

The major difference between epoxy and blade types is, epoxy technology is mounted from the bottom of the PCB, and blade is attached to the top of the PCB.

Epoxy type is more stable over time, than blade type. This example shows how they are mounted.

The process of designing the PCB is slightly different as we do not need to make a place to solder a blade to a board.

Alpha-Probes Inc.

719-520-5880 office 719-520-5882 fax alphaprobe@citystar.com