Piesporter Michelsberg

Region : Mosel, Section : Middle Mosel

The wines of the Middle Mosel are considered the most complete examples of German wines with some of the finest examples being able to age gracefully for 50-100 years. Mosel Riesling rely on a strong presence of tartaric acid to balance the grape's sugar and to help impart its fruity notes. A characteristic of all Mosel wines is their normally high acidity and transparency of clearly defined flavors. The wines of the Mosel region are traditionally packaged in long green colored "hock style" wine bottle.
