Show Synopsis (Theatrical Rights Worldwide)

Curtains features music and lyrics by Kander and Ebb (Chicago, Cabaret) and book by Rupert Holmes (Mystery of Edwin Drood).

Curtains is a backstage musical with a play-within-the play. Set in 1959, it tells the story of a troupe of actors, the cast of Robbin' Hood, an ill-conceived musical in its Boston pre-Broadway tryout. On opening night, its supremely untalented leading lady is murdered on stage, the first of several murders. The cast is quarantined in the theatre, and the police investigation is led by Lt. Frank Cioffi, a community theatre aficionado in his off-time, who proves himself as interested in fixing the troubled musical as solving the murders. Of course, he accomplishes both tasks! The score for Curtains runs the gamut from witty patter songs, to rich ballads and lots of exciting, full ensemble numbers. Because Curtains may not be well-known to some of you, a complete story synopsis can be found at:

https://www.theatricalrights.com/show/curtains/
