

Helping organizations to solve the teamwork issues that arise from diverse and multicultural workforces

Diversity Leadership Course

Build your skillset so you can chart a course for change

It's your time to lead. It's your time to create change. Whether you are new to the job or a seasoned professional, adding Diversity, Equity and Inclusion to your responsibilities can feel overwhelming.

Developed for HR Professionals, Diversity Champions and newly appointed leaders, this two-part course delivers the must-have skills that are critical to starting your DEI journey.

Consumers, colleagues, and society are demanding change. Now is not the time to be ill prepared to act. The skills honed through this course will empower you to act with confidence.

Participants in the Diversity Leadership Course will learn the concepts, trends and soft skills to evolve how your organization approaches Diversity, Equity and Inclusion.

In just eight hours, you will learn from our experts and network with fellow classmates. Delivered virtually as two 4-hour sessions held one week apart, you'll get the foundational information that you need to become a leader of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion.

During week one, you will learn:

- The history and evolution of DEI
- The impact of changing demographics
- Why the urgency and the risks of doing nothing
- The terms you must know and what to avoid
- Why your personal filters can impact this work

During week two, you will learn:

- What is bias and why it matters
- The impact of unconscious bias on DEI
- Ways to overcome bias
- How to be an agent of change
- Ways to gain executive buy-in and support
