Going online!! (PLEASE READ EVERY WORD OF THIS SILLABUS)

As you might know, all of our classes at Quinnipiac are converting to online modalities in order to avoid spreading the COVID-19. In my classes, I will do everything within my power to guarantee the quality of your education and to facilitate this transition. Despite my efforts, this transition will also mean some changes for you:

- 1. This is an unprecedented situation with unprecedented decisions. Hence, we will all need to learn to be flexible in our planning if we want to fulfill our educational goals. I will continue making everything as democratic, clear, and explicit as possible, but you will need to read my e-mails and follow online conversations if you want to succeed in my class.
- 2. Learning online tends to demand more self-reliance. I will make myself available and we will have live lectures, but you will need to read all of my e-mails, messages, syllabi modifications, and suggestions in order to success.
- 3. You will also need to learn how to use online tools such as Zoom, Skype, Blackboard, and others. If you have any questions about them or if you have limited access to technology, please e-mail me and/or technical support at Quinnipiac. You can also use our anonymous survey if you prefer to avoid sharing your name. If I know about the situation of different students, I can adapt correspondingly, avoiding inequality and unnecessary obstacles in our education.
- 4. Finally, going online will change the modality of our meetings, assignments, finals, office hours, and everything we share in our class. Hence, please read carefully the following clarifications, which will help you to navigate the rest of the semester.
- 5. That said, I WILL HELP YOU ALONG THE WAY!!

Communication:

- Office hours:
  - Starting on March 20th, We will have office hours on Fridays between 3pm-4:40pm via Zoom (Meeting ID 848-767-217 or follow the direct link: https://quinnipiac.zoom.us/j/848767217).
  - As usual, students can set up appointments at other times as well.
- Emails: During the week, I will respond e-mails within 24 hours, but I usually prioritize emails during morning hours. If you have an urgent enquiry, please feel free to add the word "urgent" to the subject of the e-mail and I will try to respond as soon as possible.
- Anonymous and open survey: We still have our survey, which is completely anonymous and continuously open (https://es.surveymonkey.com/r/N8XHYJB) for students to be able to provide feedback to me throughout the entire semester.
- You can also call me at any time that I am available or text me at any time on Skype:
  - Username: internationalstudiesscauso

Work and assignments online:

- Attendance is still worth 10% of the grade. If we meet in person (on campus) for a class, things will continue the same way as established before. But, as of now, classes will be online. Classes might take two different modalities, but I am flexible if this does not work for you:
  - Live and synchronous: For some of our online classes, we will meet via Zoom. After the class, you will need to send me an e-mail with the "secret phrase" that I will give you throughout the lecture as its subjects. This will count as attendance.
    - For Zoom meetings: we will meet during our usual times (Mondays and Wednesdays between 5pm and 6:15pm). Our meeting ID is 122-459-972 or direct link https://quinnipiac.zoom.us/j/122459972)
  - Recorded and Asynchronous: I might try to record some of the classes and allow you to view the videos on your own time (if you have any kind of accommodation, working schedule, special circumstances, or would simply prefer this modality please e-mail me and I will make this option available to you asap). If classes are recorded, you will access the videos and send me the e-mail no later than one week after the lecture's original time. So, if the lecture took place on Wednesday March 18th, your e-mail should be sent to me by March 25th. For the e-mail to count as attendance, you will need to include:
    - The name and number of our class,
    - the date of the original lecture,
    - and the secret phrase for that lecture (I will tell you what this phrase is at some random point in the videos for the week).
  - If neither of these modalities work for you, e-mail me and we can organize something more adequate to your situation. I am trying to be as flexible as I can to accommodate all the different situations of my students while also creating a good learning practice.
- For participation: we will also have two modalities that depend on what you do for attendance (participation is 5% of your grade):
  - 1. Live and synchronous: If we meet via Zoom, you can add a comment about the lecture to the e-mail that you are going to send me for attendance. This e-mail should be sent within 20 minutes of the end of class. You can send me the notes you took during class as a word document or as pictures of hand-written notes (I will not grade or control for grammar or spelling). This will help me to assess the level of engagement of students as we go (I will run these comments through our plagiarism software so please do not copy each other or any other website).

- If the comment shows active listening and attention (again... I do not grade grammar, aesthetics, or spelling), I will count it as participation. The e-mail will count as 1 whole point of participation (i.e., it will count as more than a single sticky note, which was worth 0.5 points). If you have participated thus far, this will allow you to get 100% of the participation points before the end of the semester. Moreover, office hours via Zoom will count as participation too and this will give you 0.5 points each time, but it is up to you to remind me about these participation points by sending me an e-mail after the office hour is over.
- 2. Recorded and Asynchronous: If you decide to watch the lectures on your own time and asynchronously, you can get participation points by sending me your notes no later than one week after the original lecture. That is, you can send me your notes or the pictures of your hand-written notes at the same time as your attendance e-mail.
  - This e-mail should include good notes about the lecture.
- 3. Additionally, I will ask questions from particular students by name as we talk via zoom. We will need to avoid talking at the same time in Zoom because the system does not work well when we do so. Hence, I will probably mute all students by default and then ask questions by unmuting particular students. You can also use the chatting box to ask or answer questions throughout the entire lecture. We will also include polls and other mechanisms to make the meetings as interactive as possible.
- 4. If these forms of participation are not adequate for you, please contact me via e-mail and I will modify things to accommodate your own circumstances while also meeting the learning goals of the class.
- For the presentations, you will need to check on the dates and times, as some things might have changed. Second, if you have not done your presentation yet and cannot attend class on campus, you will need to send me a video recording of your presentation. You can film yourself doing the presentation, upload it to YouTube, set the privacy settings to "unlisted," and send me the link via e-mail: marcos.scauso@quinnipiac.edu. Then, I will download the video and put it into my PowerPoints for the class to see. You all can coordinate to present different sections each and can then send me the videos, which should be about 3 minutes long for each student. ALL PRESENTATIONS ONLINE ARE DUE AT 10AM so I can process them and put them into my PowerPoints.
  - The presentation is still worth 10% of the grade and it will aim to apply a particular approach to a case or an on-going issue of your choosing. Students will be expected to deploy a concept from the readings, add bibliography from other academic sources such as Jstor or other journal repositories, and analyze a particular aspect of a case
  - Please check your presentation dates: Click Here
- For the final exam (worth 25% of the grade), I will create a test online. This exam will include multiple choice, true or false, and essay questions, but the exam will be open book. This means that the questions will be harder than the midterm because they will include more processing and critical thinking. This will not be a merely conceptual exam, where we just describe things that others say. Instead, the exam will focus more than usual on the possibility of deploying our knowledge in particular situations, showing that we have studied prior to the exam and do not need to spend all of our time looking up concepts. Second, the exam will be timed and will turn off automatically after 2 hours if you do not finish it before (please send me an e-mail if you need accommodations). Third, once you open the exam, you will have to finish it. We will only have one opportunity to do the exam. Fourth, the exam will take place at the same time as it was scheduled before: May 4th, 8:15pm. Finally, I will be available online to answer questions during the exam: Zoom meeting ID 178-982-046 or direct link https://quinnipiac.zoom.us/j/178982046

- The final paper will not change. You will need to submit it to blackboard in two different locations, which I will specify once we are closer to the deadline.
  - Students will need to write a final paper outline/summary (maximum of 5 pages + bibliography) as well. This assignment is designed to understand and deploy a particular approach of International Relations to examine a case or phenomenon. Each student will choose one of the approaches included in the class and will use it to understand a current phenomenon of international relations. Then, she/he will analyze the contributions, limitations, and normative tendencies of the chosen approach. The final paper outline/summary is worth 25% of the grade.

• The reflective essay will not change.

At the end of the semester, students will be asked to turn in a reflective essay of 300-400 words, which will be worth 5% of the grade. This essay needs to be submitted to blackboard AND your e-Portfolio.

• Extra credit opportunity will not change either.

• Students can submit into the blackboard "assignment" folder a maximum of three commentaries (worth 1% of the grade each) for extra credit. These commentaries have to be two-pages long and they ought to deploy an approach of International Relations to unveil an aspect of a phenomenon that is implicit or hidden by the assumptions of another theory. I will NOT offer additional extra credit points for documented participation in talks and events. Each student can only acquire a maximum of 3 extra credit points from commentaries.

Grading:

Evaluation Method

Assignment	Points for each Assignment	Total
Attendance		10
In class discussion and participation (sticky notes)	0.5	5
Presentation		10
Midterm		20
Final paper outline/summary		25

Extra Credit	1	3
Total

Grades in blackboard: please notice that the maximum grade is 100 points even if the blackboard total exceeds this amount (e.g., 103 with extra credit points). If you do not fulfill any extra credits, those points will appear as a 0, but this assignment does not affect your total grade negatively.
