

RF's Newsletter - July 2016

If you're receiving this newsletter, it is because we're friends, you've shown interest in what I offer, or you're already a client of Rempp Financial. I know you probably receive several newsletters already, so I'm going to try my best to bring valuable information while at the same time keeping the content light and entertaining. Links in the different sections will provide additional content for those interested in learning more.

Bringing Positive Change

TWP

Refer a doctor, dentist, chiropractor... and I'll send them a free book.

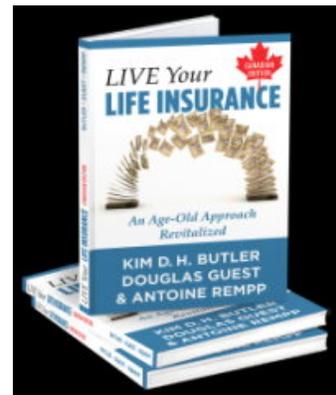

Refer a friend

Start Your Own Bank

Banks make money. Lots of it. Learn how you can create yours.

Create Your Bank

LYLI

Get your free copy of Live Your Life Insurance (LYLI).

Get the Book

What's happening at the Rempps?

Happy Canada Day!! We are so blessed to live in this wonderful country! We've dressed the girls up for the occasion, and look forward to a great celebration with fireworks tonight.

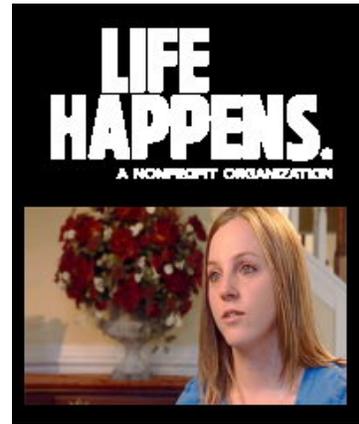

June has been a pretty busy month here at the Rempp's, especially with my parents visiting from France.

Unlike several of our friends, our house has suffered only little damages from the fire, and our prayers go to all of you who have lost everything. It is a really difficult time for you, and a lot of frustration can build up easily.

Interestingly enough, the suddenness of the fire has helped some people realize how fast things can change, and how important insurance is. Not just insurance on their house, which at the end of the day can be replaced or rebuilt, but insurance on your most important asset: your life and your ability to earn an income.

Because Life Happens - Not enough time...

Every month I post a video from LifeHappens.org, a nonprofit organization dedicated to showing people why they need to take personal financial responsibility. This month's video is about a man who let his insurance lapse and then became sick and un-insurable. First you need proper insurance, then once you have it, you really need to think twice before cancelling it in order to save a few dollars.

Giving Back to the Community

My wife Amy is a wildlife artist. Her art is a great outlet for us to donate to charities, as we believe it is important to give back. Amy's style called Sky Dance Series has been inspired by Fort McMurray where we lived for seven years. Our hearts go to those who were affected by the fire, and especially those who lost everything. Amy's going to start a new painting about the event that will be sold to raise money for those in need. We will keep you posted as the project gets closer to completion. You can see more of Amy's work at amykeller.com.

How about a free ride on the insurance's dime?

I've recently come across a company that not only offers competitive life and critical illness insurance products, but also has a benefit program available to its clients/members. This benefit program allows you to get entertained, or to entertain or contribute to a charitable organization, on their dime. Sounds pretty cool to me!

For a very small monthly premium, you and your family could have access to some great activities completely for free. All you have to do as a member is log in and pick which event you'd like to attend.

And if you like to organize activities to raise money or contribute to your favorite charity, you submit your project to the insurance company and if it meets the criteria, they will give you up to $2,500 towards your hard costs.

A lot of my clients are business owners, so that is yet another way to get great exposure while not having to cover all the expenses. If you'd like to learn more about the program, let me know, I myself think it is a fantastic opportunity, and will start thinking about the next event I will organize!

Tip of the Month

Last month I introduced Connie Clarke from Mission Computers. She's really good at helping people improve their efficiency on all their computer tasks. She agreed to contribute to my newsletter, so please enjoy!

Excel will colour for you

Do you want to color code your data? Have the largest numbers and/or smallest numbers stand out? Use the conditional formatting feature.

 800	 800	 800
 30	 30	 30
 75	 75	 75
 35	 35	 35
 100	 100	 100
 110	 110	 110
 256	 256	 256
 120	 120	 120
 300	 300	 300
 65	 65	 65
 49	 49	 49

1. Select the data to be applied with color (full column of numbers, or entire spreadsheet)
2. From the Home Ribbon bar, click on "Conditional Formatting"
3. Choose "Data Bars", "Color Scales" or "Icon Sets"
4. If you do not want the color coding or scales any longer, simply remove by selecting the area first, then clicking on "Conditional Formatting", "Clear rules"

You can use the "Conditional Formatting" feature for Word as well, by creating a custom rule for cells that contain specific text.

Entrepreneur of the Month

One of the characteristics of successful business owners is the ability to work with a team and to encourage each other. The majority of my clients are also business owners, so each month, I will feature one of them in this newsletter.

This month I'd like to feature Stephanie Lopushinsky, owner of GoToBrokers.

Stephanie and I have been friends for several years now, and her positive attitude and passion are very contagious. She has years of experience finding the best deals on mortgages, and works with clients in Fort McMurray and the Edmonton region.

As a client of hers, I've been pleased with how easy and efficient the renewal process on our mortgage was! I'm an insurance broker, I find the best products for my clients among all the different insurance companies. Just makes sense to get a mortgage broker do the same with all the lenders.

Copyright © 2016 Rempp Financial, All rights reserved.

Traditional Financial Planning is failing. Don't become a statistic. Help me be the change you'd like to see in the industry.

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.