

ANNUAL CARIBBEAN LECTURESHIP

11/12/2020

Dear ACL Attendee,

On behalf of the Regional Organizing Committee (ROC), I write to update you on some vital information regarding the Annual Caribbean Lectureship (ACL).

Driven by the need for proactive leadership, the ROC met to discuss how the present pandemic would likely impact the Annual Caribbean Lectureship that had been earlier postponed to 2021 in Jamaica. After deliberating on projections from various regional governments and international health organizations, it became evident that the COVID 19 virus would continue to pose a health risk to delegates and be a negative factor on the planning and staging of the fiftieth anniversary event.

Hence, we voted unanimously to postpone the lectureship in Jamaica to July 10th-13th, 2022. However, a one-day virtual event was decided on, details of which will be provided to you in a subsequent email.

We thank you for your support of the Annual Caribbean Lectureship in the past years, solicit your prayers as we plan this event amidst ever-changing factors, and look forward to your participation in the lectureship in 2022.

Warm regards,

Thaddeus Bruno,
Interim Chairman of ROC
