RICOTTA MEATBALLS

1-inch thick slice bread
1/4 cup whole milk
1 pound ground beef (20-25 percent fat)
1/2 cup fresh ricotta cheese
1/3 cup freshly grated Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese, plus more for garnish
1 large egg
1 teaspoon finely grated lemon zest
1 teaspoon crushed red pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
1/2 tablespoon ground fennel
1 teaspoon kosher salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1/4 cup canola oil
Chopped oregano and flaky sea salt, for garnish

Cooking Instructions

In a bowl, soak the bread in the milk until the milk is absorbed, about 5 minutes.

In a large bowl, combine the beef, ricotta, Parmigiano, egg, lemon zest, crushed red pepper, parsley, fennel, kosher salt and black pepper. Squeeze any excess milk from the bread and add the bread to the bowl. Mix the meat mixture well, then roll it into eighteen 1 1/2-inch balls; transfer to a baking sheet.

In a cast-iron skillet, heat 2 tablespoons of the canola oil. Cook half of the meatballs over moderate heat, turning, until golden brown and no longer pink within, about 15 minutes. Repeat with the remaining 2 tablespoons of canola oil and meatballs.

Serve on a bed of pasta with your favorite marinara sauce. Garnish with Parmigiano, chopped oregano and sea salt.
