Tonight will be the Book Auction

Carol Joachim and Connie Murphy will be conducting a silent auction with all types of books available. Come early to view the books up for auction, place some bids, and then there will be a short period of time after the meeting to check your bids before the auction is closed.

Joy Claire Boudreaux passed away on October 23, 2017 at the age of 80. She was a member of the Crescent City Depression Glass Club for 18 years and serviced as Vice-President 2015-2016. We enjoyed all of her stories connected to so much of her collections over the years. She will be missed by everyone. Services will be held on Thursday, November 2, 2017 at 12 PM in the Chapel of Lake Lawn Metairie Funeral Home, 5100 Pontchartrain Blvd in New Orleans. Visitation begins at 10 AM. In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to St. Michael Special School at 1522 Chippewa St, New Orleans, LA 70130

Oct. Program: Stars and Bars by Alice Lowe

Many thanks to Alice Lowe for sharing her beautiful collection. The salad bowl with fork and spoon was a wedding present to her Mom and Dad, their theme was Red, White, and Blue. She has a large collection today including: vases, tulip bowl, soup bowl, nappy, entertainment (luncheon) plates, platter, candle sticks her Mom's Perfume bottle, small and medium glasses (goes with), small pitch (goes with).

The National Depression Glass Museum now has a set of Stars and Bars donated by Alice Lowe.

She also brought a copy of Cruising the Coast with an article about her 1964 Chevy Impala that she and her late husband got for their 50th wedding Anniversary.
