Children and Communion

Parish communities should welcome children who are being led to First Holy Communion, and provide opportunities for liturgical participation in accord with the Directory for Masses with Children, and the Lectionary for Masses with Children.

A partial indulgence is granted to the faithful who teach or study Christian doctrine.

It is primarily the duty of parents and those who take the place of parents, as well as the duty of pastors, to take care that children who have reached the use of reason are prepared properly and are refreshed with the divine food of the Eucharist as soon as possible.

Parents should bring their children to Mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation, and even to daily Mass if possible, to integrate them into the Church's Eucharistic life. The celebration of the times and feasts of the liturgical year is a primary means for gaining an understanding of the mystery of Christ, for the liturgical year "unfolds the entire mystery" and "completes the formation of the faithful."

The pastor is to collaborate with parents in order to lead baptized children to Eucharistic Communion at the proper time and with appropriate formation.
