Okay, anything else, Mr. Glaysher? You want to call any witnesses or anything?

MR. GLAYSHER: Yes, I will, I'd like to call a witness.

THE COURT: As to this account?

MR. GLAYSHER: As to this account?

THE COURT: Yes, sir. As to the subject matter that's to be litigated in this court.

MR. GLAYSHER: Well, you mean you're not gonna uphold the constitution, I can't call a witness --

THE COURT: Mr. Glaysher, I don't care if you ever pay this. I really don't. So whether you pay it in gold or frankincense is not of any import to me. It really doesn't make any difference, sir. So you're asking me to determine how much you should pay him, I don't care if you ever pay him. It's not the judge's, the part of this Court to tell you what to pay. In fact, judgments sit downstairs and they never get paid. The only, the only matter before this Court is to determine the amount of money that, if any, that a judgment should be settled on. Okay. Now how you equate or translate that after it's determined, that's your business.

MR. GLAYSHER: Well what, what money would you have me pay in, your Honor?

THE COURT: We better keep those.

You can give him a copy of the other ones.

But anyway, you file a claim of appeal with Circuit Court and this Court, you also make a request to the Court Stenographer for a copy of the Record. A copy of the Record must be filed within a certain amount of time that they can tell you, and you must file, as I say, a claim of appeal and then you have a certain number of days after that to file your appeal. Okay? Claim of appeal is nothing more than a little form, I hereby claim appeal. Okay? So-- but some, but the court clerks can give you that information, but if you don't file an appeal within twenty days, you've lost your right to appeal on this matter.

Any other questions before the Court recesses?

MR. GLAYSHER: I'd still like to have a motion for a more definite statement, dollars of what, am I, do I owe the Court? Dollars of what?

THE COURT: The Court has made the judgment of one thousand ninety-eight dollars and ninety-seven cents. And however you interpret that, sir. If you want that in coffee beans, that's okay with me. Really. Okay, thank you very much.

(At about 4:00 p.m. proceedings were concluded.)
