Since we have the space, we will include another of George ROSS' columns concerning the first permanent settler of Marion County. The names contained therein will not show in the index.

CAPTAIN SAMUEL YOUNG ARRIVED

Marion County's first permanent settler arrived seven years before Illinois achieved statehood. In the "Sesquicentennial History of Marion County" we read, "Late in December, 1811, Captain Samuel YOUNG and his nine-year-old son, Matthew, made their way from Kaskaskia to Vincennes along the trace. A heavy snow was falling. The two decided to make camp for the winter near a band of friendly Indians. They built a camp of poles and brush against the trunk of a fallen tree, leaving the south side open. A fire was kept burning all winter before the open front. This camp was located six miles southwest of Salem on Crooked Creek."

The birthplace of Capt. YOUNG is in dispute; a number of sources indicate that it was in Virginia. The Continental Historical Bureau, however, states, "He was born May 7, 1762, in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. Names of his parents and the country of their origin are not available. Samuel was 13 years of age when the War for Independence began." He enlisted in the colonial army when he reached his 18th birthday. He served with a unit of troops from his home state. He then returned to civilian life for three years. In 1781 he reenlisted with the troops of Virginia for an additional three months. Following the surrender of the British at Yorktown, he served another three month period dealing with skirmishes and mopping-up activities.

It appears that Capt. YOUNG was the roving kind for, according to Continental, he and his family lived for brief periods at the following locations: Rowan County, North Carolina; Rutherford County, North Carolina; Spartanburg County, South Carolina; Franklin County, Georgia; Sumner County, Tennessee; Logan County, Kentucky; Indiana; and Gallatin County, Illinois. "Mr. and Mrs. YOUNG had several children by the time they arrived at Gallatin County, in or near Shawneetown, in about 1803." Some were grown and married and had remained in Tennessee. Little is known of Mrs. YOUNG except that she bore Samuel six children and was thought to have died about 1810. Following the death of his mate, Samuel and his youngest son Matthew moved
