JB Fieldworks collaborated on this exciting urban in-fill project near downtown Boulder. The 3-story office building includes covered balconies around the perimeter to provide opportunities to take advantage of the mild Colorado weather and excellent views of the Flatirons. The landscape utilizes a combination of low-water plantings and a rain garden to manage the wild fluctuations of precipitation in Colorado. The site, adjacent to a multipurpose pedestrian/bicycle path, shows off a landscape with 4-season interest to delight passersby.
