

A Hundred Miles

Knowing our love has no bounds
You should never fear to stand your own ground
Because I'm standing behind you all the way
So if you ever fear that you have to say
You're scared of the day and you're scared of the night
You just want someone to make it all right

Yeah
I will
You know it

So if you're feeling strong enough
Just say what you feel
Stand up
Just stand up on your heels
But if you can't do it right now
I won't turn you away
Just save it
For another, stronger day

Freedom and "I need you" can coincide
This is what my heart feels inside
There's just too much negative
Try and think positive

You know if you try you can do anything
Just give it some effort
You'll get it happening

Let doubters beware and pessimists fall
Past their shady visions
You'll show them all
The light of life
Our numbers in smiles
You'll hold up your head
You'll run a hundred miles past them

Hold up your head
Just smile

So if you're feeling strong enough
Just say what you feel
Stand up
And if you can't do it right now
I won't turn you away
Just save it
For another, stronger day

Freedom and "I need you" can coincide
This is what my heart feels inside
There's just too much negative
Try and think positive

You know if you do you can be anything

Let doubters beware and pessimists fall
You'll show them all
You'll run a hundred miles
