

Brandi Rackers
"Finding Place Artworks"
Wife | Mom | Artist | Teacher | Gardener

We are forever in motion, making changes to not only ourselves, but also the world around. What we do matters, and our actions, big or small, send ripples into the world. The "we" in my artwork is inclusive to all things. My artistic aim is to help all find a positive place where we realize the potential of our actions by highlighting the detailed actions of our surroundings or by providing a means for others to grow. My art has no set form or media, just the desire to enlighten and inspire. My art is my journey to finding my place and discovering that I am enough!