As of the date this bulletin was sent to the printer, the church is still only open for Mass with social distancing and masks required. The hall remains closed with no food or drink available.

Livestreamed daily masses from the Cathedral of Our Lady of Angels as well as links to other livestreamed masses are available at:

<https://lacatholics.org/mass-for-the-homebound/>

Corpus Christi is Sunday June 6.

Final plans have not been made, but in light of the pandemic and social distancing requirements, there will likely be a much simplified version of the procession, probably in the courtyard.

The procession will begin right after the German Mass has ended (approximately 10:00-10:15), so please arrive early to be in place and ready to proceed.

All flower donations are welcome, and we especially need lots of rose petals, as well as baskets for the children to use. If you have flowers you wish to donate, please bring them early Sunday morning, well before the start of Mass.

Please Note:

Since the church was closed last year, all children attending the Corpus Christi Mass who have received their First Communion this or last year will receive a gift from St. Stephen Church. The children can have received their First Communion at any church, not just St. Stephen, and are encouraged, but not required, to dress in their First Communion outfits.

There is also a televised Sunday Mass from Heart of the Nation on KDOC channel 56 on Sundays at 6:00 AM and 9:00 AM, and daily masses are televised on the EWTN cable network as well.

EWTN also has catholic programming available online in German and Hungarian which includes livestreamed Masses!

Hungarian programming is available at:

katolikus.tv

German programming is available at:

The German programming is also available on the EWTN app for smartphones, tablets, and television streaming devices (such as AppleTV or Amazon Fire).

Saint Justin

Saint Justin - June 1

Justin never ended his quest for religious truth even when he converted to Christianity after years of studying various pagan philosophies.

As a young man, he was principally attracted to the school of Plato. However, he found that the Christian religion answered the great questions about life and existence better than the philosophers.

Upon his conversion he continued to wear the philosopher's mantle, and became the first Christian philosopher. He combined the Christian religion with the best elements in Greek philosophy. In his view, philosophy was a pedagogue of Christ, an educator that was to lead one to Christ.

Justin is known as an apologist, one who defends in writing the Christian religion against the attacks and misunderstandings of the pagans. Two of his so-called apologies have come down to us; they are addressed to the Roman emperor and to the Senate.

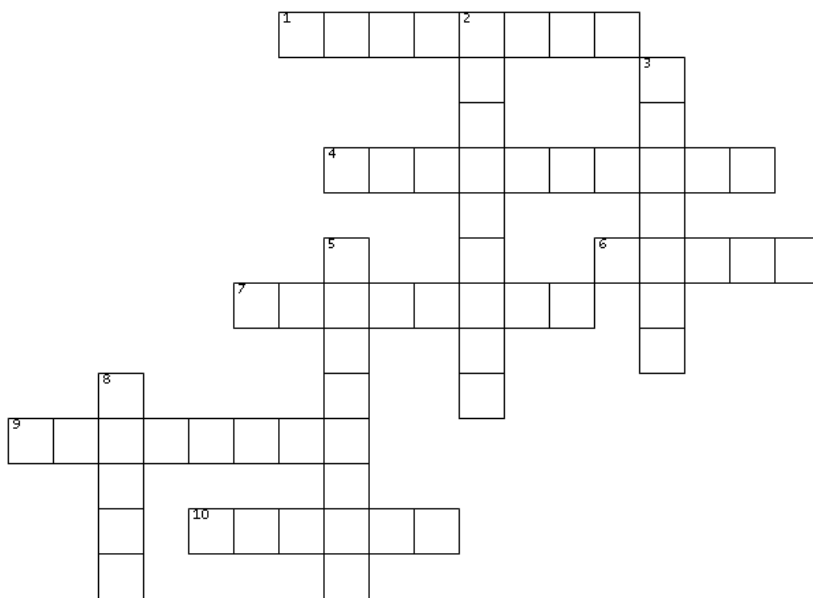

For his staunch adherence to the Christian religion, Justin was beheaded in Rome in 165.

As patron of philosophers, Justin may inspire us to use our natural powers—especially our power to know and understand—in the service of Christ, and to build up the Christian life within us. Since we are prone to error, especially in reference to the deep questions concerning life and existence, we should also be willing to correct and check our natural thinking in light of religious truth. Thus we will be able to say with the learned saints of the Church: I believe in order to understand, and I understand in order to believe.
