

NACPI RECOGNITION PROGRAM

OVERVIEW:

The NACPI Recognition Program is intended to recognize outstanding achievements and formally acknowledge significant contributions in the categories identified. Awards are presented by the President of NACPI in appreciation of outstanding performance, and the key to the success of the program is member participation - the generosity of NACPI members in recognizing their colleagues.

Awards will be given publicly at the annual NACPI Conference for such achievements as providing exceptional consumer protection or outstanding support to the organization. The nomination process is simple to understand and follow.

Individuals, agencies or teams may be recognized in the following categories:

- ◆ Excellence in Leadership
- ◆ Innovation
- ◆ Outstanding Consumer Protection
- ◆ Support to NACPI
- ◆ Partnership(s)

The decision on the number of awards given out per category each year is at the discretion of the President of NACPI. The President has the option of granting more than one award per category if the nominations warrant it. The President may also nominate award recipients, and present awards at his or her discretion.

NOMINATION ELIGIBILITY:

Nominations must describe achievements that took place within the last 3 years.

Individual, agency and team nominations will be considered in all categories. A team is described as a working unit, (the employees of the team work together to produce a final result or service) and all members of the team are deserving of the award. Teams may involve any number of agency representatives, whether members of NACPI or not.

PREPARATION AND SUBMISSION OF NOMINATIONS:

Nomination forms will require nominators to provide information to the President in the form of answers to a series of simple questions. The questions are designed to elicit details relevant to the evaluation criteria for each nomination category. Complete all sections of the nomination form. Write the nomination as if the President of NACPI does not know the nominee, program or achievement. Think carefully about the criteria listed and relate them to the achievement you are nominating.

If you are making more than one nomination, please submit a separate form for each nomination. The President will accept nominations for the NACPI Recognition Program until 30 days prior to the first day of the annual conference.
