New Commander 10 Militia Group

Major-General J.M. Rockingham, General Officer Commanding Quebec Army Command, has announced the appointment of Colonel F. I. Ritchie to command No. 10 Militia Group.

Colonel Ritchie, 41, a well-known Montreal lawyer and a Queen's Counsel succeeds Brigadier D.C. Campbell who will hand over this command at a parade which will be held in Craig Street Armoury, 175 Craig Street East, at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, November 22nd.

The public is invited to attend the colorful ceremony in which armoured, artillery, infantry and other units of 10 Militia Group, together with their bands, will participate.

A native of Three Rivers, Colonel Ritchie prior to World War 11, was a member of the McGill University Canadian Officers Training Corps and the Three-Rivers Regiment. His father at one time commanded the Three-Rivers Regiment. His wartime service was with the Royal Canadian Artillery in Britain, Italy and North-west Europe. Immediately after the war he was a member of the Canadian Military Staff in Paris until 1946.

He then returned to Canada and to the Militia in the 20th Canadian Armoured Brigade until 1947. He took command of the Three-Rivers Regiment in 1948 and led this unit until 1946. He then commanded the 6th (Duke of Connaught's) Royal Canadian Hussars from 1936 to 1938. In 1957-58, Colonel Ritchie was president of the Royal Canadian Armoured Corps Association. Since early this year he has been General Staff Officer Grade 1 at 10 Militia Group Headquarters.

Colonel Ritchie takes command of 10 Militia Group at a crucial stage in the Militia's long history, with emphasis in its role in National Survival.

Colonel F. I. Ritchie

In conjunction with the Regular Army, the Militia is now responsible for the tasks of warning civilians of the imminence of an enemy attack, determining the location of nuclear explosions, assessing damage, carrying out the initial re-entry into areas damaged by nuclear weapons or affected by fallout, directing the police and fire services, repairing essential municipal services and supporting local government in the maintenance of law and order.

For this purpose, Militia units have been organized into mobile columns, issued with special equipment for survival operations. However, the militiaman will still spend much of his time in conventional military training, for the new responsibilities can be best performed by units organized, equipped and disciplined along military lines.

Y M C A Committee Chairman Outlines Active Adult Program

Mr. Keirstead, chairman of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA adult program committee, reported to the Board of Management recently that a new high has been reached in adult membership and participation.

The chairman said that a total of 649 young adults and adults are now actively involved in the numerous activities available to grown-ups in the Lachine-Dorval area. "These groups which meet at the 'Y' as well as other community centers have proven extremely successful, and once again illustrates the dynamic role of the 'Y' in our community," stated Mr. Keirstead. "People often tend to think of the 'Y' as a spot for youngsters only, but in fact our association here is prepared to meet the needs of every member of the family", said Mr. Keirstead.

An excellent example of this is the Ladies Day Out group. Each week women in both the Lachine and Dorval communities gather for informal sessions in physical fitness, group discussion, or to listen to a talk, or see a film. While in session, their children are cared for by trained "Y" leaders.

Other Physical fitness groups include the Swimming Class, the Badminton Club, and the Men's and Women's Keep Fit classes. Skill sessions in Millinery, Metal-craft, Sewing, Smocking, and Linoleum Mosaics, Painting and Skating are also in full swing.

Mr. Keirstead emphasized that to ensure the success of each of these clubs, sound leadership is essential. "We are pleased to say" he said, "that the quality of leadership at the Lachine-Dorval YMCA is of the highest caliber, and that each of our leaders is fully trained and qualified in their respective field".

Mr. Vic Hryhorchuk, Executive Secretary of the "Y", commenting on the chairman's report, said that he was extremely pleased with the progress that the "Y" has made in this field. However, he cautioned that the local Y is not completely self-sustaining and the help of every community member is needed in the present financial campaign to insure that this program can be continued.

"We must think of our 'Y' not just as a building on Provost Street",

CIBA Staff of 300 to Occupy New Premises in Dorval Monday

Ten days from now the name "Dorval" will begin to carry an added significance for the world of science, it was predicted to Lachine-Dorval Kinsmen at their regular meeting at the El Paso in Lachine last week by the pharmaceutical sales promotion manager of Dorval's newest industry, CIBA Company Limited.

Operations at the company's glass-faced new buildings at 200 Metropolitan Boulevard, a few hundred yards east of the underpass, are slated to shift into high gear when some 300 employees report for work on the morning of November 23rd.

Transfer of the Canadian headquarters of the company from Montreal to Dorval, explained Fred Ruppel, was prompted in part by expropriation of the CIBA building on McGill College and Cathcart to make way for the north wing of the Place Ville Marie project.

In Dorval, the new buildings of the company will house its pharmaceutical division, dyestuffs division and plastic department. An allied company, Mount Royal Chemicals, will use a separate building for production, packaging and warehousing.

"CIBA is not only one of the world's leading manufacturers of ethical drugs," Mr. Ruppel told the Kinsmen, "but also it is perhaps the best-known name in the field of textile and other dyes, and a prominent name in the development of remarkable new plastics. The name is closely identified, I venture to say, with pioneering research in drugs and other chemicals."

In considering the direct advantages to Dorval that a dynamic new industry might bring, the speaker noted that CIBA will offer "increasing opportunities in the way of employment for our youngsters."

Arrival of CIBA will also mean, he added, that many staff members will be hoping to make their homes in Dorval. The presence of a 300-man payroll, it seemed likely would offer possibilities for both commercial and residential growth.

On the subject of taxes, Mr. Ruppel pointed out that although he had no figures at hand, it did occur to him that: "Acquisition by Dorval of any stable and substantial industrial plant should help to lighten the weight of individual rates."

Apart from the direct economic advantages for Dorval, Mr. Ruppel mentioned the factor of nationwide and international publicity. "As a maker of ethical drugs," he observed, "we are not what you call a big advertiser. That is, we don't use billboards. At the same time, I estimate that in the next year we may be mailing two million or more pieces of literature bearing the words: 'CIBA -- Dorval'."

The founding in Dorval of what is known as a "clean" industry had other interesting features, the speaker continued. The architectural whole is designed for both utility and beauty, and great care has been taken with the landscaping. Many cherished landmarks of the old Royal Montreal golf course have been preserved intact.

Turning to consider the development of CIBA in Canada, Mr. Ruppel noted that the Canadian headquarters was established in Montreal 37 years ago. The parent company was founded in Switzerland 75 years ago, and had its origin in the dye industry. As early as 1889, CIBA signalled its entry to the pharmaceutical field with a display of products at the world exhibition in Paris.

Today, the name of CIBA is borne by 41 firms in countries throughout the world. For Canadians, this means a steady chain of benefits through the rapid interchange of scientific information and reports of discoveries.

L.U.W.C. Study Groups Attract Many Members

The second fall meeting of the Lakeshore University Women's Club was held on Monday evening, November 9th, at the St. Columba-by-the-Lake Presbyterian Church Hall in Valois.

The President, Mrs. M.A. Ross, presided. Mrs. K.D. Sheldrick brought a request from C.F.U.W. Headquarters, and Mrs. J.W. Eakins commented on the Presidents' Fall Conference of the Canadian Association of Consumers, when it was decided to make a concerted effort in the form of signed petitions against the use of trading stamps.

Mrs. H.F. Hart, the Study Group Chairman, announced that over 60 members are now participating in Study Groups. At her suggestion three new committees were formed to study Penal Reform, the Status of Women, and a group to study ways of furthering the aims of the International Refugee Year.

The guest speaker was Professor M.H. Feroz of the Department of Islamic Studies, McGill University. Mr. Feroz, who has had wide experience in the fields of radio, journalism and diplomacy, spoke on "The Status of Women in the Arab World." He outlined the basic ideas of Moslem law and how education has progressed from the old-type religious primary education, on through to University level. An enthusiastic question period followed Mr. Feroz's talk, and later coffee was served.

Reading Aloud

by Dr. Hilda Neatby

Patroness of Young Canada's Book Week

It has recently been said in Canada that a bad book can do no harm. Is the converse true? Can a good book do no good? I would emphatically dissent from both propositions. Books are a potent force for good and for evil, and especially for good or evil in the lives of the young. Nothing is more certain than that young people will find bad "literature." It is of immense importance that they should also meet good books.

Once was shown a work of a factual nature with the remark that it was "very educational." I resented the implication that such works are more educational than others, although it is indeed a source of satisfaction to the mass of useful information needed by young people today is available to them in well-written and well-produced works with abundant illustrations.

But education, broadly conceived, demands above all works of imagination: poetry, drama and fiction. Education, we are told, is growth and is life. If this broad general meaning is accepted, then works of imagination must be among the primary materials for education. Children cannot really grow, they cannot truly live, without them. We grow by the child's life is immensely extended and enriched by those books which lead him into other worlds, and then return him to his own with a new vision and a deeper insight.

As for living, we live through close and clear contacts with other human beings. In the world of books the child meets people, his contacts with them are free and familiar. He can frequent his book friends as he chooses. They never rebel him. They provide a perfect form of escape when his contacts with the world are difficult. But book people, if they are the real people of good books will return him to the world of his contemporaries more perceptive and more human.

Books are sometimes set aside (as slightly anti-social) in favour of a "group activity." It is too often forgotten that a book may be the centre of one of the best of all group activities, reading aloud. Librarians have set an admirable example in maintaining or renewing this almost forgotten art. At one time it was a central activity in almost every good home. Life in some Canadian homes is still enriched by it. In too many, however, it is now practised only for the benefit of those who cannot read, instead of bringing all together for common enjoyment of the kind of pleasure which once really tasted never palls.

Young Canada's Book Week is dedicated to the mission of making good books better known to all young Canadians, and to their elders. It is a pleasure and privilege to be allowed to act as patron in such a splendid cause.

Reports From Ottawa

One of the planks in my election platform was a promise to strive for some improvement in our civil defence organization. Several years ago, I attended the National Civil Defence College with over one hundred mayors from all parts of Canada, and was rather unfavourably impressed by the backward state of preparations for survival in the hydrogen bomb era. Many of us can remember how we prepared for World War II by practicing the methods of warfare used in World War I. It seemed to me that the Civil Defence College, probably through no fault of their own, was spending entirely too much time on instruction in routine matters, such as tying reef knots and manipulating stirrup pumps. Admittedly, valuable work was done in demonstrating most efficiently the potential horrors of nuclear war but nothing very practical seemed to be achieved in the organization of the drastic measures necessary to prepare for such an unhappy event.

There is a great deal of misconception today in the public mind as to the basic facts involved in preparation for the hydrogen age. In the next few weeks I propose to set forth some of the information we have at hand in the hope that this knowledge may at least help the citizens of this riding to decide where they stand and what they can do to protect their families, should the need ever arise.

There appears to be, at the present time, two distinct schools of thought on the part of the public. One is that we will all be destroyed and that there is no use wasting our time in preparation of any kind. The opposite school appears to believe that everything will work out alright and that they don't need to do much about it as someone else is looking after the problem for them. It is quite obvious to the logical mind that the truth is somewhere in between these two opposing attitudes.

The most perplexing factor in this whole problem and the one which makes it most difficult to set a definite policy is the tremendously accelerating progress of new scientific discoveries which render older ones obsolete almost before they become known to those responsible for planning and organizing this work. We are living at a time when apparently even the most recently developed aircraft have become obsolete. The feelings of airforce personnel today will certainly be appreciated by the cavalry men of yesterday who had to give up their beloved horses in World War II. An ironic aspect of this situation is the distinct possibility that after the first terrible day of bombing we may find ourselves without the industrial organization to continue producing modern weapons, either nuclear or conventional and thus find ourselves forced back into the use of more primitive weapons, including the horse. This is a thought which could be extended to a fascinating degree, but for the moment, I shall have to leave it to the imagination of the reader.

The term "civil defence" has fallen into some unpopularity lately for the very reason that it may be confused with the obsolete meaning of the term in reference to the last War. Today there is some doubt as to the exact meaning of both words "civilian" and "defence." There is some reason to believe that the distinction between "civilian" and

"fighting men" has largely been obliterated by the concept of total nuclear war and certainly "defence" is a questionable word in regard to weapons which arrive without warning and destroy millions of people within seconds. The term which has come into popular use, as more in keeping with the newer concept of war, is "nuclear survival," abbreviated to "NS."

Next week I will describe the policy which necessarily exists only for the moment and the proposed organization to implement it.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor,
The Dorval Reporter,

May I use your columns to give our residents some further explanations about Dorval's Three Pool Campaign?

First, who should sign a pledge? One pledge should be signed by one person in every family that did not have the right to use Walter's Park Pool in 1959. Only one pledge should be sent in from each family but none from families that used the pool last season.

Second, when should pledges be mailed? They must be mailed immediately, if our people want the two new pools next summer. Prompt action is a must. The opportunity to get these pools is NOW - payment can be delayed until May, 1960, but the decision to participate must be made this year.

Third, what do I get for the $20 Annual Swimming Fee I am asked to pay? Every member of a family gets unlimited swims for 80 days a year. Every member can take weekly swimming lessons, under expert swimming instructors, at no extra charge. Hundreds of people think this is Dorval's best bargain. You pay only $20 - there is nothing else to pay (for ten years, D.R.A. members concerned will get a $5 discount, to repay them for their Capital Contributions which built the first pool).

During the two seasons the Walters Park Pool has operated, every applicant has been accepted. Early last August, it became obvious that applicants would have to be turned away next summer, unless additional pools were built. That is why the Dorval Recreation Association organized this campaign, and is now putting the question of increasing pool space up to the people of Dorval.

If they fail to send in enough pledges, one pool will have to serve, but the Association will have no recourse but to limit membership. That is why all those who have signed pledges should attempt to get their friends

The dance held last Friday by the adult members was a great success. The Ladies Auxiliary and especially Mrs. Dinelle did a wonderful job of making the hall more cozy with the addition of handmade curtains. A vote of thanks to Ed. Groulx too for the finishing touches to rods etc, for the curtains. Prizes were won at the dance by Mrs. Mimi O'Keef, Mrs. Dorothy Gallagher, and the table of Mr. McHugh. The next adult dance will be held on December 11th when the Xmas Draw winners will be known. Tickets are obtainable for the Xmas Draw from any of the Directors. Please, members, try to take a few tickets to help your club. There is so much to be done but it all takes money.

TAILORED BLANKET

For those who toss and turn in bed, losing blankets on the way, a Lincolnshire firm has found a solution: the "Ariel" fitted blanket.

Made with corners to fit the foot of the mattress and nylon tuck-in sides, the blanket has a honeycomb cellular weave in pure virgin wool which traps tiny packets of air into a warm insulating layer.

Not only are the blankets moth-proof, shrink resistant and easily laundered at home, but bed-making with them becomes a less wearisome task.

Available in four colours - pink, yellow, green and blue - the fitted blankets are obtainable in both single and double bed sizes.

VERSATILE FLOOD-LIGHTING

A new floodlighting system for buildings, which can give an ever changing colour pattern, was recently demonstrated in England by the manufacturers.

The "Anilume" system, which can be operated by remote radio control, uses different banks of floodlights and varying colours. In one case, it was demonstrated on a college built of granite, where it was used to suggest the building's appearance at different periods of day and night - sunrise to moonlight. In another, the lighting was used for spectacular effect at a theatre in a sequence representing "dance, mystery and storm."

After a successful audition and try-out, Linda Martin (extreme right) and Wendy Merry, two promising students of Mrs Benton of Surrey Gardens Home and School Ballet project have been accepted for Junior Ballet. They will continue their lessons at the Home and School classes, as well as attending a Saturday morning Ballet School, under the supervision of Eleanor Moore Ashton.

In these projects, one year is devoted to serious technique and the following is recital year. The technique year is climaxed by an examination for the children and a demonstration to which parents are invited. The syllabus requires the teacher to cover one and half season's work. In recital year only one half season's work is accomplished, and the balance of the year spent on recital preparation.

Kin Korner

At the last executive meeting of the Kinmen Club of Lachine-Dorval on Thursday, November 12th, the club was requested to assist The Dorval Safety Council with their Bicycle Contest in the Spring of 1960. The executive voted unanimously in favour of this.

Kin Don Gardham advises that our Annual Christmas Welfare Basket Project is now underway.

Our Air Cadets, No. 626 Lakeshore-Kinmen Squadron, is now in its fourth year of operation and is recognized to be one of the most successful squadrons in the Quebec Provincial Command.

Under the capable direction of F/L Lloyd S. Hyman of Lachine, F/O Don Dow of Dorval (also a Kinman), Adjutant F/O George Brady and seven Civilian Instructors, some 120 Cadets, meeting on Monday nights at George Esplin

School, receive training in Navigation, Theory of Flight, Aero-engines, Meteorology, Armament, Drill and other allied subjects. All Cadets are issued full uniforms.

At present, our senior Cadets have completely overhauled a 125 HP Radial Air Cooled Aero-engine, purchased by the Squadron last season. The engine will be mounted on a hydroplane which the Cadets are also rebuilding. The finished product is expected to be launched on Lake St. Louis next summer.

Another group of Cadets are building a full size Cherokee MK 11 Glider, the plans for which were purchased from a firm in California. Under the experienced supervision of Civilian Instructor J. Norman Smith of Lachine, the glider will take shape during the winter months.

Several Cadets have shown outstanding individual ability. Cadet Graham Keeping of Dorval successfully passed his flying training this summer under a special scholarship and now has his Civilian Pilot's Licence.

A second Cadet, John Dennison of Lachine, at the instigation of our commanding Officer, entered and won an essay writing contest on "Montreal and the Air Age", the prize being a Flying Scholarship. John will take his flying training course at Curtis Reid Flying Club during the next summer holiday.

Two other Cadets took special 7-week Courses at Camp Borden, Ontario - Cadet Vic Suthren on Senior Leader's Course and Cadet Piper on Drill Instructors Course. Twenty-two other Cadets attended the two Summer Camps at R. C. A. F. Station, Clinton, Ontario.

The Squadron is continuing to recruit boys from 14 to 18 years of age. Boys attending Grade 8 in school are also eligible. If anyone is interested, please phone ME. 7-6683 on Monday Evenings from 7:30-10:00 p.m. or come in person the George Esplin School, 16th Avenue, Lachine any Monday evening.

Our next General Meeting will be held on Thursday, November 19th at the El Paso Cafe.

C.G.I.T. Hold Lakeshore Rally

On Nov. 7th and 8th, approximately two hundred girls, leaders, and guests participated in the Annual Lakeshore C.G.I.T. Rally held at Cedar Park United Church, Pointe Claire.

The Chairman of the Rally Planning Committee was Mrs. T.G. Walker of Summerlea United Church who developed a varied and interesting program.

The theme for this year's Rally, "Know God, Serve Others" was presented by Miss Margaret Quigley, Secretary of the Girls' Work Board of the Council of Christian Education for the province of Quebec, and was further explained at the vesper service, led by Mrs. Peter McKague.

The Conference featured a singing, games and interest groups of handicrafts and drama. Miss Quigley and Mrs. O.M. A. Warren, representing the W.M.S., as Secretary of the Affiliated C.G.I.T. groups of the Montreal Presbytery, gave the leaders many helpful suggestions for their individual groups in general planning and mission study.

An item which contributed greatly to the fun of the afternoon was a dramatization by the various groups of "A Day at Camp." Valois United Church girls were awarded the Rally banner as winners of the photography contest and St. Columba-By-the-Lake Presbyterian girls were runners-up.

The highlight of Saturday's program was a talk by Miss Gladys Thorber, a missionary home on furlough from India, who wore a beautiful sari and demonstrated "Women's Rights in the Province of Quebec" as her model. She also brought other items of Indian clothing she showed the group. She gave a most informative address about life of the Christian girl in a Hindu community, and the interest of the group was apparent by the number of questions which are asked in the period following the talk.

At the Sunday evening church service, the Rev. V.C. Rose welcomed the Conference and the Cedar Park United Church Junior Choir provided an anthem, "The Lord's My Shepherd," and led the singing. The theme, "Know God, Serve Others" was again presented to the girls by Miss Margaret Quigley. She was assisted in the service by Miss Margaret Quigley and Vice President of C.G.I.T. Miss Norma Annand of Wesley United, Montreal, and Miss Carol Ravenscroft of Stratthome United, Dorval.

Following the service, all the Canadian Girls in Training and their leaders met in the Church Hall where they formed a friendship circle and sang Taps to close the Lakeshore Rally of 1959.

Lawyer to Address AOTS Men's Club

Miss Rosa Gaultieri, distinguished lady lawyer of Montreal, will address the regular monthly meeting of the Dorval United Church AOTS Men's Club, on the occasion of their annual Ladies' Night, to be held on Monday evening, November 23, in the Church Hall. Dinner will be served at 6.30 p.m. The affair is open to Club Members, interested Church members, and their Ladies.

Miss Gaultieri is a daughter of the Manse, her father having been a United Church minister. She was born in Toronto, received her early education in Niagara Falls, Ontario, and attended McGill University Law School, from which she graduated magna cum laude. She was awarded a scholarship in International Law, and did her post-graduate work in the United States and Switzerland. She is presently engaged in private practice in downtown Montreal.

Miss Gaultieri has lectured widely to varied groups, mainly on the rights of women in this fair Province, where our Civil Law follows the Napoleonic Code. Her subject on this occasion will be "Women's Rights in the Province of Quebec," a topic of particular interest to all (but more particularly the women!).

A pinch of bicarbonate of soda in the drinking water will help sweeten your dog's breath if it becomes unpleasant. If the odour is extremely disagreeable have him checked by your veterinarian who will probably clean the teeth as well.

During their most important years the Montreal Y.M.C.A. shares their quest for values for living

Their characters are taking shape in a society that raises questions like these:

- Does growing national prosperity automatically mean a better life?
- Do more comfortable homes necessarily enrich family living?
- Does more schooling answer the question: "What shall I do with my life?"
- Does more leisure insure the full, creative use of time and talent?

More young people than ever will be turning to the Y.M.C.A. this year for worthwhile education and recreation... for help in finding and achieving their true goal in life.

In city branches and suburban program centres — in churches and schools, playgrounds and private homes — the Y helps provide the leadership, the program, the sense of direction and belonging so important to every developing boy and girl.

Many of the Y's most valuable character-guiding activities are provided at nominal cost. Yet all but 11% of its program costs are covered by membership, tuition and other fees. This financial gap is made up, each year, by people who value and endorse the work the Montreal Y.M.C.A. is doing — and who contribute to its Maintenance Campaign. Your financial support is needed to achieve this year's goal. Give all you can when the volunteer campaign worker calls.

YOUNG CANADA BOOK WEEK

A MIRACULOUS FIVE CENT'S WORTH

"You'll find more books like these in your public library," says Beth Gillanders of Hidden Pages. "There may be one right around the corner from your house."

"NOT IN MONTREAL," chorus my imitative children, taking the cue from their mother, who in four years in this province has not yet overcome the initial shock of discovering Quebec's dearth of free libraries.

Well will many readers, born in other parts of our Dominion, remember their first salmon pink, five-cent library card. What a wonderful world was theirs through its ownership! I can recall the faintly medicinal smell of my Public Library. It was a converted church with a vaulted roof, and amber light filtered in golden patches through the coloured glass windows onto the worn linoleum floor. But it was a hallowed place, for here I met for the first time the Pobble-who-has-no-toes and with him Poob and Tom Kitten and the Dutch Twins, and later on Jim Davis and Merrylips and Swallows and Amazons, and hundreds more who justify for recognition as I write.

It is heartening to know that in a community where it has always been difficult to get books there are so many people of faith and vision who translate their dreams into reality for our children. Make this the week you visit the Dorval Public Library with your child.

Perhaps he has brought home a cowboy book or a mystery story. Come and see for yourself the good variety of reading material being collected and growing all the time, and encourage him to select the best. Mrs. Lachance makes every week "Young Canada Book Week" and this week is marking it in a special way, details of which are announced in IN FOCUS in this issue of The Reporter.

Each School in Dorval is observing YOUNG CANADA BOOK WEEK in its own way, the most unique and meaningful being devised by Mr. H.A. Simon, Principal of Dorval Gardens School. Time is being set aside in every classroom for the students to select books to be purchased for the school library with funds allotted on a per pupil basis by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal. Miss Dumoreau, the Librarian of the Protestant School Board, has prepared the catalogues to be used by the children, and some of the teachers have visited the Board's Exhibition Library in Fairmount School in preparation for this event.

BEAUREPAIRE DRAMA SOCIETY UNIQUE

Unique in the annals of drama societies affiliated with local churches is this United Church Society, sponsored by the Women's Association of Beaurepaire United Church.

Under the direction of Mrs. Pachita Frances, the Society features four major events in the season, two of which are presented especially for its sponsors, and combine a social evening with a dramatic production. Their Christmas presentation, preceded by a supper, "A Plot to Overthrow Christmas" has become a greatly anticipated annual event for the W.A. and their families. Again, in June, a dramatic reading or studio production becomes the feature of a social evening for the Women's Association and their husbands.

In addition the Society presents two major productions open to the general public. The first of these this season is DEAR OCTOPUS by Dodie Smith which will be presented in Beaurepaire United Church Hall for three successive evenings, beginning Thursday, November 26 at 8:30 p.m. It is a comedy to delight the whole family. "We have a mother, father and son of one of our church families all acting in the show," said Mrs. Frances proudly.

The Beaurepaire Drama Society has much to be proud of. Part of its last season's production SEPARATE TABLES is featured on the Documentary series HERITAGE, to be televised this month on Channel 6.

LITERARY LIGHT

UNFORGOTTEN

From the shadows I have searched the star-bright skies,
And found the fairest stars that are your eyes;
In the darkest mud I have lain and touched your cheek,
And when my back grew weary; my knees grew weak,
I have heard the sweetened hauteur of your voice:
"On soldier-courage-yet we shall rejoice;
Though fear I know at times upon my way;
Though drenched in sweat, and how to blood I lay -
Always the prayer is there: the will to give,
That you, my heart, and others still may live,
And love, and laugh away the kindly hours
In an unforgetten world that once was ours.

Marion Bailey.

Did you ever wonder who wrote the little lyrics commemorating an event - the passing of a life or a season, which you see published in our daily newspapers on the Editorial Page? Or did you ever pause after perusing the short, short story in a weekend magazine and wonder: "What is the person like who writes these?"

It gave me a great deal of pleasure this week to find a fragmentary answer to such questions in a personal chat with Marion Bailey of Dorval who has been writing and being published in this fashion since she was a very young girl. The poem, which is published here for the first time with her permission, was written during the war in sympathy for a Dorval resident on the loss of her son. Later it won First Prize in a literary competition.

Mrs. Irvine Richard Bailey lives a quiet life in the Village, in a pleasant apartment filled with her own lovely paintings, for in the intervals in her life when she has not been writing, Mrs. Bailey has devoted herself to art and many peaceful landscapes and floral still lifes are the result. "Though I paint best when I paint quickly, I have to be in the mood," she says.

Mrs. Bailey was trained as a concert singer, but marriage interrupted her career, and she returned to her first talent, writing. Although personal vicissitudes and the war years, during which she served the Red Cross, have interrupted her career as a writer, Mrs. Bailey has met with modest success. Nearly half of all her poems have been published, and quite a number of these have won prizes.

Susan Dorfman (Aunt Detie), Sandra Smith (Heidi), and David Light (Goat-Peter), who will be seen in a special matinee for Lakeshore children on Saturday November 28th., in the auditorium of Lachine High School. The play is being presented by the Montreal Children's Theatre, under the sponsorship of Lachine Civic Theatre.

Not content to rest on her laurels she has a full length novel in production. The quiet years she spent in Dorval when it was indeed a viliduction. The quiet years she spent in Dorval when it was indeed a viliduction. The quiet years she spent in Dorval when it was indeed a viliduction. The quiet years she spent in Dorval when it was indeed a viliduction.

"As ye sow, so shall ye reap," Mrs. Bailey quoted to me. "I firmly believe this, and so one might say that the Law of Retribution is the thread which holds my story together."

And when does Mrs. Bailey find time to write? Her typewriter is set up each morning on the kitchen table, and "It beckons to me," she smiles. May good fortune attend Mrs. Bailey in the completion of her novel in 1960!

TRAIN TIME INDICATOR

A self-operated indicator that will show the traveller the departure time of his next train has been produced in Britain. The traveller simply dials six numbers (the first two the code for destination, and the remaining four the approximate time he wishes to leave), and the departure time is shown on an illuminated panel - the dial having activated a magnetic drum used as an electronic "memory." A lamp also shows the station of departure.

A simple "typing-in" keyboard is incorporated in the equipment which simplifies changing train times when necessary.
