God of love and God of life, we thank You for your blessings, especially the gift of life and the gift of faith.

Father, give us wisdom and courage and guide us as we call Your family here in Los Angeles to renewal.

Help us to raise up a new generation of missionary disciples to proclaim the good news of Your mercy and to serve our brothers and sisters in need.

Fill us with Your Spirit, that we might call Your sons and daughters to be priests and deacons and consecrated religious to dedicate their lives to You; that we might call Your Church to bring healing to the sick and love to the poor and those in prison; that we might call our young people to seek Your beautiful plan for their lives.

Father, give us all new excitement to follow Jesus and to serve You with all our hearts and all our strength. Increase our faith and give us confidence to offer You our gifts, our talents and our treasure — that we might find our true treasure in heaven with You.

Trusting in the tender love of our Blessed Mother, Queen of the Angels, we ask all this in the name of Your Son, Jesus Christ.

Amen.

Saint John Bosco

Saint John Bosco – January 31

John Bosco's theory of education could well be used in today's schools. It was a preventive system, rejecting corporal punishment and placing students in surroundings removed from the likelihood of committing sin. He advocated frequent reception of the sacraments of Penance and Holy Communion. He combined catechetical training and fatherly guidance, seeking to unite the spiritual life with one's work, study and play.

Encouraged during his youth in Turin to become a priest so he could work with young boys, John was ordained in 1841. His service to young people started when he met a poor orphan in Turin, and instructed him in preparation for receiving Holy Communion. He then gathered young apprentices and taught them catechism.

After serving as chaplain in a hospice for working girls, Don Bosco opened the Oratory of St. Francis de Sales for boys. Several wealthy and powerful patrons contributed money, enabling him to provide two workshops for the boys, shoemaking and tailoring.

By 1856, the institution had grown to 150 boys and had added a printing press for publication of religious and catechetical pamphlets. John's interest in vocational education and publishing justify him as patron of young apprentices and Catholic publishers.

John's preaching fame spread and by 1850 he had trained his own helpers because of difficulties in retaining young priests. In 1854, he and his followers informally banded together, inspired by Saint Francis de Sales.

With Pope Pius IX's encouragement, John gathered 17 men and founded the Salesians in 1859. Their activity concentrated on education and mission work. Later, he organized a group of Salesian Sisters to assist girls.

John Bosco educated the whole person—body and soul united. He believed that Christ's love and our faith in that love should pervade everything we do—work, study, play. For John Bosco, being a Christian was a full-time effort, not a once-a-week, Mass-on-Sunday experience. It is searching and finding God and Jesus in everything we do, letting their love lead us. Yet, because John realized the importance of job-training and the self-worth and pride that come with talent and ability, he trained his students in the trade crafts, too.
