

Stewardship

2019

- The law of rightful ownership --
- The law of purposeful possession --
- The law of miraculous multiplication --The law of guaranteed return --
- The law of hilarious generosity --
- The law of faithful dependability --
- The law of paradoxical participation --
- The law of supernatural supply --
- The law of eager willingness --
- The law of reciprocal supply --
- The law of constructive contribution --
- The law of purposeful blessing --
- The law of consistent collection --
- The law of proportionate participation --
- The law of personal initiative --
- The law of total excellence --
- The law of rightful reward --
- The law of zealous readiness --
- The law of graceful abundance --
- The law of secret spirituality --
- The law of sacrificial examples --
- The law of over-the-top offerings --
- The law of unified commitment --
- The law of risky management --
- The law of heartfelt humility --
- The law of unconditional contentment --
- The law of pastoral provision --
- The law of godly contentment --
- The law of future-focused giving --
- The law of absolute harvest --
- The law of single-minded service --
- The law of channeled resources --
- The law of loving compliance.

January

The law of rightful ownership – This is probably the most important thing any spiritual person should remember: none of what we have is really ours. It all belongs to God. He gave us everything to take care of and use only for pure deeds and generous giving. The essence of life is not ownership but stewardship – the faithful management of all that God entrusts to us”

The law of purposeful possession - Wise stewards are always given exactly what they need. There is no value in what is wanted. What we have is to be used and enjoyed to its maximum benefit. What we need to consider is what God wants us to do with what he has given us? Hoarding would be an extreme and at the other end squandering is a misuse. The balance we should strive for is best met when you determine the best use of each gift received. This balance perpetuates spiritual, emotional and physical blessings beyond your wildest imagination.

The law of miraculous multiplication --The law of guaranteed return - Man’s economic measurements are no match for God’s miracles of multiplication. What God gives is far more generous and satisfying than what man can provide by himself. Whatever the need may be... time, energy, ministry, strength, food... we feel the inadequacy of our efforts, but the Lord will multiply and accommodate the need, if we give our best efforts and ask in faith for a multiplication.

February