SilenceA Prayer for St. Paul'sThe Celebrant and the People say in unison

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father,
You have created us and provided for us. Help us to discern your will for St. Paul's. Bless us with the talents and abilities to carry out our missions effectively and graciously. Grant us wisdom to know and to follow the path you have intended for us.

We ask you, Lord, to put your will at the center of all we do. We ask for generosity of time, talent, and treasure; for faith to speak what is in our hearts and the grace to listen to each other; for the vision to identify new opportunities; and for the courage to make the changes we need to make to embrace our future. And Lord, we pray for your healing and spiritual nourishment and our continued growth in your service. We thank you for this congregation, our St. Paul's family. We pray that you will bring to us the souls you want to be a part of this family. We ask that you guide and protect us; sustain and strengthen us. Bless us, Lord, as we the people of St. Paul's proclaim your message of love and forgiveness. Make us a place filled with joy and enthusiasm in worshipping you and in doing your work. May your light shine through us in this community and beyond. Amen.

A prayer for Afghanistan

Father, today we pray again for Afghanistan.

In recent days we have witnessed the withdrawal of Western forces and the paramilitary overthrow of the country's government by the Taliban.

We are deeply concerned about the aftermath of the evacuations and the consequences for the women, men and children still living there.

Lord, You hear the cries and see the tears of those formed in Your own image.

We know that politics, diplomacy and international laws have an important part to play in creating and maintaining peace and stability. We pray for wisdom for international leaders in this moment and for the current government in Afghanistan.

We also see starkly the limits of such endeavors. Human efforts alone cannot compel love of neighbor, let alone love of enemy; rather this is the transformational territory of Your word and Spirit.

We pray that You would move Your hand to change the hearts and minds of the oppressors even now. Withhold evil and cultivate good, banish darkness and bring forth light.

We declare Your nearness over those who have been abused and displaced, violated and oppressed. We pray that You would open their ears and eyes to Your presence. We beseech You to guard and protect them.

We pray for Your church there. Comfort and strengthen, protect and bless our sisters and brothers. As persecution draws close, please draw closer still.

Teach us how to respond as we place our hope in You and Your good and just plans for Your creation.

Lord, have mercy and hear our prayer. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Silence

Wildfires on the west coast

Almighty God, Creator and Designer of all that is, God of Mercy and Grace, we come before You boldly trusting in Your great Love for the world you created. Our wisdom and understanding is shallow in these evil days. We are grateful that You have been a help to Your children, as You provided for Your mighty prophet who was also affected by the lack of rain. We are thankful for all Your blessings.

We pray that you will comfort all those who have lost so much in these devastating fires. Some have lost their lives. Others have lost loved ones. Many have lost homes and all their worldly goods. Envelope them with your love and grace. Wipe their tears and give them the courage to look toward the future with hope and resolve and faith in You.

Our LORD, we seek Your gracious hand of relief in mercy for all. Please bring about Your supernatural weather pattern changes that will bring rain in these areas of suffering to display Your Power over all other powers, and draw millions to Your salvation as Your glory is revealed. These are the desires of our hearts in this situation. Thank You for hearing, caring and answering as we entreat in Jesus' Name. Amen.

A Prayer for those impacted by Hurricanes

Lord God of all mercies, We pray for all those whose lives and belongings have been impacted by hurricanes. Guard and protect all the first responders and rescuers who have risked their own lives to save others. Hurricanes have struck those who were prepared and those who did not expect to be in the path of the storm. Please cover with your strength and protection all first responders, all those already filling hospitals because of COVID-19 and all those who need hospital care. We pray for your gracious mercy on all housing and structures that protect and shelter your children, Lord. Most importantly, we pray that you will spread your mantle of protection on all your children who have been impacted by these storms and comfort them in their grief over their losses. Support them as they reconstruct their lives. In Jesus name we pray. AMEN.

Silence

The Celebrant concludes with the following collect

Heavenly Father, you have promised to hear what we ask in the Name of your Son: Accept and fulfill our petitions, we pray, not as we ask in our ignorance, nor as we deserve in our sinfulness, but as you know and love us in your Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

2nd Reading ~ Henry Oden

Prayers of the People ~ Dave Wright

Usher ~ Averill Springer

Acolyte ~ G. Alvin Jones

The act of praying aloud in corporate worship and naming the people we are praying for connects us with God, with each other, and with each of them in a spiritual way even though we may not know them personally or what their specific needs are. God knows them and knows what they need. And God knows us and hears us as we pray. Each of the people on this list is in some way connected to St. Paul's or has made a request to be on our Prayer List. Please commend them to God with your whole heart.
