

“Annakovich” Personality Profile

Narcissist Behaviors

- Believe they are perfect, smarter and better than everyone else despite their general ignorance
- Close minded and incapable of personal growth because they believe they know everything
- Can be arrogant or snobby in their behaviors or attitudes towards others
- Incapable of true friendship or true and enduring love of anyone but themselves

Anti-social Behaviors

- An arrogant and self delusional sense of superiority – total absence of humility
- Chronic ingratitude because their superiority is naturally entitled to the generosity of others
- Emotional immaturity that often manifests as insults, falsehoods, mood swings or petulance
- Not concerned with the thoughts, feelings, desires, needs or emotions of others
- Indifferent to anyone who is not necessary or beneficial to getting whatever they want
- Facts, logic, reason & common sense should never be obstacles to whatever they want or feel
- Only concerned with their wants or needs – evil can be an okay method to achieve these goals
- Willing to deceive and/or take advantage of others to achieve their goals – untrustworthy
- Difficulty communicating with others beyond the superficial realm and their personal desires
- Often irrational and delusional with bizarre and ignorant viewpoints about many things
- Seldom generous to others except as a means to achieve their goals at the expense of others
- Hypocrisy – they criticize others for negative behaviors they engage in themselves
- Passive aggressive – hide their true negative thoughts and intentions until outbursts occur
- Disregard for right and wrong to get what they want - willing to deceive to exploit others
- Often callous, cynical and disrespectful of others
- Criticize the attributes of others that they do not possess themselves
- Never compromise or admit their mistakes or wrongdoing - never apologize about anything
- General absence of creativity, ingenuity or curiosity except to get what they want
- Unimaginative except in using charm to manipulate others for personal gain or pleasure
- Extremely opinionated and intransigent even when factually or objectively contradicted
- Rash impulsiveness and/or failure to consider the “big picture” in the long term
- Pointlessly argumentative with irrational hostility, irritability, agitation or aggression
- No conscience or empathy for others and lack of remorse about harming others
- Believe conscience or empathy in others is a weakness to be exploited
- Difficulty in establishing or maintaining anything more than superficial relationships
- Failure to consider the negative consequences of their behavior or learn from them
- Blames their victims for the negative effects of their behaviors
- Resorts to petulant insults, falsehoods or slander when confronted with their negative behaviors
- Think it is clever to hide the darkness of their true essence to manipulate and exploit others
- Anyone who challenges their negative behaviors is expendable from their life
- Will suddenly abandon friendship, honor, integrity, trust and good faith for no good reasons

Paranoid Behaviors

- Exist in their own “strange” self-centered reality that is disconnected from actual reality
- Hyper-secretive and suspicious - imagines threats that are not real or actually concerning
- Find it difficult to trust or confide in others because they fear everyone is like themselves
- Reflexively assigns negative meanings to other people’s remarks or intentions
- Reclusive - find relationships tedious, threatening or unnecessary so they minimize them
- Find it difficult, if not impossible, to ‘forgive and forget’ even in their self interest
- Cannot cope with any type of criticism or beneficial advice to change to improve their lives

Conclusions

90% dark side dominant nature. Dominant “Annakovich” prefers to achieve her life goals and get what she wants through the negative spectrum behaviors and tactics described above that she believes are “perfectly normal”.

10% brilliant light side nature. Subservient “Anna” has a very beautiful side to her nature that is the opposite of all the things above but she seems content to remain in the darkness rather than expel “Annakovich” from her psyche.

Anna is capable of becoming a very extraordinary human being and super achiever if she abandons all the negative “self imposed limitations” listed above and embraces the opposite behaviors to far exceed her life goals. She recently showed signs of emerging from the darkness but then lapsed back into extreme irrational hostility.

In truth, “Annakovich” is very destructive parasite on the beautiful nature of Anna and a severe limitation on the happiness, serenity and success of her life. Only Anna can make the choice to exorcise “Annakovich”. I am only writing this because I care about Anna and I want to help her make the choice to abandon “Annakovich” forever.
