Sunday Meditation

Stretch your imagination to the uttermost and you won't be able to grasp the wonders of heaven. "No eye has seen, no ear has heard, no mind has conceived what God has prepared for those who love him" (1 Cor. 2:9). All those who have had near death experiences, and have reported visits to heaven, testify that the beauty of the sounds and colors of heaven were beyond description with human words. When your thoughts for your future soar highest and are most extravagantly hopeful, your actual future is still far more unimaginably glorious. Your most unfathomable yearnings and desires will not exhaust "the unsearchable riches of Christ" (Eph. 3:8). I never stop wondering how it is that, unworthy as I am, God has planned and prepared such unspeakable happiness for me. No myth or fairy tale can equal the reality that awaits the least of us who belong to Christ. All for Jesus, Richard
