At the next membership meeting: Whitney Sage

Whitney Sage is starting her second year as a Lecturer of Art at Ohio University Zanesville. She earned an MFA in Studio Art from "Washington University in St. Louis", In her presentation, Whitney says "I will be addressing my studio practice and the progression of my work as it relates to the city of my upbringing, Detroit. I'll be showing images as I speak. My discussion will include looking at the transition through several modes of working: painting, fiber, sculpture and installation. Through looking at the work, I'll also address Detroit history and its current role as a budding artistic center.

- Pick-up of your work from the November exhibition and drop off for the December Exhibition in the ZAAP gallery: is only on Sunday Nov 30 between 1-5. We need the gallery full of art until then.

December's feature in the gallery, "Artists' ABC's of the Winter Holidays"

The ZAAP gallery will be participating in the city's "Story Book Christmas" with the exhibition, "Artists' ABC's of the Winter Holidays". 26 unique works by ZAAP members to celebrate the Winter Holidays. You'll recognize people, events, stories, foods and themes of the holiday season in the works. Thank you to all the members who selected a letter and chose to participate.

From the desk of the director: John Taylor-Lehman

I would like to extend a THANK YOU to the staff at the OUZ/Zane State College library for hosting an exhibition of ZAAP artists' work. A well attended opening reception was held on Nov 13 and featured demonstrations from Ann Marie Kovach, Jane Evans and Jenn Jenkins. The works will be on display until December 12th.

10 of my "beer cap creations" will be on display at the Lindsay gallery on High St. in the Short North area of Columbus. The small group exhibition will open on December 5th and run until the end of the month.

Our next membership meeting on December 18th will be our annual Holiday party. The ZAAP organization will provide a ham for the potluck meal. A signup sheet to bring foods to round out the meal will be out at the next meeting.

Please consider being a "Featured Artist" or suggesting someone in 2015. 8 more months need to be filled.

I am looking for interesting speakers or demonstrators for our membership meetings in 2015. Suggestions?

Yan Sun Art Museum

is pleased to announce a new exhibition, "Along the Silk Road," for December 2014. This exhibition features excellent artworks created by art faculty of College of Art, Lanzhou University, China. It covers a variety of media, including Chinese traditional painting, oil painting, and design. Lanzhou City is an important point on the historical Silk Road, and artists of Lanzhou are greatly inspired by its rich history and try to reflect the glorious culture along the Silk Road in their artworks. At this exhibition, visitors will have the opportunity to view special imagery of the Silk Road such as cave houses, opera masks, people of ethnic groups, silk patterns, etc. Opening reception: December 5, 2014, 5:00pm-8:30pm. Location: 604 Main St. Zanesville
