

BE STILL MY HEART

Be still my heart
You're only breaking
Falling apart because
Life's been hard on you

This too shall pass
And you'll go on beating
There's no other choice
It's just what all hearts do

One hundred thousand
Times a day
It's so easy to forget
That you're still there
3 billion beats
Without a thanks
And no-one thinks about you
Unless they're running scared

Be still my heart
You're only breaking
Falling apart because
Life's been hard on you

This too shall pass
And you'll go on beating
There's no other choice
It's just what all hearts do

One million broken
Shattered shards
Not the first time
But it feels like it's brand new
Nobody said
It wasn't hard
But you can't let things
You can't control
Get the best of you

Be still my heart
You're only breaking
Falling apart because
Life's been hard on you

This too shall pass
And you'll go on beating
There's no other choice
It's just what all hearts do

There's no need to cry
There's no need to worry

There's no need to cry
There's no need to worry

There's no need to cry
There's no need to worry

There's no need to cry
There's no need to worry

Be still my heart
You're only breaking
Falling apart because
Life's been hard on you

This too shall pass
And you'll go on beating
There's no other choice
It's just what all hearts do

This too shall pass
And you'll go on beating
There's no other choice
It's just what all hearts do