Message from your Executive Board

Your Board continues to work for you...

We purchased and installed a back-up hard drive for our computer.

We are continuing to submit advertising to as many free media listings that we can find, and we are finding and working with more resources. Our "Eye-Catching Season of Art" Season Show Schedule post cards are being distributed (if you know of place where these cards would be welcome, please help by dropping off cards there).

We still ask that you help draw more people to your gallery by sharing information about us on your social media! Sharing with your friends will help us reach out to a new group of people, which is a win for all! Tell them your art can be seen in our gallery and invite them to see our shows.

We are signing up members for our outdoor event during the Street Painting Festival in Lake Worth. See page 3 for details.

We will strive to continue to improve our gallery every day. Please volunteer any time that you may have to help us out. Just a few hours from home or studio, to heading a Committee; any help will be greatly appreciated.

Please continue to contact us with your ideas on how to promote our great members and our great space.

Michael Raiman, who has served as temporary Gallery Manager will step down from that position Jan. 15th. We will announce our new Gallery Manager as soon as possible.

We wish all a Happy, Healthy, Prosperous New Year!

Turning Disabilities Into Possibilities Since 1959

Take-in was on Dec. 3rd for our "Look, See, Think" show when we also hosting the artists of the Habilitation Center's PACE Program.

Art teacher, Rebekah Burns curated a fabulous exhibition that showcased the talent of this group. Many of the pieces were collaborative. Accompanying each piece was a card that included remarks of the artists creating the piece.

David Lin, Chief Executive Director, along with the artists, their families and friends turned out for the very successful and enjoyable reception. The Habilitation Center contributed to the array of refreshments with a large platter of delicious cookies made by their Culinary Department., and we thank them.

ARTIST'S EYE OUTDOOR SHOW DURING THE STREET PAINTING FESTIVAL

YES! We will once again be holding an outdoor show in the parking lot on the east side of the gallery, during the Street Painting Festival weekend. This show is for member's only and will be on a first come first serve basis. There is room for 6 tents and 6 tables. Sign-ups begin in December. There is no fee to show; as 20% of all sales will be retained by the LWAL.

Tents are recommended as the sun can be brutal. Any tent, canopy or large umbrella must be properly weighted to keep them from flying in case of windy weather, so please keep this in mind as you make your plans. Tents may be shared.

No parking will be available. You may drop off your tents/items the day before. Set up in the mornings must be complete before noon each day so the gallery can open. Arrange to be dropped off and picked up or you will have to park away from the gallery. Just a few spots available to those working the gallery that day.

We will also need a few extra folks to help out both days, as we usually get quite a crowd. Please consider volunteering for an extra shift, to help with guests, sales, or to assist the outdoor folks with a break, etc.

CALL OR E-MAIL THE GALLERY TO SIGN UP.
