VOTES FOR WOMEN

The 72-Year Struggle for Women's Suffrage

At a time when voting can feel more like an obligation than a privilege, we can easily forget that it took 72 years for American women to win the right to vote.

This illustrated slide lecture explores the long struggle from 1848 – when the first call was issued at Seneca Falls – to 1920, when women finally gained suffrage. In the ensuing years, women worked tirelessly, giving speeches, writing letters and petitions, gathering signatures by the thousands, and persevering in the face of strident opposition. Some were jailed and even beaten.

You will never find voting inconvenient again.

Program length: 50 minutes

Program requirements:

- Screen or white wall on which to project slides
- LCD projector and laptop (or I can bring my own)
- Table for photographs and artifacts
- Microphone, if desired

Fee: $275 for non-profit organizations plus travel if outside the greater Chicago area

Leslie Goddard has been presenting history lectures and performing first-person programs in the Chicago area for more than ten years. She holds a Ph.D. from Northwestern University specializing in American studies and U.S. history. Leslie is a full-time presenter, a former museum director, and the author of two books on Chicago history. Her nationally-recognized presentations include: Illinois Humanities Council sites, Chicago's Navy Pier, WBEZ-Chicago Amplified, Questers International, the Victorian Society in America, and scores of universities, retirement centers, libraries, historical societies, businesses, conferences, and fund-raisers.

Leslie Goddard

L-goddard@att.net | 630-297-8046 | www.lesliegoddard.info