

You are here: Home » Commentary » Opinion »

Free Gaza—from Hamas

NOVEMBER 28, 2012 1:54 AM 1 COMMENT

Child in Hamas Festival in Gaza. Photo: wiki commons.

Under the façade of human rights, anti-Israel campaigners have been promoting the theme of “Free Gaza,” falsely alleging that Israel’s blockade is responsible for the suffering of millions of Palestinians. They organized “humanitarian aid” flotillas (carrying almost no aid) in order to provoke violent confrontations with the Israeli Navy, and held hateful protests at universities around the theme of Palestinian victimization and the invented slogan of “collective punishment.”

In the second Gaza war, the promoters of the Free Gaza campaign share major responsibility in producing and marketing this tragedy. With their backing, the Hamas leadership was confident (overly confident, it turned out) that it could escalate attacks on Israelis, and count on international media and political campaigns to prevent Israel from maintaining a strong counterattack. This strategy worked for them in the first Gaza war (December 2008 to January 2009), as it did for Hezbollah in 2006. The stream of “flotillas” and accompanying publicity created a fabricated image of Israeli aggression and Palestinian suffering which Hamas leaders have successfully exploited for many years.

One of the most active groups involved in the “Free Gaza” industry is an Israel-based NGO known as Gisha (“Legal Center for Freedom of Movement”). Gisha has waged a media campaign to promote what they portray as Israel’s policy of starving the population of Gaza and preventing them from unencumbered imports and travel. In their public relations efforts, Gisha and its allies have largely erased all traces of Hamas—including their brutality against their own people, and the acquisition of thousands of rockets hidden in schools, mosques and homes.

Anyone who is actually concerned about the welfare of the people of Gaza, and does not belong to the church of “it’s all Israel’s fault” would have focused the generous resources provided by foreign donors (including the New Israel Fund and anonymous European government officials) on liberating Gaza’s citizens and Israelis from Hamas.

But instead they constructed a fictitious Gaza, based on the total disconnect (overlooked by journalists committed to the Palestinian victimization promoted by NGOs) between the image of deprivation and the huge sums spent on rockets and missiles to attack Israel. According to the IDF, in the past decade, more than 13,000 rockets and mortars—an average of three per day—were launched against Israel. More than 1,500 were fired in the eight days of this conflict, beginning Nov. 14.

The missile industry—the biggest in Gaza—consumes huge resources and tens of millions of dollars, pounds, euros and dinars. How many school lunches, prenatal and infant care medical checks and other social welfare measures could this money have been used to buy, if only the Hamas overlords of Gaza were so inclined?

Author:

Gerald Steinberg / JNS.org

Share this Article

-  TWITTER
-  FACEBOOK
-  DIGG
-  STUMBLE
-  PRINT

Tags:

- anti-Israel campaigners
- Attack Israel
- Free Gaza
- Gerald M. Steinberg
- Gerald M. Steinberg Algemeiner
- Gisha
- Hamas Leadership
- Israeli aggression
- Israeli civilians
- Israeli Navy
- New Israel Fund
- NGO Monitor
- Palestinian victimization
- war against israel

VIDEO REPORTS

Call for Israel's Destruction

- Call for Israel's Destruction
- Rally Against Anti-Semitism
- French National Front Success
- Japan PM at Anne Frank House

MOST POPULAR

Recent Posts

 J Street U, Wash. U. Hillel Hosting NGO That Promotes Criticism of IDF Soldiers

 Israel Divestment Measure Vetoed by Loyola U. Student Government President

 Legal Rights Group Releases Full Report on Oxfam Ties to Terror Group Popular Front f

 Report: New F-35 Fighter Jet Purchased by Israel From U.S. Can Carry Nuclear Bomb

 Supreme Court to Rule on Religious Exemption From Health Care Mandate

CONNECT WITH US

Similarly, according to media reports, Gaza has “15,000 Qassam fighters who are responsible for most of the rocket blitzes.” Thousands more were involved in building and operating over 200 tunnels that were dug under the border between Egypt and Gaza—many large enough to bring rocket sections through—in order to maintain the war against Israel.

While some societies encourage their best and brightest to go to universities, become scientists, build businesses and create jobs, in Gaza’s Palestinian society, the best jobs are making, smuggling and shooting rockets to kill Israeli civilians.

All of this is erased in the distorted universe of the NGO human rights network and their funder-enablers, such as the New Israel Fund and hidden European government officials. In their absurd, patronizing and morally inverted version of reality, all responsibility and blame lies with Israel.

Another radical fringe group with a major bank account calls itself “Breaking the Silence” ($523,342 by the NIF from 2006 through 2011; additional funds from Europe). BtS plays a central role in the dissemination of false “war crimes” accusations against Israel, including in the notorious Goldstone report of 2009. Now, BtS is seeking to repeat this process by drawing comparisons between the fictitious “crimes” of four years ago, and the current Israeli operation in Gaza. As in the case of Gisha and many others, there is no mention of Palestinian war crimes (such as every rocket attack) and the intimidation through which Hamas controls Gaza. On these issues, the silence is deafening.

There are many more examples selling more or less the same defective product. In contrast, a real and moral Free Gaza movement would close the missile industry and help Israelis and Palestinians in liberating themselves from the tyranny of Hamas. With yet another ceasefire, the “human rights activists” have another opportunity to do the right thing, and demand that instead of investing massively in restocking rockets for another round of warfare, Palestinian leaders invest in the welfare of their own people.

Gerald M. Steinberg is president of Jerusalem-based research institution NGO Monitor and is professor of political science at Bar Ilan University.

the algemeiner
e-paper Current Issue

Email

First Name

Last Name

1 COMMENT

C.L.B

November 29, 2012
4:29 am

Why doesn't Israel expell the so-called Palestians from Israel? They are not really Palestians because they come from all over the Arabic lands; Jordan, Egypt, Syria, Lebanon; their own country didn't want them, so now Israel has to deal with them. They all could live very peacefully and prosperously in Israel. The war lords ar warmongers. It's a big business and where atr they getting all this money to buy weapons? If anybody is to be called Palestians, it should be the Israelians since they are the ancient people who have returned to their homeland

REPLY

LEAVE A REPLY

Please note: comments may be published in the Algemeiner print edition.

Name (required)

E-Mail (will not be published) (required)

Website

Submit Comment

More...

JEWISH IDENTITY SPORTS

Lacrosse Match Celebrates Purim and St. Patrick's Day

While you were likely busy celebrating the holiday of Purim, the Village of Bayville, New York, transformed one of its parks into an international celebration center when the Israeli and Irish national lacrosse teams faced one another – in honor of Purim and St. Patrick's Day. More than 120 fans braved the below-freezing mercury levels and arrived dressed in green or white-and-blue garb to support their respective teams at Centre Island Town Park, overlooking the Long Island Sound. Ireland edged [...]

READ MORE →

ISRAEL PIONEERS/PHILANTHROPISTS

Israeli Company Creating Drinking Water Out of Thin Air Now Used by Seven Armies (VIDEO)

Israeli water tech company Water-Gen, which has developed a technique for creating drinkable water out of air, is providing its technology to military units in seven nations including the U.S., PolicyMic reported recently. Water-Gen's solar or electric-powered water generators, which can sit on the ground or in vehicles such as tanks, produce between 10 and 20 gallons of fresh, cold, drinking water per day. The Tel Aviv-based company originally designed the generating unit for hydrating troops in extreme combat situations. The generating

JEWISH IDENTITY MUSIC

Finding Our Own Garden of Eden (VIDEO)

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish holiday of the New Year, corresponds to the sixth day of creation, and the moment when the first pair of humans were created. Indeed, Rosh Hashanah is Adam and Eve's birthday. Eve also happens to be my namesake – for the Hebrew name Eve translates as "Chava." I have often related to this Biblical character in more ways than one. To many, the first woman in history is remembered for her grave sin, which caused all [...]

READ MORE →

JEWISH IDENTITY SPORTS

Ahead of Baseball Season, Famed Jewish Executive Remains Out of Hall of Fame

JNS.org – With another season of "America's pastime" beginning March 22, famed Jewish executive Marvin Miller remains out of the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Why is that the case? Bob Locker—a major league pitcher from 1965-75 and creator of a Marvin Miller tribute site, ThanksMarvin.com—blames ownership for the exclusion of Miller, the pioneering executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association (MLBPA) from 1966-82. "It's a good old boys' fraternity and has been for years," Locker told JNS.org regarding [...]

READ MORE →

ISRAEL MUSIC

For Purim, Rocking Rabbi Puts Positive Spin on 'Man of Constant Sorrow' (VIDEO)

A musically gifted, saintly looking rabbi reinvented American folk song Man of Constant Sorrow in a parody of the blues track created in honor of Purim. Rabbi Tuvia Bolton, Dean of Yeshiva Ohr Tmimim in Israel, titled the parody Constant Smile and posted it on YouTube last week. He changed lyrics from the original song to highlight optimism and a positive attitude to life, saying they are preferable to negativity and pessimism. Accompanied by two backup singers Dan Ben-Hur and Shlomo Zacks, the [...]

READ MORE →

← PREVIOUS

NEXT →

- About Us
- Contact Us
- Blogs
- Advertise
- Featured Writers
- Epaper
- Products Page
- Privacy Policy

SEARCH:

<input type="text" value="search..."/>	<input type="button" value="GO"/>
--	-----------------------------------

© Copyright 2014 — Algemeiner.com.

Website Design and Internet Marketing By Ajax Union