HERITAGE SOCIETY DINNER AND FUNDRAISING AUCTION SEPT. 17

The Amana Heritage Society's annual Harvest Dinner and Silent Auction is scheduled for Saturday September 17 at the Homestead church building. The event once again promises to be a great time with appetizers, a delicious dinner catered by Phatt Daddy's, live music by Guy Drollinger, and of course the silent auction of wonderful art, crafts, services and unique experiences donated by local individuals and businesses. Doors open at 5:30 P.M. with dinner served at 7:00 P.M. Dinner tickets are $25 each.

In conjunction with the dinner the Heritage Society is holding a raffle featuring a grand prize of $1500 in Amana Society gift certificates. Raffle tickets are $100 and include 2 dinner admissions. Raffle winners will be drawn that evening.

Raffle and dinner tickets can be purchased from any Amana Heritage Society board member or at the Amana Heritage Museum office. Phone 319-622-3567 or e-mail amanaheritage@southslope.net for information.

APFELFEST - GOT APPLES?

The colonies are hosting Apfelfest again this year on Saturday, Sept. 24. An event for the whole family is planned in the Homestead apple orchard. Last year guests at Apfelfest were looking to buy bags of apples. We are looking for local people who might have apples to sell. Please contact June at 319-622-3937 if you would like to sell your apples at Apfelfest.

HOMES NEEDED

The Amana Arts Guild has Christmas on its mind specifically our Christmas Haus Tour!

We are sending out a request to the Amana Colony community-would you consider having your home on our Christmas Haus Tour this year? We would love to have you! As a non-profit organization the tour is a major fund raiser for us, the money raised goes to sponsoring classes, workshops, research, lectures, performances, apprenticeships, exhibits and presentations. We maintain a facility in High Amana which includes 2 activity areas, a weaving studio, and an exhibit gallery and museum sales shop. In our sales shop we promote the local Amana cultural economy by encouraging production of traditional colony crafts by local artisans and offer them an outlet to sell their items. We preserve a blacksmith and wagon shop in West Amana and we sponsor events and programs for all ages that attract approximately 5000 persons annually to our area.

The dates for the tour this year are Saturday December 3rd 10am-4pm and Sunday December 4th from 1-5pm.

If you are interested please email amanarts@southslope.net or call 319-622-3678

FEATHERS IN THE WIND

My screen saver has a picture of our granddaughter, Rose, and her friend, Dilly, walking toward school.

Today she will enter first grade and I am wondering how I can be there to protect her from any bullies or even a teacher that might not understand how shy she is and other important things.

I was a mess when we first sent our oldest son to school. Charlemagne even took a week's vacation off just to make sure I would not go into serious mourning.

We ended up painting most of our apartment that week so the week was not wasted on tears.

My Uncle Carl was at the "cross-roads" making sure that the children were headed in the right direction to their classroom.

Our son was told that his classroom was "down that way" and left behind by the boy who was to show him the way. Uncle Carl walked with him to the Kindergarten room, but not so closely that he would be embarrassed to be "escorted."

I think the funniest story I ever heard was when my father-in-law was taken to school by an older neighbor boy. They walked up the hill to and from the school in Amana.

Anyway my father-in-law was led to the door and the neighbor boy said, "You go in there, I'm going fishing today."

Charlemagne went to school with only some of the crayons in the box because his parents thought he would lose them anyway. (Knowing him, he still has those crayons hidden someplace.)

I got to go to South Amana for school. I remember that my pencil box was in the shape of a big blue pencil and that I had a Roy Rogers lunch box.

I got to sit at the blue table along with Steven Baumgartel, Linda Blechschmidt Schuerer and this other boy whose favorite color was orange and therefore (I surmised) was not worth dealing with.

It was years later that I found out that Mrs. E. Berger not only was the janitor, but she kept an eye out as to which children were shy. BOTH Charlemagne and I were considered shy and thus got to see her fish pond. Naturally we felt that was the best thing we could have since that playground equipment looked sort of dangerous to us.

Today we begin yet another chapter. I truly wish all the children a good year at school with many, many happy memories and friends.

"Experience the Comfort and Security of Retirement Living in the Amanas"

From the Family of Virginia Hoppe

We want to extend our deepest gratitude to Dr. Deb Wilbur and the staff at the Hall Perrine Cancer Center and the Amana Family Practice Clinic for the exceptional care our Mom, Virginia Hoppe, received during her treatment for cancer. We wish to thank Home Instead, Essence of Life Hospice, Colonial Manor and the volunteers of the Amana Church Essen Wagon for their help these past few months.

Our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and family members who visited Virg, sent cards and made calls. She so appreciated your thoughtfulness. We are very grateful too for the loving support we have received since Virg's passing and for the many memorial contributions made in her honor to Safe Haven of Iowa County. A special thank you to Kloster Funeral Home, Elder Alan Trumpold, Bill Leichsenring and the Ox Yoke Inn.
