PROJECT: Wrigley Field (Chicago, IL)

J.Gill and Company was hired to perform concrete repairs, caulking, and waterproofing to the concourse levels at Wrigley Field in Chicago. This work was performed in phases during off hours of the busy Cubs baseball season and summer concert line-ups. The concrete surfaces were shotblasted clean to remove years of dirt and mildew build-up. Some minor concrete patches were done and all the cracks and joints were caulked. A new polyurethane traffic coating system was installed to waterproof the concrete surfaces and provide long term protection from the elements.
