A Note from Rick: Markets were a little stronger this week at TLA with the exception of bull calves, which continue to struggle. I guess what stands out to me the most is the wide variation of prices in all categories. Prices for higher quality livestock are not real bad, but for the average to below average livestock they fall off sharply. Poor quality livestock prices are very, very bad. Whether it's calves, feeders, butcher cattle or dairy, these prices seem to be getting further and further apart. This is a direct reflection of the struggling market that we are in and how long we've been in it. I really believe that if you start out with a good production animal and do a good job with raising it, including a good feed and vaccination program, you will be on the upper end of the market. In a tough market, this is more critical than ever to the bottom line in my opinion. As the holidays are approaching, we are looking forward to spending time with family and friends and just really being grateful. We are so unbelievably blessed and have so much to be thankful for. Thank you to all of our employees, customers, and everyone who has supported Topeka Livestock Auction. From our family to yours, we wish you a blessed Thanksgiving and look forward to thanking you in person when you visit TLA!
