"Christians must be to the world what the soul is to the body." (Lumen Gentium)

In his Apostolic Exhortation "Gaudate et Exultate A Call to Holiness in this World" he immediately reminds us of the special calling we have.

1. "REJOICE AND BE GLAD" (Mt 5:12), Jesus tells those persecuted or humiliated for his sake. The Lord asks everything of us, and in return he offers us true life, the happiness for which we were created. He wants us to be saints and not to settle for a bland and mediocre existence. The call to holiness is present in various ways from the very first pages of the Bible. We see it expressed in the Lord's words to Abraham: "Walk before me, and be blameless" (Gen 17:1).

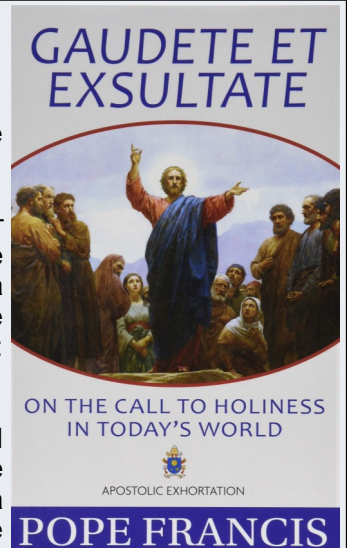

2. What follows is not meant to be a treatise on holiness, containing definitions and distinctions helpful for understanding this important subject, or a discussion of the various means of sanctification. My modest goal is to repropose the call to holiness in a practical way for our own time, with all its risks, challenges and opportunities. For the Lord has chosen each one of us "to be holy and blameless before him in love" (Eph 1:4).

Our reading from Ezekiel today let's us know that God has special hopes for us. We are the tender twig, planted on top of a high mountain to blossom like the beautiful cedar with all kinds of wonderful life and the whole world will come to know that He is the Lord, by what He has planted and been produced. God is not calling us to a bland, mediocre life. He wants a beautiful and fulfilling life; to blossom like the mustard seed into the "greatest of all shrubs."

Pope Francis journeys with us, calling us to a deeper relationship with God and our neighbour. Indeed he helps us recognize the holiness we find in our brothers and sisters during our everyday activities, encouraging us to find our own mission, our own calling to holiness.

We encourage you to read Gaudate et Exultate, its free on the internet and is written in a very positive and accessible way. We also have 2 weekly sessions available to hear a talk and share your experiences. Everyone is welcome! Celebrating the Year of St. Joseph

Pope Francis has declared this the year of Saint Joseph. One of the many things Saint Joseph is known for is providing for the Holy Family. With this in mind, the Adult Faith Commission is seeking to partner with organizations who are working to feed those less fortunate in our community. We recently met with Alicia Clarkson from the Peter McKee Community Garden and she gave a wonderful presentation on the work they are currently doing and their plans for the future.

When asked what their most pressing needs are she responded with “seeds and funding”. Some of the seeds they would be looking for are Carrots (Tenderly Imperator, Scarlet Nantes), Lettuce (Buttercrunch, Little Gem, Romaine) and Tomato (Prudens Purple, San Morzano). Also, gift cards to hardware stores or garden centers are always useful.

As far as funding. They currently have 101 Garden Boxes on the go; of the 101, only 16 are currently being sponsored. You can sponsor a box for $200 for the year. This will provide seeds, soil and maintenance, updates, a charitable tax receipt, and the good grown in your name will go to the food bank, or a family in need. Also, for the $200 there will be a sign put up with the information of the sponsor.

If you would like more information about this, please check out their Facebook page or email Alicia at alicia.clarkson@fooddepot.ca starting June 1st. Regular hours will begin September 7th.

Exploring our Faith

*“Not all of us can do great things. But we can do small things with great love.”
(Ste. Mother Teresa of Calcutta)*

A few weeks ago I ran into a student I had taught in Middle School over 40 years ago. He related how he was so grateful for the conversations we had shared, and that he wanted me to know that he had “taken my advice,” and had gone into a field of study he has now come to love. I was ashamed to realize that I had only vague memories of the student, and had no recollection of any words of advice I may have given him so many years ago. I was also reminded of the responsibility I had had as a teacher, and the potential impact my words may have had for students at such a vulnerable age.

How many times in the course of a day are we confronted with situations in which we have the choice to react in either a kind and forgiving manner, or in a judgemental and belligerent manner or perhaps to turn away with indifference? However we respond in those moments, the consequences of our words and actions are not always immediately evident but they can have lasting effects on those with whom we’ve interacted. A harsh word of criticism or belittling humour can scar a person’s sense of self for a long time, while a word of compassionate understanding or the forgiveness of someone’s lapse in good judgement, can redirect the offender’s life in new and positive directions. We may never come to know the consequences of our words or actions.

I thought of my former students when I read Mark’s gospel of today that contains two parables. One parable relates how a farmer plants seeds but doesn’t really understand how the seed becomes a plant which he can then harvest for food. The second parable tells how a mustard seed, (a very tiny seed), has the potential to grow into a very large shrub that provides shade and protection for many nesting birds. A mustard seed’s potential is often used in Scripture to show how just a little bit of faith can allow someone to accomplish great things with the help of God’s grace. I was lead to understand as a child, that this kind of “faith” referred to the belief in statements the church deemed to be true. I have since come to understand that the “faith” described by Jesus is more about a basic trust in God’s desire to be a part of our life, in God’s caring love for all of humanity and a belief in the inherent goodness in all that God has created. To live our life from a perspective of this kind of faith is both powerful and transformative! How different we would live if we believed deep within us that we are known, wanted and loved by God and that everyone else around us is given this same unconditional gift? It would diminish many of our doubts and fears, and lead us to live with confident joy and hope. It allows us to transform our own worries into the courage we need to help in the concerns of others. It transforms our need to judge the faults of others into patience and forgiveness of another’s mistakes and weaknesses.

When we allow God to plant the little mustard seed of faith deep in our hearts; a faith that proclaims from within us, “I believe in your goodness, O Lord, and in the goodness of all you have created,” then our ability to react to situations with the heart and mind of God’s love has limitless possibilities. It anchors and emboldens us to become the child that God created us to be and motivates us to show others that they, too, have the same “mustard seed” potential inside them.
