London Fulton is a professional choreographer, dancer, performance artist, innovator, teacher, and educator who was born and raised in Cleveland, OH. He found his love for dance when he was 15 years and took his craft to Rock City Dance Studio as a competition dancer. His competition career as a dancer consists of winning Top five overalls in competitions such as Showstoppers, Starbound, KAR, and Pulse On Tour Dance Competition. He has trained in Ohio, Oklahoma, and California, and Georgia under the best Industry dance teachers in the art of Contemporary, Jazz, hip-hop, ballet, Performance, Lyrical, Modern and tap. After his Certification in Hollywood, California was completed at The International Dance Academy in 2016, he came back home to Ohio to continue his love for dancing and teaching under the direction Lakeshore Ballet Theater in Avon, Ohio where he completed his training as a dancer/Instructor under Trutek Dance Company, which was a Commercial Jazz dance division of Lake shore Ballet Theater. London is currently in school to receive his BA in Massage therapy where he plans to run his own Business in near future. Dance has always been his escape from harsh moments in his life and it has made him the man he is today.
