

Monica Genta

Building Relationships with Students and Staff

Wednesday, June 5 8:30-3:30 $100

Highland Community College

Student Conference Center Room H201

Compassion. Camaraderie. Connections.

Most schools have something called study hall, homeroom, tutorial, or advisory. But if we are being honest, this time period truly lacks purpose or real opportunities for our kids to learn and grow. In reality, this time is underutilized when it could be the most meaningful minutes of the entire day.

Learn how “free period” can be truly transformed into something meaningful for the social and emotional development of adolescents and the relationship building process for both students and staff. This unique approach to advisory creates an atmosphere that is open, exciting, and fun for kids and teachers alike. Come explore classroom strategies that will help build trust and rapport with students and learn how to turn a 1st hour “morning class” into a “1st hour family.”

By popular request, Monica returns this year with a topic that fits our SEL focus. To register: www.roe8.com

