What is the Jennifer McColm Certification?

We strive to educate our farmers' market community on the importance of a green lifestyle and this extends into business.

Our goal is to make our farmers markets as low-impact as possible.

The Jennifer McColm Certification seal was created to show the community that our vendors are doing their part to improve their standards as a business and the effects on the environment that they have.

Our mission includes:

- FARM VISITS: we visit the farms that sell in our markets, meet the farmer & learn more about their growing practices.
- RESOURCE: we are a resource to guide you to the best green, sustainable products for your business. We do the research, get the best prices & point you in the right direction.
- EDUCATE: Sign up your email for valuable tools for your business. We share everything from easy, inexpensive DIY improvements for your booth to featuring the best new sustainable products.
- INSPIRE: We strive to keep you inspired! We feature the hottest vendors coming into the markets. If you would like to be considered please contact:
