

The LOG CABIN

PRIVATE DINING

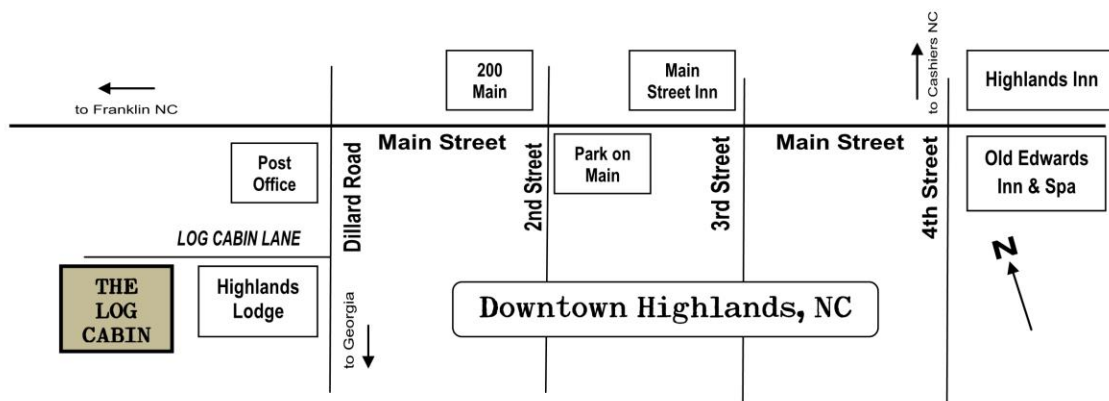

The Log Cabin offers multiple options for private dining and special events. Our restaurant is located in a historic log cabin built in 1924 by Joe Webb (1881-1950). A private residence until the late 1980's, the cabin has been transformed into one of Western North Carolina's most unique dining and event venues. Located at the end of Highland's Main Street, the Log Cabin is just minutes from a dozen of the area's finest hotels & B&Bs.

- Year round event venue for groups of 12 – 60
- Multiple dining areas with fireplaces and mountain views
- No deposit or fee for the use of private dining areas
- Custom menus by Chef Nicolo D'Angelo tailored to your groups needs & budget
- Unique atmosphere can accommodate relaxed, casual as well as formal events

A veteran of both coasts, Chef Nicolo D'Angelo has built and run kitchens around the country. He has applied his talents at the Log Cabin to create a menu that is both innovative and comfortable. Chef and his culinary team bring a style of food uniquely suited to please a broad audience, from casual to fine dining.

The standard of our friendly and professional service staff is no less than to provide the same service for 40 as for 4. The service staff is led by Jason Cancilla, a veteran of restaurants from Washington, DC to Houston, and most recently Asheville, NC's Grove Park Inn Resort and Spa. Jason's experience includes casual weddings and rehearsal dinners as well as events hosted by members of Congress, Vice Presidents and Presidents of the United States.
