

Vowed SOLIDARITY

Solid as a Rock! “God setteth the solitary in families:...,” Psalms 68:6. In the Hebrew language, the word for solitary is yâchîyd which not only is defined as united, but also the interpretation behind it is “not to be replaced” [by any other institution].

Many other institutions have repeatedly tried to serve in the place of family life. However, the family unit is the primary institution, no matter how many attempts there has been. It remains irreplaceable.

As in the blood covenant, let each one’s strength cover the other’s weakness, to reinforce one another, but never to enable.
