FROM THE PASTOR

February 9, 2020
Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time
Mt 5:13-16

Dear St Pius X and St Anthony Church,

Is it a compliment or a challenge? Jesus says to his followers, "You are the salt of the earth" (Matt 5:13) and "You are the light of the world" (Matt 5:14). My point is that Jesus is commending his disciples for the 'extra' that they bring to people and situations. He recognizes the heartfelt compassion they exhibit to others, their drive to serve and share God's goodness with others. They are 'value adders' in His Kingdom ministry work. They bring 'added value' to interactions, and increase grace by their witness and personal touch. Yet, inside Jesus' compliment is also a continual challenge not to lose that faithful edge that makes them unique in the world. Think of Jesus' commendation as Him 'supersizing' or 'selling up' the personalized ministry and good work of the disciples. For example, when a school friend or company manager compliments you on good work consistently done, we assume correctly that it applies to past work. Yes, but it also carries a forward expectation of such continued excellence in future work. I think such comments are saying, "Your touch makes a difference, so don't stop making that difference." Next weekend, we will hear Jesus further identify this added difference that He expects of His disciples when He says "Unless your righteousness surpasses that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will not enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matt 5:20). Jesus raises the bar for His own disciples. Several years ago there was a popular self-improvement book titled, "What got you here, won't get you there". It discussed stubborn habits that hold us back from continuing to grow and excel (by exposing our typical resistance to change behaviors). Or do you remember the popular book that made the rounds of inspirational talks a couple years ago called 'Who moved my cheese?' Like Jim Collins' work on 'Going from Good to Great', these works emphasize the advantage of managing change by seeing opportunity even in collapses or setbacks (some call it 'creative destruction'). I think Jesus is branding His disciples as 'salt & light', as His way of both complimenting their accomplished successes, yet also challenging them to keep fresh their spiritual advantage.

But it pays to reflect upon Jesus' choice of 'inspiring' titles: Salt and Light. He didn't say 'You are gold' and 'You are stars'. No, I think Jesus was intentionally emphasizing the 'selflessness' (like Christ!) of 'salt' and 'light'. They are both elements that focus attention on others, instead of themselves. They are so necessary themselves, because imagine life without salt and light. But they do not want attention. They just want to do their work. They are just fine being overlooked. For example, when you dig into Thanksgiving dinner, who says, "That is some of the best salt I've ever eaten?" But we do say that the turkey is just right, so tender and moist (because of salt's tenderizing). Or notice how we mention that the green beans just melt in our mouth, seasoned just right with salt. And 'light' is just as selfless about keeping attention focused on others, and not itself. Consider when someone walks into a beautifully decorated room, and says, "That wall painting is so beautiful". The painting stands out because the spotlight focuses and pulls your eye to it, and the soft gleaming light brings out its fresh colors). Normally, we don't say 'What a beautiful light bulb!' But we do marvel over the objects that the light bulb reveals. So, also, we do not notice the salt' and 'light'. But, they are what make the whole experience so blessed! Jesus wants disciples to be that way for all other people, in every encounter.

Even though Jesus sets the standard high for His followers, He is always the 'realist' too. I think that is why he includes a mention of 'salt losing its taste'. What seasons salt, when it goes flat? I guess then we go back to the mines and get more! Of course, for us Christians, that means going back to the source, that is Christ. If we become 'flat' in taste or our light grows 'dim' we need to return to Jesus, and be renewed. Disciples do grow weary and wear thin, but that is why it is crucial to periodically be rejuvenated and refilled with Christ's presence. We call a renewing like that our 'rest with Christ' or our 'sabbath recovery'. We do it every week at Mass, but it can also happen every day in our times of prayer and recollection. Everyone needs 'Sabbath time' to rebuild, and re-energize. Think of it as salt keeping its bite, and light staying bright! Jesus wants His disciples to keep their edge, staying effective but also staying refreshed. Sometimes people run candles lit on both ends, (or leave their salt exposed to 'everyday' weather risks), but that guarantees 'burn-out' or 'barneness'. Even though cowboys in the old wild west glamorized going out in a blaze of glory, or as Neil Young sang in his 1979 song 'My My, Hey, Hey' that 'it is better to burn out than to rust out', Jesus doesn't want his followers 'trailing out' that way. Jesus desires that His disciples know where their salt and light come from: Him. Jesus alone can keep our lights shining and salt tasty. So we have to keep with Him, to prevent losing our spiritual advantage. The extra value that Jesus wants us to share, comes from Him. As humble servants of Christ, any extra we have, comes from Jesus. He is, first and last, salt and light for everyone. Peace,

Fr Brian
