

Learn 'How to be a Viking' at Yorkville library

YORKVILLE, IL--The fifth annual "How to Be A Viking" children's workshop, Norwegian stories, games and cuisine, will be held from 10 a.m. to noon July 10 and 12 at Yorkville Public Library, 902 Game Farm Rd.

School-age children are invited. Admission is free. The theme is "Celebrating Syttendemai," Norwegian constitution day.

The workshop is sponsored by Sons of Norway, a Norwegian-American cultural group. Returning as instructors are Barb Johnson of Yorkville and Connie Kross of Sandwich. Johnson is a member of SON Polar Star Lodge of Montgomery; Cross is a member of SON Cleng Peerson Lodge of Norway, IL.

Registration is open for the July 10 and 13 sessions. Visit yorkville.lib.il.us to register online.

Activities for campers will include making trolls and Viking helmets and shields.

Call (630) 553-4354, ext. 109, for more information.

PHOTO: Yorkville resident Barbara Johnson plays the Norwegian kubb game while leading the 2018 "How to be a Viking" children's workshop. This year's workshop is July 8, 10 and 12 at Yorkville Public Library, 902 Game Farm Rd. (Al Benson photo)