19th Amendment: Fighting for the Vote (LIVE)

19thAmend-1/20

Steve Cicero

This year our nation celebrated the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment in Congress. What is less commonly understood is that nothing really changed until the law was ratified in August of 1920. In this presentation we trace the incredible story behind this achievement, and the continuing legacy of that effort. The fight to reach universal suffrage in the United States was very long, and the women who won the final battle are little known today. This dedicated group of suffragettes were harassed, beaten, and imprisoned, but in the end they changed the world. Don't miss their inspiring story.

Tues, Sept 08; 1:00-2:00.

Art's Art: Insights into the Craftsmanship of Arthur Armour (LIVE)

ArtsArt/20

Thomas Armour

Arthur Armour (1908-1998) - an early innovator in the hammered aluminum giftware industry - was one of the top artisan, craftsman, and business owner when in the 1930's this new type of product first came on the giftware market. Dr. Armour will give insights into his father's craft, and artistic talents, and business operations that will demonstrate why he has a significant place in the hammered aluminum giftware history and why his products are sought after by collectors. Other artistic talents including watercolor paintings and pencil drawings will be touched upon. Numerous artistic skills are featured in his Grove City home and in a unique stone cabin that he designed and built near Clintonville, PA.

Guaranteed Income in Retirement (LIVE Sec 1)

Guaranteed-1/20

Corina Wack

You worked through every scenario that retirement could throw at you, you diversified your portfolio, you saved and saved some more. Now, you just have to turn your assets into a stream of income that can provide the retirement you've always wanted. That's what a sound retirement strategy is about, right? The problem is, without guarantees, this stream of retirement income will face the risk of running out or diminishing in value due to common challenges that every retiree needs to be aware of. In this class, we will examine these challenges and present solutions to overcome them.

Healthcare Planning in Retirement (LIVE Sec 1)

Healthcare-1/20

Corina Wack

Making a plan now - while you are younger and healthier - is a wise thing to do and can save you money in the future. It can also give you the option to spend more money and have more fun in retirement, knowing you have coverage in place that can help with healthcare needs, if necessary. In this class, we will have you consider key questions in planning for your healthcare needs: who will take care of you, how much will the care cost, and how can you fund it.

The Sound of Musicals: Tune-filled Stories of Stage & Screen (LIVE)

TheSound-2/20

Steve Cicero

For many of us, the songs we first heard in a movie theater are the soundtrack of our lives. Legends of stage and screen, including Gene Kelly and Henry Mancini, created those scenes and the tunes you still remember decades later. This program will have you humming those famous show tunes for the rest of the day.

Volunteering as a Literacy Tutor (LIVE)

Volunteer/20

Ben Getkin

Are you looking for a way to make a positive difference in your community? Come learn about becoming a volunteer literacy tutor! The Adult Literacy Program at BC3 has a team of dedicated volunteers, mostly retirees, who help students all over Butler, Lawrence, and Mercer Counties. Tutors generally meet students online or in-person for about 3 hours a week. Tutoring is immensely rewarding and the scheduling is extremely flexible. This session will cover the basics of the services that our program provides and what it's like to be a volunteer.

Tues, Sept 08; 6:00-7:30.
