CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 1, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- The directors and management of NanoSave Technologies Inc. (OTC PINK: NNSV) announced today that it posted Q1 2017 Financial results, which reflect the company's recent acquisition of the Viritron VDX, Viritron VPN and Viritron Mini Lab Patents. The company continues to expand rapidly, corporate accountants have indicated that the first quarter numbers were clearly positive and may have exceeded initial expectations. "We feel very strongly that our numbers will be a pleasant surprise as we have now operated a full quarter after combining the operating accounts of NanoSave Technologies Inc. and N1 Technologies Inc. into a consolidated financial statement, with assets and revenues from both companies hitting all time highs. We are looking forward to opening new markets in the bio technology arenas and streamlining all aspects of our operations," says Company CEO Steve Lovern. The company envisages these new Bio Tech Patents and Technologies as an exceptional opportunity for our investors going forward. NanoSave Technologies designs, develops, manufactures and markets a wide range of nano-engineered products. Q1 Financials:
