Daddy's Little Girl

My name is Natori Wicker and I am applying for the Daddy's Little Girl Scholarship. I would be a great recipient for this scholarship because I have always been a hard worker and dedicated to everything I have done. Throughout high school I have been involved in many extra-curricular activities. I was a cheerleader, in the band, in drama club, in choir and jazz choir, and I was involved in every club possible while maintaining a 3.8 as a University Scholar.

I am entering into my first year of college at Marymount Manhattan in New York City where I will be majoring in Theatre Studies. This scholarship, if awarded to me, would help tremendously toward earning a degree and achieving my goal in the Musical Theatre industry.

I feel I am deserving recipient of this scholarship because I am a Daddy's Little Girl. I am incredibly grateful for the impact my father has had in my life. He has always been there for me whenever I needed him and I know he always will. So, as I thought about "Daddy's Little Girl", I started to think, what is a father? A father is guidance. He can help his child find their way through life. A father is knowledge. He can give his child understanding about the world. A father is acceptance. No matter what his child does or who his child becomes, he will always be by their side. A father is trust. He knows when to let his child go because he trusts that they will take what he taught them to help them in their own life. A father is so many things and more, but most important he is love. He will love his child irrevocably and unconditionally, and his child will know how to love others because of him. This is my father. He has prepared me for life in so many ways, and he has shown me what the love of a father is. Knowing my father believes in me is one of the greatest gifts he could ever give me.

If I am a recipient of the Daddy's Little Girl scholarship, the money will be used for educational expenses while attending Marymount Manhattan. I will continue to work hard toward achieving my goals and toward making my family, friends and the Daddy's Little Girl scholarship committee proud of me. Most important, I will make my daddy proud of the young lady he has helped me to become and I am thankful for the love and devotion for which he has shown.
