

Thanks for your comment, Heather! | By Ashwin R

Comment 1: The Monrovia Area Partnership (MAP) has been empowering residents and strengthening neighborhoods since it was unanimously approved by City Council in 2006. Since that time, the program has graduated 115 people from the MAP Leadership Academy, hosted 3 city-wide Neighborhood Conference events and connected many residents through Nextdoor.com, neighborhood events and meetings and opportunities to learn and serve the community together. Comment 2: Just four years ago, the neighborhood near Los Angeles and Sherman Avenues was home to the city's most notorious gang house. Two Duroc Crips who lived there shot and killed 16-year-old Sammantha Salas in early 2008, days after their uncle was shot to death by rival gang members in front of his Sherman Avenue home. The shootings marked a period of gang warfare in Monrovia that claimed four lives and touched off a massive public safety response. That's when the MAP team sprung into action. Idea Title: Capture rain water through use of swales

Idea Detail: Rain water can replenish ground water if it falls and runs over soil rather than pavement. The gutters along our streets, especially those that are on a slope, flow with water when it rains, and the water is lost into the storm drains. The asphalt in the gutters could be replaced with swales, soil and vegetation that allow infiltration of the rain water. This is especially important in Monrovia where we rely on groundwater for our water supply.

Comment 2: Hi there, thank you so much for your ideas! The City will be looking into various ideas on how to increase rainwater capture and ground water recharge as part of our efforts to comply with our new Municipal Stormwater Permit and Water 4 Life Program. | By Laurie L

Comment 3: Dear Ms. Lile,
Thank you for responding to my posting I have a further refinement to suggest. Removal of cement in gutters can be expensive, but it would not be necessary to break the cement everywhere. As long as a stretch of gutter "upstream" of a storm drain is porous, water would be returned to the ground.
Is information about the Municipal Stormwater Permit and the Water 4 Life Program available to the public? Thank you. | By Karen J

Comment 4: I am so surprised that Armstrongs does not do this (on Foothill next to Starbucks). It is especially needed there since they have DAILY runoff from watering their plants which goes directly into the storm drain. | By Nancy M

Idea Title: A commitment to excellence in education

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

Idea Detail: Whenever young families are considering which foothills town to live in, the top school systems are always at the top of the list (S. Pas, La Canada, San Marino). This consistent desire keeps property values high, crime low and a sense of community high in these locations. The single best investment we can make in Monrovia is to continue to support the improvement of our schools. As opposed to another commenter, we don't need more police in schools, we need more teachers, books, technology and extracurricular opportunities.

Idea Author: Jacob B

Comment 1: Excellent post Jacob! Truly, anything we do to continue to improve our schools MUST BE AT THE TOP OF OUR LIST!! "Continue to improve" being the key statement here. Please check out www.school-ratings.com to see how our schools rate.

Most Monrovia schools API (Academic Performance Index) rate above 800 which is something to be proud of considering where we came from (mid 700's) just two years ago! And that's the District, not just one school!

I personally believe that the continued improvement will happen with all you mentioned as well as a strong police presence. I don't mean to say police on the campuses so much as police in and around the city in general. That of course will mean police at the schools. When our kids make connections with authoritative figures like parents, teachers, police officers and fire fighters, our kids are exposed to people who they want to emulate! Police at our schools are an important, positive statement. | By Albert V

Comment 2: Oops, I got it wrong. The Monrovia Unified School District has scored in the high 700's and NOT in the mid 700's as I stated above. Idea Title: More Street Trees

Idea Detail: We should plant more street trees. Street trees make walking more pleasant. They reinforce the feeling of how close we are to the mountains. They keep your car cool. They raise property values. They reduce the urban heat island effect. Could we plant 1,500 trees by 2015?

Idea Author: Scott R

Comment 1: How much would this cost the city of, and the residents of Monrovia? Who is going to pay for planting trees in this poor economy? While I love the concept, this would be very low on my priority list with regard to value-for-dollar and short term ROI for Monrovia. There are many other things with greater impact to the residents of Monrovia that need fixing or improvement. Respectfully, Tony | By Tony W

Comment 2: in deference to the comments regarding invasive trees - this is very true AND I also like the idea of coming up with a list of approved city trees. Trees also help with keeping houses cool in the summer as well as contribute to cleaning up our air.

In taking the NO and YES idea(s) here is the beginning of a list I would like to submit the following trees be NOT allowed for planting: Camphor, Ficus, and Eucalyptus (not indigenous and dangerous with wind storms). Is there an arborist within our midst who can expound upon this idea?

Also, here's a link I found which could give us some additional guidance:

Trees for possible planting consideration: Crape Myrtle, Sycamore, anyone have any others to add?

What do you think? | By Heather D

Comment 3: What's wrong with a camphor tree? | By Nancy M

Comment 4: Hi Nancy ~ Camphor trees have invasive roots that can wreak havoc on foundations when planted too close to homes and they uproot sidewalks which then also will require maintenance that can be avoided if we make a decision to choose another species. | By Heather D

Comment 5: Trees are nice but very destructive to streets, sidewalks, and ESPECIALLY sewer systems. I've probably spent $10k in damages caused directly and indirectly from a big tree in front of my house that I eventually had to get removed. Which the city made me pay for that too. So, when and if you plant trees, envision and plan where those roots will go. Think about the added cost to the city or home owner for trimming them. The added cost of street sweeper or another noisy leaf blower too. I like trees very much but there are lots of cons to consider when planting them. Maybe some type of tree that doesn't grow taller than 20 feet or roots go down instead of out. I don't know much about the different types but if there were some like that, we could have nice trees to look at without all the problems. | By John D

Comment 6: I agree, when planting trees they should be matched to the appropriate parkway width. We shouldn't plant trees with invasive roots. I know of a local city that allows each street to work together to choose from a palette of appropriate species. | By Scott R

Comment 7: Just be sure to purchase the proper trees, low maintenance, with color and interest. | By kathleen F

Idea Title: Safer, more secure Monrovia

Idea Detail: I primarily believe that we need to focus on making the schools of the Monrovia Unified School District the coveted schools of the San Gabriel Valley.

Although Monrovia Unified is its own entity, the City of Monrovia can help to lay the foundation of this idea by having an extremely high police presence. People need to feel safe in sending their kids to our schools and out to play in our neighborhoods. The police presence will deter crime causing criminalistic people to, eventually, move out and a higher caliber resident to move in.

The Monrovia Area Partnership (MAP) must stay in tact so they may continue the empowerment of our residents in taking back their neighborhoods and building the community that makes Monrovia great!

Lastly, I can envision Monrovia as the place restaurateurs, retailers and service companies want to call home. Entrepreneurs often look for communities that are populated by families and an area with pedestrian traffic as this helps to ensure a rewarding business experience.

Good schools, safety, a sense of community and a city that has entertainment, food and programs will keep our city vibrant and prosperous!

Comment 1: I agree with the second thrust: that fostering very small business is important to balance out the successes we have seen with the big business near Huntington. It'd be nice if the city offered some "red-tape defense" workshops for people thinking of starting a small business here. Any kind of information network for people thinking of opening their first small business would be helpful. None of us likes to see a business fail.

If more police are added, I think it is essential that they be real community police, that our police really get out and talk to people of all ages, often. It's harder to break the law when the police officers have been your pals since you were a kid! The police want to prevent crime more than they want to have to catch bad guys; community presence lets them do that. | By Caroline C

Comment 2: Well put Caroline! I cannot comment on how easy or difficult it is to open a business in Monrovia, my business is in Sierra Madre. I would hope though, that it is not a complicated process.

As far as your opinion on the police, you stated it better than I did. Thank you for capturing the essence of what police men and women contribute to the community. Police should be familiar to us in the community, not feared. | By Albert V

Comment 3: I agree that MAP must continue to empower residents but I think that an extremely high police presence isn't always the answer. I would say that targeted policing in high incidence areas would be more effective and still allow residents to feel safe without a sense of being in a police state. | By Rick P

Comment 2: Monrovia should expand its use of reserve police officers, who are essentially free volunteers. Many cities in the area use Level II reserve police officers, in addition to full time and "Level I" officers (who have essentially the same training as full-timers). Monrovia only uses Level I reserves. Level II officers, while less trained, work under the direct supervision of a full-time officer. This provides more flexibility and manpower for emergencies and high priority calls on which a response might otherwise wait for additional cars. The Level II academy is shorter and more attractive to other-wise fully employed professionals (the Level I academy is 11 months long 3 nights a week & weekends and allows almost no absences, a practical impossibility for a working person with a family). Opening MPD to Level II officers will provide the City more staffing at reduced cost, eventually allowing the same budget to go to fewer full-time officers, thus improving their compensation, | By Robert P

Idea Title: Residential Parking Permits

Idea Detail: I love how much we are not like some of our foothill community neighbors, but I would like to submit a proposal for us to consider a nominal ($25) annual fee for on-street overnight residential parking. Potentially no parking on the street from say 2:00 - 5:00am without a permit. It could be added annually to our water bills - no additional costs incurred for new paperwork, etc., etc,

This could have multiple benefits:

- * potential to assist with crime reduction
- * reduction in unwanted cars staying in one place for days on end
- * city based income to contribute directly to city based expenses

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

Have guests staying with you and they'll be parking on the street? Sierra Madre has (had?) a reasonable workflow...

- * you call the police station
- * give the make, model, license plate of the car
- * tell them the amount of time they are staying with you
- * receive a fee-free overnight permit [pretty sure i remember this correctly]

What do you all think?

Comment 1: Back on 12-4-12, I sent an email to Monrovia Chief of Police, Chief Hint with 3 questions. First, do parking permits help to reduce crime? Secondly, do permits help in keeping cars from parking, long term and finally, are permits helpful to police in identifying "suspicious" vehicles?

His response was to say that parking permits is complicated in Monrovia. Many of our older homes were built at a time when people didn't have multiple cars so off-street parking is not available and would burden some of these families.

To the question of parking permits as a crime deterrent, Chief Hunt said that it has some merit. To the issue of long term parking, permits don't help. The city has a 72 hour limit and residents should call police to report abandoned vehicles, the police will mark the vehicle to begin the 72 hour time frame. Lastly, permits were used in the past for "high-crime" areas but since improvement of these areas, permits rarely help the police.

But all SFR districts should have a no overnight parking policy, (USE YOUR DRIVEWAY, that's what it's for!) Comment 5: You mentioned the benefits:

- * potential to assist with crime reduction
- * reduction in unwanted cars staying in one place for days on end
- * city based income to contribute directly to city based expenses

But let's break it down. I wonder how much crime would be reduced by adding a parking fee? Just how would a parking permit reduce crime?

As for unwanted cars, the city already has a 72 hour limit. If this is not being enforced now, how would a permit improve enforcement?

Money? Sure the City gets a few more dollars and the residents get what for it? This strikes me a solution looking for a problem.

| By David B

Comment 6: Hi David –

- * cars without the permit are easier to spot and draw suspicion to themselves merely by not having a sticker.
- * cars have a 72 hour limit only after you've notified the police - they then go mark the car (we recently went through the motions on this very issue - we went away for a week-long holiday. we came back and one of our neighbors told us that the mysterious car parked in front of our house had been there for a total of four days. if the car had a permit, we at least would know whether it belongs to a resident or not and can begin the process of getting in contact with them and finding out the details of the car. | By Heather D

Comment 7: Heather, Is this your motivation? A single mysterious car? As for finding out the information, the police only need the VIN# or License plate and the City would be prevented to disclose any of the permit information to you by law. (GLB)

Like I said before, we have the existing parking laws, just call the police and let them do their job. It makes no sense to create more bureaucracy, added regulations and even more staff to fix a problem the police already know how to solve. | By David B

Comment 8: David, As I looked into the question of parking permits helping to reduce crime, many cities say the same thing. Yes it does.

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

The idea is a good one but comes with some difficulties in implementation when it comes to the specifics of our city. Such as, some of the homes in our city don't have off-street parking available. The fees other cities charge are around $80 (Arcadia and Sierra Madre.) Heather provided the great idea of a multi-car discount and I will add that permits be less expensive for the residents who don't have off-street parking as an option.

I have left a voice mail for the Parking Enforcement Department at the city to ask their opinion on the subject as well as sending an email to Chief Hunt asking his opinion about crime reduction as aided by parking permits. I look forward to reporting back.

Hot topic Heather!! | By Albert V

Comment 9: hi all -

moderation is the key i think - going city wide in our particular instance is probably not the correct answer to start this endeavor. to introduce this and then expand upon it as needs arise could be the more successful route (as the commercial vehicles will probably migrate to areas that are not permitted).

...for families needing a permit for more than one car, the city could offer a discount for cars 2+. I won't suggest what that actual reduction in fee would actually be per car, but if you had three cars, maybe the total annual cost would be no more than say $60?

thoughts? | By Heather D

Comment 10: Good thinking Heather! The multi-car pricing is great! Also, good thoughts on the moderation . What if the parts of Monrovia that have the mix of residential with business be one of the starting places and the permits be required to business vehicles? The second area of Monrovia to consider for permits, be the parts of Monrovia that have the most police service calls? | By Albert V

the opportunity to share our idea so others can respond giving our City Council a direct line to the opinions of its residents!

Yours is a good idea. I clicked on the links you provided and the Sierra Madre link shows an $84 yearly fee. That is enough for me to say, too high. If an overnight parking permit were started, I thought $25 was way more reasonable. That being said, I am still concerned for the households that would be forced to purchase 2 to 3 permits a year. | By Albert V

Comment 14: Permit parking would take away all the commercial vehicle parking that is flooding the residential neighborhoods. If permit parking was to happen it would have to be city wide. | By Larry S

Comment 15: On the surface this sounds good and the benefits are definitely worthy. I am uncertain, however, how many residents would still be forced to park their cars on the street because they may not have off-street parking available to them. If a good number of cars remain on the street,

*Will cars without a permit really stand out?

*A household with 2 or 3 cars will pay a steep price to park in front of their own homes

Sorry for playing "devil's advocate." Heather, it sounds like you have more experience with resident parking permits than I do and it seems like it was a manageable program. | By Albert V

Comment 16: I completely welcome the reply - this is where we're supposed to figure this stuff out.

...the only knowledge I'll claim is having lived in both Pasadena and Sierra Madre, I'm familiar with the "no parking overnight on the streets" situation. It is a revenue generator some of our sister cities have had in play for a while.

<http://www.cityofpasadena.net/transportation/ParkingServices/>

<http://www.cityofsierramadre.com/departments/police-department/141-overnight-parking>

To get specific: in Sierra Madre (a few years ago) a sticker was handed out with the purchase of said permit. We were instructed to place it in the left side of our rear window so it's visible from the street (and police cars passing by).

...and yes, we do have some areas where cars are on the street for a variety of reasons. | By Heather D

Comment 17: Parking permits for my own personal vehicles in front of my property

2. Cities that want and think they need more control over your personal life.

Comment 1: Beautify the city and have good looking and clean streets will definitely improve pride amongst neighbors, it will also increase housing values! | By Tony H

Comment 2: I would like to put an end to street-cleaning restrictions in Monrovia. Each of us can sweep in front of our houses as was done in the past. I have lived in San Pedro where there is no cleaning-based parking restrictions. The streets looked fine.

I would like to see some attention paid to the lack of sidewalks above Foothill. Children must walk down the street on Ocean View, Valley View, and Mountain View, for example. Mountain, above Ocean View, has no sidewalks. This makes walking unsafe. A woman was killed walking on Mountain some years, I am told. She was a resident of a home on Valley View.

Rather than re-pave Mountain a few years ago, which I failed to see the need for at the time, the city should have worked with property owners and used the money to help make the city safe for walking. Walking is a big factor in mental and physical health: walkability is an asset to any city. | By Caroline C

Comment 3: This post is really 3 different ideas. I second the first part about street sweeping. Our city could consider street sweeping only in the areas that are non-residential.

I like this idea because it puts the responsibility of "pride in our neighborhoods," back on the residents.

Unfortunately, the city will have to bear the cost of making new ordinances regarding parking as well as parking sign removal and/or sign reprinting. Lastly, the city would have to figure out if the savings is greater than the revenue from parking tickets. | By Albert V

Comment 4: There are state laws requiring the sweeping of streets. When streets are swept they deposit lots of junk in the storm water systems. Cities are tasked with cleaning the streets prior to that junk getting deposited into the storm water system.

Idea Detail: Most street lights in Monrovia are High Pressure Sodium type lamps. If these lamps were converted to LED type lamps, the City would realize huge energy savings and a relatively short payback period for the cost of the upgrade. Idea Title: Build Business Idea Detail: Advertising for a product needs to be constant and ever present. McDonald's is the perfect example of this. The same is true for awareness. The Ad Council (www.adcouncil.org) is very good at bringing awareness to our national needs through TV ads and also in print.

A "Shop Monrovia" campaign that is visible all around town as well as a focus of outreach beyond our city limits is very much needed. Around town, an ever changing (every quarter?) visual that keeps the message fresh is a must.

Cable providers can do target marketing by airing commercials on TV in targeted, localized areas. The message can be used to draw consumers and new business.

Our very own KGEM TV can help to get the word out. KGEM is a non-profit and is available to people who live, work or go to school in Monrovia. So we can have everything from interns getting the message out to the more experienced getting the word out. Maybe we can even have a California Gold, Huell Howser type show that focuses on what local businesses provide in products and in services!

So many ways to have fun and get creative with this. Isn't time to think outside the box?

Comment 1: Hello Albert,

Thank you very much for your thoughtful response. Marketing Monrovia is a key element to attracting businesses to our City and getting people to shop here, and while we have been exploring ways in which to encourage this, we agree that more can and should be done.

Unfortunately, some of our creativity has been stifled by lack of funding. For example, up until a year ago, the City was in fact working with KGEM on a program called City Beat. It was a great project that brought awareness to different businesses and promoted KGEM. We invite you to check out these segments at <http://kgem.tv/category/monrovia/original/mon-city-beat/> and if you see the value, perhaps you can offer some recommendations on how to fund it in the future. Alternatively, we are open to ideas on how to improve the show, as well.

We are open to any other ideas that may lead to the strengthening of our business community in Monrovia. | By Laurie L

Comment 2: Hi Laurie, Thank you for your comments and for taking the time to look up the link you provided.

I am familiar with City Beat and definitely see its value.

I am aware that the city cannot spare the time of the staff members that have been used for the on-camera talent. As well, KGEM-TV doesn't have the personnel to regularly produce the show either so this sounds like a great volunteer project.

I personally, have experience in producing programs at KGEM-TV and may be willing to help with the effort. Also, there are volunteers that can be asked to help with the production. One suggestion I have is to feature two businesses per show.

In return, the featured businesses can print web links to their video on their own promotional materials. The show can be used to educate new and current customers about the use of products and to provide information about services.

The second business will have additional exposure from the traffic drawn to the links and the show runs on KGEM-TV. | By Albert V

Comment 3: Getting the word out about how important business is to small shops and how important sales taxes are to the city. At the same time, create a "Call To Action" about making purchases in Monrovia. We could make it a simple statement, something like, "Buy it in Monrovia"

Getting the word out could be simply printed sheets of paper in all the store front windows, inexpensive ads in our local paper (Monrovia Weekly,) a mention at all city council meeting, KGEM-TV PSAs. We could partner with the schools to create the store front sheet of paper and maybe the kids can earn community services hours for distributing the sheets of paper to the businesses.

Idea Title: Remove destructive trees and save on trimming costs

Idea Detail: Back when Monrovia was being built, landscapers did not pay much attention to the types of trees that were planted on the public streets. Typically fast growing and inexpensive was the only criteria. Myrtle Avenue, north of Foothill is a prime example of poor planning. We have three blocks of Chinese Elm trees that have destroyed the sidewalks and sewers and seedlings pop up in the front yards. Every year when I see the tree trimmers spending weeks to trim these enormous trees, I think of all the money the city could be saving by removing them and plant Crape Myrtle trees (or something similar) that would save us from future annual trimmings and damage to the sidewalks. I am a tree lover and truly do not support removal of trees, however we would save lots of money if we took pro active approaches on these destructive trees and we would also have a bit of sunshine to celebrate on the street.

Idea Author: kathleen F

Number of Seconds 4

Number of Comments 3

Comment 1: These elms live up to 100 years. That's 100 years of tree trimming. Waiting for them to naturally die will not happen soon and there is more concern of them uprooting and damaging people, cars and homes. These trees are very INVASIVE read below.

Here is the definition of these trees : Chinese elm Ulmus parvifolia is a native tree of Japan, Korea and China. The tree is also commonly known as lacebark elm and Drake elm. Chinese elm is classified as an invasive species in certain areas of the United States, given its ability to reseed prolifically and upset native plant growth.

| By kathleen F

Comment 2: Chinese Elms don't belong stuck in between four feet of soil between curbs and sidewalks. But it would be a shame to cut them down while they're healthy and thriving. Perhaps as they die they could be replace with more suitable trees with an equally large canopy. Maybe we should set a goal of planting less invasive species and more native species. | By Scott R

Comment 3: I agree 100%. There are street trees on Shamrock, just below Foothill, that would be majestic specimens if they'd been in the right place and unmolested by humanity. As it is, they have been pollarded (had their limbs chopped off) to keep them to an unrealistic size. Just plant Feijoa! I hope the local tree lovers and any local trained arborists can weigh in on this. It might not be as expensive as it sounds. Perhaps some lumber can be salvaged and sold from older trees deemed unfit. A city-wide tree survey would be nice to have. Volunteers could do it. | By Caroline C

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

Shop Monrovia is an excellent way to keep our local dollars local. How would you recommend the City market the Shop Monrovia Campaign more effectively? | By Laurie L

Comment 2: I propose a few approaches.

- * A lawn sign similar to the "Shop Monrovia," "Shop where your home is" campaign from just a couple of years ago. Have the sign made locally (B&H Sign?) and make the sign available for a low cost to all residents who wish to help their city and their merchants

- *Post the "Shop Monrovia" message and the lawn sign option on the city's website

- *Post the Message/lawn sign on the city's FaceBook page

- *KGEM-TV

- *Send the message/lawn sign option in each water bill

- *Easy and low cost, copy-paper, printed sheet that can be displayed in each store-front window, in every business in Monrovia (not just Myrtle Avenue.)

- *Make the printable page available on the city's website

- *"Sell" the lawn signs at the Monrovia Family Festival

Comment 3: Thank you for taking the time to provide your feedback. Breaking the dependency from Sacramento and Washington D.C is something to consider. To date, the City

Appendix B: Mind-Mixer Responses

mostly benefits through state and federal grants and support. However, these grants are getting more and more competitive and the reporting / auditing measures are getting more and more stringent. This means that they are getting more costly to administer in relation to staff time spent on administering and competing for these grants. Now is the time to stop depending on state/federal funding which evidently are diminishing at rapid speeds, and to begin focusing on aligning the City's local resources to the services provided. By creating this alignment and setting priorities on services and projects, the City will begin to rely more on its local resources to provide local services. However, it is important to note that regional projects will still require collaboration with State and Federal support. | By Laurie L

Comment 4: How would this impact the City? What sort of benefits would we lose? We're not Industry or San Marino. I doubt we could cut all funding ties from the State without severely impacting services and infrastructure improvements. | By Scott R

Comment 5: I completely appreciate this statement. I actually "like" paying taxes, it is patriotic and a good deal. We get a lot for our money. This being said, I don't want to pay any more than I already do.

To help us break away from the dependency of "free money," we need solutions! Therefore, I challenge all Monrovia residents to commit to shopping within our city limits as much as possible. Monrovia relies on the sales tax we all currently pay so let's keep it here! For instance, I purchase (almost) every drop of the gasoline our household uses within Monrovia. Also in our city, we eat at the restaurants, buy clothing and home goods, we've purchased furniture and so on...

So I propose that the city continue the "Shop Monrovia" campaign only delivered with a lot more information to the public about how much our city relies on sales tax as a source of income. Did you know? Sales tax accounts for 28% of Monrovia's revenue, that's our 2nd largest source of revenue, 2nd only to property tax! | By Albert V

Idea Title: Rethink the Purpose of the Library

Idea Detail: I voted for the bond for the new Library but almost didn't because I wasn't sure what the purpose of a library is in a digital age, when vast arrays of information are available by computer and ebook. Comment 1: We appreciate the digital age comments from the Community. Libraries are constantly evolving to meet the needs of their respective communities and are a vital resource in navigating digital information and misinformation. The Monrovia Public Library is more than a building and books, it is a community place providing 24/7 information through online subscription services, classes on careers and businesses, access to the Internet through Wi-Fi and computers, volunteer involvement and literacy programming for children through adults. The Library continues to be a place that fills the imagination and provokes great conversation.

I regularly use my personal computer and google is definitely my go-to resource for knowledge. The digital age (computers) has made me a better writer and my cell phone has enhanced my desire to read. Now, armed with my new library card, I will look into e-books and newspapers that I can checked out online and I am proud to know a little more about the other services the library offers. It is definitely time to "Rethink the Purpose of the Library," not in if we need it, but how we can incorporate it in our lives! | By Albert V

Comment 8: A library is more than a collection of books, it's a repository for knowledge, history and a resource center open to everyone. That said, the digital age is making the justification for a huge edifice a bit tougher but the internet only has a small percentage of information digitized and Google (plus other search engines) have yet to index 30% of all web site pages.

positive way, as it has been doing the past few years. As a librarian myself, we are all keenly aware of the evolving role of the library and what that means to the community as a whole. Of course, in order to best meet the needs of the community, funding is required. It may take time, but I believe Monrovia Public Library is very aware of how they can best serve the community and the role it will take in the future. | By Lyda T

Comment 10: I wasn't suggesting the City Council or Library staff is untrustworthy, but I thought the city was asking for residents thoughts on priorities, so I gave one.

But since you are a librarian, what are your thoughts on the role of the library in a digital age? | By Brad H

Comment 12: Well, I don't work for the library in Monrovia, but public libraries world-wide are redesigning their infrastructure to be more compatible with the digital age. Where I work, we've invested a large portion of our book budget into e-books that can be downloaded to Kindles or iPads, and operate just like a standard library book. It's been a challenge working with publishers to allow licensing for that, but it's finally something that's gained more solid footing.

Public libraries are also serving more of a public service capacity, offering classes and programs serving the betterment of the community. I know Monrovia has offered an All Day Job Seekers workshop that had a full house in attendance. Additionally, there are still large portions of the population that need help familiarizing themselves with all that computers and the internet have to offer, and the library is the perfect place to learn this information. | By Lyda T

Comment 13: So while libraries will no longer solely be book repositories, librarians are keenly aware of the need to evolve and provide services that reflect changes in the information subculture. That's what I mean by trusting the people at the library. They know. It just sometimes takes time to execute certain plans, and bond measures certainly help expedite the process! So thanks for the vote! | By Lyda T

Comment 14: I really like the idea of loaning books using Kindle or iPad. A basic Kindle these days only costs $69, and I'll bet the price comes down even more, making it affordable for more and more people. | By Brad H

People who cannot afford internet service can go to the library to use computers as well as use their own computers to log in to the free Wi-Fi.

Librarians are our best resource to find legitimate reference material that can be cited on college and professional level writings, test proctors, literacy programs, e-reader book loans etc.

Idea Detail: I was happy to see that the 2 previous ideas were both about Monrovia's schools. I would like to remind the City Council and Monrovia residents of an important school that is part of Monrovia Unified School District: Monrovia Community Adult School. At a time when budget cuts have led to the closing of many California adult schools, we need local recognition of and support for this valuable resource in Monrovia's community. Our adult school provides lifelong learning opportunities to help adults reach their educational, training, career, and personal goals. We help integrate immigrants into our society by providing low-cost English language instruction. English-proficient immigrants, in turn, lead to higher-achieving students in our K-12 system as those immigrants' children attend our public schools. I urge the City Council to include Monrovia Community Adult School as a priority in its future plans for our city.

Idea Detail: Since Benjamin Franklin was the father of the concept of the public library system in America. I think it would be great idea to have a bronze statue of Benjamin Franklin to honor this visionary of public education and literacy.

I think the statue should be similar in sytle to the one of Mark Twain we already have at the park.

Comment 2: I love the idea of recognizing the artistic contributors in our area. Since we are talking about the Library, what if we had a "Writer's Wall" or "Local Writers?" Comment 4: I really like the idea of making our area more friendly with the artistic communities, however I personally would be more in favor of this (given our current $$ crunch) if someone who lives locally, and does this professionally, would consider donating their time and efforts towards such an item. A small plaque could be included from the city to mention the artist, which could lead to future commissioned work?

To broaden the scope of this idea a bit further, could there be a way to implement an area within Library Park which could features local artisans? Maybe also the hallways or lobbies within the library, police station and city hall for artwork in need of shelter? This has the possibility of making our community pretty unique...

in our neighborhoods. It creates a high density that the city was not designed for, crowded streets and lower-income renters that don't properly maintain their property. Any nice neighborhood in Monrovia is a SFR district. I recently went to purchase a home above Foothill near Magnolia and the next door neighbor had a back house and 5 cars parked on the property (ghetto!) The front house was charming but the overall feel of the area made me feel like I was living on an apartment street again (obviously not what you want to feel when you are looking to buy a half million dollar + house in N. Monrovia). Look at what happened to N.W. Pasadena neighborhoods. The city let the back-house construction and house division go unchecked. DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO OUR NEIGHBORHOODS!

Comment 1: Stop building 50 unit complexes where only one or two homes used to stand. The parking, noise, traffic is becoming unbearable for the current homeowners. Putting in signal lights does not alleviate the traffic, it only causes people to speed down what once was a safe street in order to "make the light." Very poor planning on the City's part. Idea Title: Ticketing Speeding Motorists

Idea Detail: I have lived in Monrovia for 19 years and I have never seen it so bad. In the neighborhood from 5th to Mayflower and Foothill to Huntington where I live and there is anywhere from a 25 to 35 mph speed limits I've witnesses motorist traveling in excess of 50 mph, running stop signs, not allowing pedestrians to even get half way through a cross walk before they go flying behind them. Driving down Chestnut @ 30 mph I get motorist trying to pass me giving me finger jesters, and tail gating me while yelling profanity at me. WHY? Because I'm obeying the traffic laws. The City Of Monrovia really needs to step it up and start getting aggressive with these dangerous motorists. When the Arcadia Gold Line is in operation this behavior is only going to increase. Lets be proactive and not reactive and stop jeopardizing the safety of the residents in this area and the City Of Monrovia. Thanks for reading. Ken

Comment 1: YES! I live off the 2 block-long street called Hwy Esplanade. Its a shortcut from Huntington to Chestnut and when the 210 gets Huntington full here they come barreling down this small street at 40-50 mph. One child has already been hit on a bike and many animals have lost their lives from these speeders. I walk my dog there every morning and a lot of these speeders are even on their cell phone! (Ken, what a nice horse in the background of your photo... could it be Zenyatta?) | By Deda B

Comment 2: Great point Ken! I live on Magnolia Avenue, and cars charge down the street far in excess of the speed limit - and in front of a church and school no less (an accident or death waiting to happen). I see this as an excellent revenue opportunity for the city/police. Even if they needed to hire an additional officer to focus solely on speeders, the revenue would more than pay for the position, AND the city would gain additional revenue.

Most important, this would be a win-win for both the city and Monrovia's like you and I in that we would have a safer environment.

Cracking down on speeders would also save the city from lawsuits if a catastrophic event occurred related to speeding. Sadly people have often sued collaterally when this type of thing happens. | By Tony W

If you look at Monrovia's demographics from the 2010 census, out of 36,590 people, 19,815 are 35 and older, that's 54% of the population, 31% are 50 and older. I'm just guessing here, but I'll bet that we are not the core demographic for a premium internet service with a very high initial infrastructure build-out cost. The bottom line here is I'd love it, and would be willing to pay $150/mo for super fast, RELIABLE, internet access, but I suspect that I am in the minority. Idea Title: EDUCATION!!

Idea Detail: In my very first post to PlanMonrovia.org, I stated my ideas about a few things on one post so I want to re-post my thoughts about education.

Whatever and however we need to do to make the Monrovia Unified School District the coveted school district in the San Gabriel Valley, will benefit us all.

It starts with a "more-than-we-need" police presence as we seek a school system that has a proven record for genuinely improving schools and enacting that system. One school system that we can inquire about is the TAP program. The link to learn more is <http://youtu.be/OZ3w1iFBPxA>

We may or may not qualify but we can at least explore the idea.

The reason for the police presence is that when people who are interested in criminal activity are constantly confronted, they will leave Monrovia and a higher caliber of citizen moves in for the schools.

Community continues and business improves.

Idea Title: MORE SALES TAX PLEASE!

Idea Detail: Sales Tax REVENUE that is!

We can ask our city leaders, the Chamber of Commerce and local businesses to support our city, but the responsibility to keep Monrovia prosperous is ultimately a shared responsibility between our community leaders and the city's residents!

Did you know? Our city primarily makes its money from property taxes which are remaining flat and sales tax revenue which is second. Sales tax revenue is the quickest, least expensive way to help our city raise the funds it needs so urgently.

Comment 7: That's right. I work in one area but travel to the next for lunch and other purchases because they have less tax. if they have higher tax I will travel down the road to pay less for bigger purchases no doubt. | By Lynn D

Comment 8: Thanks for commenting on this post and please allow me to clarify. I am NOT suggesting a higher tax rate. I AM challenging Monrovia to help increase tax revenue for our great city by making a strong effort to make purchases we are already making, WITHIN OUR CITY LIMITS.

Shopping locally means:

- *Helping businesses keep their doors open and keeping our small and large business districts prosperous

- *Financially strong businesses are more likely to support the community in sponsoring youth programs or charitable organizations or community events like the upcoming New Years Eve celebration in Old Town Monrovia

The benefits to shopping locally are really, too numerous to list here.

Shopping locally ultimately creates higher sales tax revenue for the city and gives Monrovia pride in supporting their community!

"Read my lips, NO NEW TAX RATE!" So, with that in mind, "ask not what your city can do for you, but what you can do for your city!"

Idea Title: Crosswalks with no light should have more visibility for drivers

Idea Detail: I have seen in several towns where they have a crosswalk with no light where the pedestrians can press a button and little lights in the street light up to alert drivers that someone is crossing. There are several places in town I think this would help save lives. For instance on Mountain just below Foothill there is a crosswalk with no light and also one for schoolchildren across Foothill near Ivy/Canyon. Another location I can think of is on Shamrock at Lime Ave. I would feel a lot safer crossing if there was some better indication that drivers could see that someone is trying to cross.

FYI, years ago when I first moved to Monrovia I saw someone hit and killed at the crosswalk on Mountain so I know that this has been an ongoing issue especially at night as it is hard to see the crosswalk lines sometimes.

All the neighbors go 40 - 50 miles per hour by the time they pass my house just to get to Hillcrest. Idea Title: Inter-City Purchasing Idea Detail: I wonder if it would make sense for various local cities to purchase specialized equipment and services together.

For example, Monrovia has a septic tank pumping truck and Arcadia has another. Do both cities really need their own? Perhaps the two cities should jointly purchase such specialized equipment, and then share it.

I don't mean to focus on septic tank trucks. That is just an example. Perhaps there is enough work to keep both of them busy. But my point is that there may be SOME kinds of equipment and services that are idle much of the time and could easily be shared among multiple local cities, or between cities and school districts, saving all jurisdictions some money.

The only way to keep our children from addiction is to convince them that nicotine decides for itself who becomes addicted; that addicts are people who lose their ability to "not think about smoking."

I don't know how to promote this. But I do not believe that current warnings prevent children from becoming addicted to nicotine. If the warnings worked, no child would be an addict, right? City of Hope would be half the size. (I was a patient there for a smoking-related cancer. I had become addicted at age 15 and smoked for 7 years. The cancer arrived 35 years later.)

"For Monrovia to have a no-kill shelter for dogs and cats."

The city's parks are embarrassing. For a city with such a large number of children and families, I expect better.

The only safe one is Library Park and it closes one night a week (my toddler has been thrown out before because it's "unsafe" on Fridays). Additionally, why does it take five-six city employees to throw toddlers out of a park? What "unsafe" act was he going to do on a baby swing? You could save salary money and rent some lights on a Friday night if you are really only concerned about safety that day of the week. Kids use it the other days of the week without consequence.

The other two parks near us are unsafe every day. Olive Park is only safe if you are executing a drug deal or a teenager looking to kill time. The Rotary Park is in disrepair.

Recreation Park might be okay, but I would need to pass three others and walk close to a mile to get there (with a tantrum-ing toddler wondering why we aren't stopping at other parks).

Additionally, the parks aren't lit. That means that although I live in a climate the permits year-round playground time, my son can't partake all winter because it's too dark to use the parks by the time we get done with work. Install some lights.

Thanks.

--Andrew

Clearly, the city's top priority is revenue enhancement. Cities are experiencing declining revenues from all sources. One of these sources is tax revenue from local businesses but this source declines due to the economic situation citizens face. Not only are citizens facing high unemployment and stagnating salaries but they are taxed and taxed by Federal, State and local agencies. Where are citizens to go for the extra money?

A city needs to analyze the requirements on its citizens and to work to alleviate the costs these requirements impose. One example is the requirement to clear yards of trees to comply with fire department mandates. I for example have to spend up to $2000 a year in order to comply. Is this really necessary? I understand the homes up on the foothill where fire is more imminent but this is not the same below the foothills. Perhaps a stratified requirement would make more sense. A reassessment of this policy may allow citizens to retain more disposable income that can support the local businesses and increase the revenue to the city. There may be other mandates that impose costs on the citizens.

Miguel Ortiz-Marroquin

Hello!

I commend your efforts to reach out to the community for input but I have some concerns:

1) Very few citizens are educated in urban planning/public policy so I'm concerned the feedback you receive may be uninformed. To that end, I recommend a 'big picture' education campaign that explains the financial system, both direct and indirect, and how local investments/policy can affect HHS budgets at the state and federal levels - which can affect how much funding those legislatures send our way in grants and other local program funding. For example, making attractive alternatives that keep young males from joining gangs or using drugs, saves the state $51,000 per year in incarceration related costs. I'd be willing to bet that the public, if they are well educated will support expenditures that are prudent investments and or reduce future operating costs - The living streets manual may be a helpful tool <http://www.modelstreetdesignmanual.com/>

2) Parents of children involved in sports will be very challenged to participate; sports consume at least 6 hours per week, per sport, per child and conflict with public meeting times.

3) Perhaps a hand-picked working-group that specifically seeks diversity and expertise would be a worthwhile effort?? And when I say hand-picked, I don't mean friends of the council or commissioners, I mean, old and young folks with backgrounds in sports, education, transportation, law and finance, just to name a few.

4) Showcase what our neighbors are doing; Duarte has opened new trails and significantly improved their parks, Pasadena has fitness events on almost a weekly basis, Downtown Los Angeles has transformed itself in less than 10 years - It's now the cool place for a young professional to live! I have some concerns that Monrovia is slipping in our lead in relation to our neighbors.

Thanks.

Chris Ziegler

I'm very interested in planning for Monrovia's future but meetings that start at 7pm and drag on with big gaps in discussion are beyond my capacity .I hope you can accept my proposals via e-mail.

My proposals focus on the morale of the community. This would include a continuance of the work you've already initiated to strengthen Old Town plus the importance of bringing back a major Monrovia Day celebration with its emphases on community, volunteerism and Monrovia's history and organizations. While City staff are valuable contributors to Monrovia's future, if organizations can be encouraged to contribute to the community and their own welfare by producing the parade, developing their own floats, putting on a community breakfast and a community fair with emphasis on their own fundraising, the results would be increased attention to the community, extra funds for the organization and more fun and participation for the community as a whole. For at least 70 years of my life, this was the Monrovia Day I knew.

While I'm very interested in bringing back Monrovia's past, I'm equally interested in retaining part of Monrovia's present. It is my perception that our Police and Fire departments do an excellent job of taking care of us and I hope that lowered City income doesn't decrease that care
On the other hand, lower City staffing might be mitigated, for non-safety activities, by increased organizational and individual volunteerism

Thanks for your good attitude and excellent work

Betty

If Monrovia can spare the expense, it will go a long way toward making the city more beautiful (and up-to-date) if it moved the telephone wires underground like many of the more upscale communities. While we're at it, let's wire the city for fiber optics so that we can all enjoy first-rate internet and cable TV service. Many thanks. - Roy

The most important thing I can think of is Safety.

The most unsafe area is Foothill Blvd., between 5th Street and Mayflower, then from Mayflower to Myrtle.

The street lane painting is gone. On rainy days there is none visible so that as you drive along swerving from right to left and then back again at each intersection, you have to pray that the person driving in the lane next to you is aware of where the lanes should be. I have had more than one instance where another car has veered into my lane because he couldn't see the lane markings.

While in England back in 1956 on the blackest night in a thunderstorm you could see the lane markings for 1/4 mile ahead as they had reflectors at about 5 ft. intervals. This was long before Bott's dots were heard of here in the US. Here we put a reflector about every 50 ft. then paint over them at the first opportunity.

I have spoken to the Maintenance Dept. to no avail, maybe Plan Monrovia can make the street safe again.

Don't let businesses sit vacant too long!! Especially the old Acapulco Rest.!!! Get someone in there!!!! Like and In-N-Out or another nice rest, like a Yard House or something!! It makes Monrovia look run down when buildings are vacant!! Lower the parking tickets prices or lengthen the times!! It is just not fair to those of us who work here!!!

Appendix C: Email/Web Site Responses

Did we really need another Jack-in-the Box???? That was stupid!! The people who live and work here should be able to vote on the businesses that come in here!! Especially restaurants.

* FIX THE ELEVATOR DOOR ON THE 3RD FLOOR OF THE "COLORADO COMMONS" PARKING STRUCTURE!!!! IT WON'T CLOSE AND SOMETIMES IT WON'T OPEN!!!!!! HELP!!!

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS FROM WORKSHOPS

January 12, 2013 Workshop

- Would like to get involved in senior services and parent education and homeless projects.
- My table's participants generated fabulous ideas. However, in listing these, the "list" became general. We are concerned that the City Council will not understand what concerned us. A community task force should be appointed (random names – not Council friends) to elaborate on what the community means by these general topics. Implementation of what we want is key, not just broad-brushing general topics.
- Build a volunteer liaison between schools and businesses. Keep community services; youth programs.
- If Monrovia city has land available for development of senior 55/over housing condo and SFR style similar to Del Webb, Harkanian style in Palm Desert, Banning, Hemet: can produce income, taxes, fees for developers. Provide green housing for 55 and older. San Gabriel homeowners ready to sell current homes to move close by instead of having to move to other locations away from doctors, dentists, entertainment, churches and eating establishments we have come to enjoy!
- Pallets on wheels for mobile gardens. Trash for charity for tax write-off for businesses. Green energy and conservation plan for business with a partnership will all utility companies. End support for 710 freeway extension. Support a strategic fund to protect the California Aqueduct system.
- There are many people who would be happy to participate in volunteer programs.
- Problem: Better getting out the message – utility bills don't hit everyone (we pay electronically and don't see a stuffer); condo owners/renters will never see them; facebook/twitter, etc. don't hit everyone; we only saw this because of taking a class and the great flyer/card. Border areas don't get one.
Suggestion: Have a community board where there is a city sign or have a banner across major streets at borders and other places.

Problem: Stop the direct assessments.

Suggestion: Save for schools – make part of funding go to this.

Problem: Lost businesses because of economy. Don't want things to start going down.

Suggestion: Help maintain businesses by improving business plan, etc.

Problem: No recycling for group living.

Suggestion: Recycling for multi-family – understand the mandates affect when they go in.

Appendix E: Other Sources

Problem: No street lights in some areas.

Suggestion: Street lights.

Problem: Don't have staff to do things.

Suggestion: Volunteer programs or Sierra College – get credit and then have to help out.

Problem: Outlying areas aren't as well represented (municipal services – who handles?).

Expect everyone to go to Old Town. There is a [illegible] for border areas and the south of Monrovia.

Suggestion: Have youth activities, or other functions, in areas outside Old Town.

December 11, 2012 Community Workshop

- I believe local employment is critically important to the overall long-term health of Monrovia. We need some effort put toward local workforce investments.

November 28, 2012 Commission Workshop

- One more comment: I think we need to do a better job of getting utility companies responsive to our needs. SCE needs to replace equipment that causes fires in the foothills. So Cal Gas needs to service gas shut-offs at homes. Please read our City web site re: earthquakes and gas shut-offs. We're instructing people to do what they can't – the shut-offs are frozen due to a lack of maintenance!

CITY FOCUS

SAFETY

The first priority for any city is safety, which means an adequate, but reasonable and sensible, budget for police and fire services, determined by suggestions from the local services themselves, plus review and suggestions by knowledgeable people without connection to the local services.

INFRASTRUCTURE

An attractive city, obviously well maintained, will help to keep the citizens happy (or at least help minimize complaints) as well as help draw new residents and business. Infrastructure includes not only street repair, but cleanliness of streets and sidewalks, exterior and interior maintenance of buildings, especially those open to the public, well maintained and attractive decorative vegetation. The appearance of individual streets within a city adds to or detracts from the overall image (feeling) of that city.

CITIZENS

As part of SAFETY above, and to prepare future citizens to add a positive dimension to what we would all like our city to be, we need to concentrate on the young people growing up in Monrovia, assuming that many of them, and perhaps most of them, will continue to live in Monrovia when they are on their own.

Young people need outlets for their energy when they are not in school, and those outlets need to be positive physically, intellectually, and emotionally. In other words, those outlets need to contribute to making them thinking people with a decent set of values that will contribute to helping them develop into the kind of citizens that will help make this city, or any other city, a desirable place to live. We need to try to keep them out of gangs! It would be wonderful if their parents could assume all, or most, of that responsibility, but that does not always seem to be the case. Though this may not seem like our responsibility as a city, it is what needs to be done if we want our city to be the kind of city we all want to live in.

Boys and Girls Club, open school playgrounds with supervision during non-school time, discussion groups on topics of interest to various age groups, organized sports, free or minimal fee music lessons, other ideas?

Appendix E: Other Sources

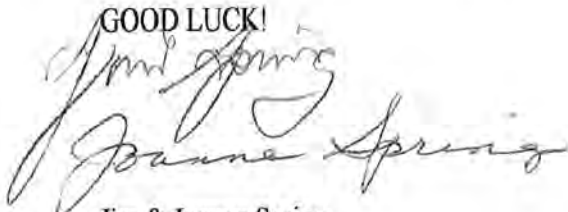

As well as the boys and girls who may become future citizens of Monrovia, many of the families of these children, and other families as well, could use some help. The city has already made an effort in this direction and should continue to do so. These families would probably benefit from free or minimal cost organized social activities that would appeal to them and emphasized family values and family cohesiveness, especially the needs of the children in families in general without signaling out their particular family. Of course, you already know that!

PLAN MONROVIA

Yes, this will cost something, and maybe there are other priorities that seem more important or more immediate, but looking at the big picture and the long-range picture, it is difficult to come up with something that could have more benefit to our city than helping to develop the future members of our community.

As far as we can tell, you're doing a good job so far. Keep up the good work!

GOOD LUCK!

Monrovia resident for 14 years

Goals of the friends are to promote (even expand) and support the awesome services of our library and community literacy.

Which bring us to Station Square – commuters morning and evening – get on the train and what might many do – READ

How about a small branch library - small, open selected hours morning and afternoon – as part of Station Square.....Library Station?

If that's not possible the Friends offer their support in opening a small branch of the Friends Store at Station Square – staffed with volunteers. Have some general promise of volunteers from the southern part of the city.

We know there are lots of unsolved challenges, but Friends Board members also consider this a unique opportunity.

Might we work with staff to explore the possibility?

Happy to respond to any questions Council members might have at this point.

Dear Mary Ann,

With Station Square now a very real possibility, we would like to share an idea with you. How about a small branch library in the complex? Think of the benefits – moving another of the City's services to the southern part of the city and increasing awareness of all commuters of the City's resources. Yes, City resources are tight but the open hours of the facility should coincide with morning and early evening traffic allowing commuters to request, pick up, and return at the stop. Eventually, commuters would be able to download e-books at the site. Space about the size of the current Friends Store would be sufficient, perhaps even generous. We're able to display 400-500 books on our shelves. Take away some space for a counter and circulation equipment then add a return drop and you'd have a petite branch library!

If that's out of the question – or in conjunction with it – we'd like to add a small Friends of the Library Store. Again, the hours would be limited, but all staffing would be with volunteers. I've already heard rumors that they're waiting in the wings!

Friends' Board members will be delighted to speak in more detail with you or others. We think this is a unique opportunity for the City and we'd like to help. Do let us know when and how we can continue the conversation.

Best wishes from the Friends Board,

Stephen R. Baker, Nicoline Conway, Cathy Hartfield, Karen Hollinhurst, Laurel Hiestand, Juliana Otis, and Louise Robertson

This is a tough one.

How does a City increase the awareness of its' citizens?
When times really get tough, folks start paying attention.
Hit them in their "pocketbook" or, even remotely, threaten the children, and you will have their attention.

Encourage everyone to just take a walk around their neighborhood.....this can be very enlightening.
Walk your dog, pay attention.....you may notice homes in foreclosure. Is there anyone on your street or even around the corner who is not getting enough to eat?

Is there someone disabled who could use some help?

We are often too submerged in our daily life to even notice.....
This is really sad. Folks who are employed and receive regular paychecks may forget lots of residents are unemployed.

Let us not wait for an emergency to offer assistance, become aware of your more immediate surroundings. You might be surprised at the conditions that exist in your own neighborhood!

Unfortunately, our collective futures may not be too bright but,
volunteers are the life blood of a Community.
Sometimes, just a few hours per week can be of great assistance.
There is a lot going on in "our town". Check it out.

Time is more precious than money. Maybe you have a little time to give.
