Acrylite® MUSEUM Quality Material

ACRYLITE® acrylic sheet offers museum-quality UV protection and the beautiful clarity of the finest picture frame glazing without the breakability. It is a safer alternative at half the weight of glass, more resistant to impact, and easier to handle and ship.

With important safeguarding characteristics, these products provide the preferred aesthetics and conservation performance required for vitrines and display cases that protect cultural, biological, and historical exhibits. This material is also popular for protecting paper-borne artwork, prints, and documents from fading, yellowing, and becoming brittle.

- ACRYLITE® OP-3 sheet is pure protection from the irreversible effects of UV damage. It protects from both natural and artificial light and filters out 98% of damaging ultraviolet rays. ACRYLITE sheet's UV protection is part of the structure of the sheet; it can't scratch off!

- ACRYLITE® OP-2 cell cast sheet offers superior light transmission and filters out 98% of damaging ultraviolet rays. It can be formed, screen printed, and painted. Ideal for museum vitrines and for framing very large pieces of art. Also available with an abrasion and chemical resistant coating.

- ACRYLITE® GAR acrylic sheet is cell cast with unsurpassed clarity and brilliance. Its superior resistance to abrasion and chemicals, including commercial cleaners, makes it highly suited for numerous transparent applications including museum vitrines, transportation windows, and architectural glazing.

- ACRYLITE® AR acrylic continuously manufactured sheet offers excellent optical clarity and high impact strength with abrasion and chemical resistant properties. It resists marring and scratching from public contact, daily cleanings, and airborne dirt and dust. Perfect for P-O-P displays, store fixtures, flat panel display monitors, signs and framing.

- ACRYLITE® P-99 sheet features non-glare surface properties for easy viewing. It is ideal for picture framing and sign applications.

For exceptional showcasing and enduring protection, let the professionals at AIN Plastics assist with your selection.
